

CITY PRINTERS VOTE TO SEEK STRIKE ACTION

Times Chapel Petitions
Local Union to Ask International Sanction.

Federal Judge Robert R. Nevin, Dayton, O., acting as arbitrator, yesterday advised Indianapolis newspaper publishers and their unionized compositors that it is his board's opinion that neither is entitled to its wage rate demands.

Parties before the board of arbitration, of which he was chairman, were the Indianapolis Typographical Union No. 1 and the Indianapolis Newspaper Publishers Association. The board took the matter under consideration Nov. 16, 1934.

Soon after the arrival of the decision, The Indianapolis Times Chapel of the union voted to seek strike sanction from the International Typographical Union and, if the sanction was not granted, to strike without sanction. The Indianapolis News Chapel passed a resolution asking for a special union meeting Sunday.

Later, the Indianapolis Star chapel called a special meeting for 5:15 to-day.

The contract between the union and the publishers called for the "opening" of the contract on its anniversary date each year (Jan. 1) for wage negotiations.

The contract expired Jan. 11, 1935, and the action taken yesterday by the union compositors was designed to force action by the publishers on a pending scale, compositors said.

The publishers had asked a reduction of 10 per cent in pay for members of the union, and the union asked in counter-proposal for a weekly scale increase of approximately 10 per cent.

Rules Are Set Forth

The chairman said he had adopted the following rules for burden of proof in making his decision: "1. That the burden of proof is upon the publishers to show that a decrease of the present wages will be advantageous to both the employer and employee together as integral parts of the industry and wholly inseparable therefrom.

"2. That the burden of proof is upon the union to show that the proposed increase of wages to the 1935 level is justifiable in the face of much lower annual earnings than men are receiving in other industries, in the face of the fact that higher wages paid to those now working would deprive a number of the unemployed of their wages.

"3. That the burden of proof is upon the publishers to show that that now are working of their employment and would prevent many who are not now working from returning to their jobs.

Further Burden Cited

"The further burden is upon the union to prove that the additional pay roll expense would contribute at this time to the prosperity of the employing newspapers and all of their employees."

In support of their proposal for a reduction in wages of 10 per cent, the publishers urged that the labor pay roll is the major item of expense, even greater than that of newspaper, paper, the publishers said. The association pointed out, the publishers contended, that the union sought to increase their expenses by $50,000, and that the business now is facing a great crisis with new restrictions and that their competitors in the form of radio stations and kindred projects.

The publishers called the attention of the board to an increase of $2.50 a ton in the price of newsprint for the first six months of this year, and a further increase of not more than $2.50 for the second six months.

Lineage Gains Cited

The union called the attention of the board to Media Records published June last year which covered the record of lineage gain from May, 1933, to May, 1934, tending to show the alleged healthy condition of Indianapolis newspapers. The board's attention also was called to the hourly wage rate paid in a number of cities smaller than Indianapolis. Among the cities referred to are Albany, N. Y.; Dallas, Tex.; Akron, O.; Dayton, O.; Houston, Tex., and San Francisco, all of which the union contended were paying an hourly rate higher than that now demanded by the union here.

It was claimed on the part of the union that any award by way of increase in wages should be retroactive to Jan. 11, 1934, or such subsequent date as the chairman should deem proper.

The contract which the board was asked to amend was made Jan. 12, 1932, and expired Jan. 11, 1935.

NOBLESVILLE, Jan. 22.—Wilson Shugart, a farmer living near here, believes that dozens of chickens from his own and from surrounding farms will be stolen next season—not by human thieves, but by foxes.

Recently Mr. Shugart issued an invitation to the general public to participate in a fox drive. Only four men appeared. Despite the fact that a number of the animals were seen, none was killed.

Poor marksmanship was blamed by Mr. Shugart as he prepared for another assault on the foxes.

TWO HELD AFTER POLICE UNCOVER GIGANTIC STILL

Federal Authorities Search for Leaders of Illicit Liquor Ring.

