

CONGRESS MAY BE FORCED TO MAP NRA PATH

New Recovery Board Split by Divergent Views; Action Needed.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The national industrial recovery board, split by the divergent views of its seven members, may dump on congress doorstep the entire job of charting new NRA policies.

Since the NRA succeeded General Hugh S. Johnson and took charge of the Blue Eagle, it has taken only one major step. This was the recent assignment of Sol Rosenblatt, division administrator, to take charge of compliance. Mr. Rosenblatt's job is to clear up 17,000 labor complaints and 2,500 trade-practice complaints.

The Rosenblatt appointment was a victory for Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and labor members of the NIRA.

So far as can be learned, no progress has been made toward settling any of the other major problems left by General Johnson. Uncoordinated industries remain uncoordinated. No decisions appear to be in prospect on continuation of price-fixing, on co-ordination of wages and hours among related industries, on rationalization of north-south differentials, or on adoption of a handful of master codes.

Policy Trend Unchanged

Innumerable code amendments have been approved, but none is of a fundamental nature nor can any new trend in policy be detected.

The hearings scheduled Dec. 11 on minimum lumber prices have been heralded as a test of code price fixing. They will not be. The lumber code provides that minimum prices may be fixed where an emergency exists. The hearings will simply determine whether an emergency exists in all sections. They will not explore the price fixing policy itself.

Trade Commission Studied

The President himself is expected to decide whether the basing points shall continue to have code sanction.

Several congressmen are discussing transfer of the whole NRA machinery to the trade commission, with price fixing eliminated.

Use of the trade commission to enforce trade practice provisions has been suggested to the recovery board in a report by William H. Davis, former NRA compliance director.

Mr. Davis' recommendations, released by the board itself, indicate to some here that the basic law presently will be abandoned and punishment of code violators turned over to the courts.

C. M. B. RANKS SIXTH IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Men Builders Increase Membership 135 Per Cent

The Christian Men Builders class of the Third Christian church, 625 East Seventeenth street, is in sixth place in a national contest among Christian churches to determine the class with the most members and highest percentage of increase in membership during the year.

Arthur Owens, contest chairman, also announced that Merle Siderer, class leader, will present awards tomorrow morning to Frank Hardy and Elmer A. Wilson, who have completed perfect attendance records for the year.

The class has increased its attendance 135 per cent in the last year.
