

BRUNO KIDNAPED BABY, CONDON TELLS JURORS

Proved His Part in Crime,
'Jasie' Shouts During His Testimony.

walked toward the man who was waving the handkerchief.

Q—Who was that man? A—It was John, John (shouted).

Q—Who is John? A—He is Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Q—What did John say to you? A—He said 'Have you got the money?' I said 'No, I couldn't bring the money, until I see the package.'

Q—What happened then? A—There was a rustle and he said 'It's a cop. Then he climbed a fence.'

Q—How high was the fence he climbed? A—I'd say it was nine feet.

Q—Then what happened? A—He jumped down and asked did you send the cops. I said no. I kept my word. Then he started running north. I followed him and said 'Here don't be cowardly, you're my guest. I'm only a poor school teacher. You can't run away from me. I grabbed him and led him to the bench in the park. Then I talked to him for more than an hour.'

Q—Tell us what you said to him? A—I said to him don't run away. He said 'It's too dangerous. Would it be 20 years or would I burn if the baby was dead?'

Only a "Go-Between"

"I said not unless you killed it." He told me "I am only a go-between."

Then I said 'Why don't you get out of this business?' and he said to me, 'I can't—the leader would smack me out.'

Q—Who said that? A—"John."

Q—What else was said there?

A—"I said 'How am I to know I am talking to the right man?' He said the baby was held in the crib by safety pins. I had the pins with me. I took them out of the crib with the knowledge of Col. Lindbergh."

He said 'How much money have you?' I said 'I have $1000. But I will go to Jersey and see what I can get for it if it is legal.'

Scandinavian, He Said

Q—"What then?" A—"I asked him what he was in this business for. I said 'What would your mother say?' He said, 'I think she would cry.'

"I asked him if he was a German. He said 'I am a Scandinavian.' He said 'You'll get for this.' He said 'We were prepared for this for a year.' He turned up his coat. I said 'Turn down your coat, you're not afraid of me. Turn your collar down.'

"His coat was up over his mouth." I said if he would take me to where the baby was I would know it was the baby. I said I want to get the baby for Col. Lindbergh. He said to me again he didn't dare, the leader wouldn't allow him to bring me to see the baby.

Q—Did you get to see the baby? A—He said he didn't dare take me to see the baby. I said 'I am not afraid of that—he's a mother's son.'

Said He'd Send Suit

He said "To show you we are the right party, I'll send you the sleeping suit of the baby so you can see it is all right." He said "I have waited too long already."

Then we shook hands and I left. Q—You went home and got another note later?

A—Yes. Q—What came with that note. A—The baby's sleeping suit and two other letters.

Q—Who was there when it arrived? A—I can't say. Q—Was Col. Breckinridge there? A—I believe so.

BETTY GOW NURSES COURAGE FOR ORDEAL

It was a nervous, but courageous, Betty Gow who took the stand as the state's star surprise witness against Bruno Hauptmann in the Lindbergh murder trial at Flemington, N. J. This intimate camera study, made in the Hunterdon County courtroom just a few minutes before she was called on to testify, reveals the tense attitude of the former Lindbergh nursemaid as she conversed with friends.

Indiana in Brief

LOGANSPORT, Jan. 9.—A theater ticket saleswoman who, far from acting like a heroine, became panic stricken when she faced a holdup man's revolver, is credited with being the chief factor in foiling two bandits who attempted to rob the Paramount theater box office.

Mrs. Elta Kelso was the woman. When she saw the revolver of one of the men leveled at her and heard his demand to surrender the theater's funds, Mrs. Kelso gave vent to a shriek which reverberated for blocks, dashed out the door of the office and fell in a dead faint. The bandits, at this turn of events, retreated without booty.

Traffic Laws Enforced

KOKOMO, Jan. 9.—A drive by police of this city to rid the streets of fast and unsafe drivers was in full swing today. Thirty miles an hour has been set as the maximum speed in Kokomo except in the business district where a 20-mile limit is being enforced.

Elwood Woman Hurt

ELWOOD, Jan. 9.—Severe injuries were sustained by Mrs. Leo Trout when an automobile driven by her husband dropped into a sewer hole in the rear of the post-office. A sewer had previously collapsed. The foundation under the roadway, which was paved with bricks, was washed out and with its base removed, proved insufficient to sustain the weight of the car. Mr. Trout was not hurt.

Franklin Woman Dies

FRANKLIN, Ind., Jan. 9.—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Chenoweth Orr, widow of William T. Orr, were held yesterday. Mrs. Orr, who was 77, died suddenly in her sleep Sunday.

Mrs. Orr was born in Lebanon but had resided in Johnson County since childhood and in Franklin for approximately 50 years.

Survivors are three sons, William Orr and Ernest B. Orr, both of Richmond, and Estel Orr, Plymouth; a daughter, Miss Mabelle Orr, Franklin; three sisters, Mrs. Sarah McQuinn and Mrs. Emma Logan, both of Franklin, and Mrs. Laura Brackett, Kirkpatrick; two half-brothers, Jesse Drago, Oklahoma; and a half-sister, Mrs. Olive Heller, Orlando, Fla.

Landis to Be Attorney

LOGANSPORT, Jan. 9.—Fredrick Landis Jr., son of the late congressman-elect from the Second Indiana District, plans to begin the practice of law here in the near future and has already rented office space.

Mr. Landis will begin his career as an attorney alone, but expects to have his older brother, Kenesaw Mountain Landis, join him as a partner upon his return from Denver sometime this year.

FLU EPIDEMICS CALL FOR PRECAUTIONS!

A Few Simple Rules that Will Put a Person on the Side of Safety!

While it does not pay to become alarmed over Flu, it does not pay either to be careless. Many a case of Flu could have been avoided with a few simple precautions. Here are a few rules which may be wisely followed:

- Stay out of crowded, stuffy and smoky places.
- Stay in the sunshine as much as you can.
- Avoid coughers and sneezers.
- Dress warmly, keep your feet dry, sleep in well-ventilated room.
- Drink lots of water. Eat plentifully of citrus fruits and their juices.
- Watch out for colds. The so-called "common cold" often paves the way for flu.
- At the first sign of a cold, do something about it! One of the best things you can do is to take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. These