Federal liquor tax agents today searched for leaders of an illicit liquor ring after discovery of what was described as one of the largest stills in the history of Indianapolis' illegal liquor traffic.

Two Indianapolis radio patrolmen, Harry Hayes and Harry Kernodle, were given the credit for the discovery of the distillery, located in the bottom lands of the canal just north of the Butler University field-house at 5315 Cornelius-av.

James Cox, 32, and Frank Magliore, 31, Clifton, arrested in the house, faced a hearing today before the United States commissioner.

Apparatus Modernly Equipped

The apparatus, all equipped with modern electric devices, included 60,000 gallons of working mash in heat and ventilated oaken vats, a 200-gallon still operated by a specially installed steamer equipped with a battery of gauges and 27 five-gallon cans filled with liquor.

Parked in the yard was a Ford V-8 owned by an Indianapolis man who is said by relatives to have been in Chicago since Friday night. He is wanted for questioning in connection with the liquor making.

The radio patrolmen in making their daily rounds smelled the strong odor of mash near the canal and after a patient search discovered that the odor emanated from a sewer on Westfield-blvd. By careful selection and questioning of neighbors in the sparsely populated district, the officers found the location of the distillery.

When police squads broke into the house, Cox attempted to escape. When he found this was impossible, he surrendered and took full responsibility for the operations.

Installed at Cost of $6000

He told police, they said, that the equipment had cost $6000 and that he had been distilling in that location for three or four months. Police toiled for hours last night dismantling the delicate equipment.

A guard was placed over the property when it was found that it would take several days to clear the house.

The huge vats were built in under joists and around columns in the basement. All were piped to a central connection where a fan withdrew vapors and forced them into a sewer pipe.

Federal authorities said today that they believed that such expensive equipment evidently was paid for by "higher ups."

"Naturally SKINNY Folks"

2 Ways in 1 to Add Weight Quick!

Amazing New Concentrate of Minerals and NATURAL IODINE Adds Flattering Extra Pounds
On Skinny Men and Women Often Where All Else Fails.

Thin, pale, rundown folks by the thousands—even men and women who are "Naturally Skinny"—are surprised and delighted with this new easy way to put on healthy needed pounds quickly. Gains of 15 to 20 lbs.—in one month—10 lbs. in a week—are reported regularly.

Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea—gets right down to the cause of thin, underweight conditions and adds weight, through a "2 ways in 1" natural process. First, its rich supply of easily assimilable minerals stimulates the digestive glands which produce the juices that alone enable you to digest the fats and starches—the weight-making elements in your daily diet. Second, Kelpamalt's NATURAL IODINE is a mineral needed by the vital organ which regulates metabolism—the process through which the body is constantly building firm, solid flesh, new strength and energy. Three Kelpamalt tablets contain more iron and copper than a pound of spinach or 7½ pounds of fresh tomatoes; more calcium than 6 eggs; more phosphorus than 1½ lbs. carrots; more NATURAL IODINE than 1600 lbs. of beef.

Try Kelpamalt for a single week and notice the difference—how much better you feel. If you don't gain at least 5 lbs. of good, firm flesh in 1 week the trial is free. Kelpamalt costs but little at all Hook's Dependable Drug Stores.

60 SENATORS SUPPORT COURT

Secret Poll Assures Passage of Resolution for Ratification.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A secret poll of the Senate by a high Administration adviser today showed 60 Senators committed to support of American membership in the World Court, thus assuring the two-thirds vote necessary for ratification of the pending resolution of adherence.

The United Press learned that 19 Senators have made known their intentions to vote "no" on the question.

The poll, conducted quietly in the last five days, disclosed 89 Senators are expected to answer the roll call when the vote is taken. If all were present, 64 "ayes" would be required for ratification.

Six Senators were listed as "doubtful," but leaning toward approval. Four others were classed in a similar manner, but were regarded as favorable to the opposition.

The Senate yesterday heard a bitter denunciation of the League of Nations and the court by the veteran William E. Borah, Progressive Idaho Republican.

Senator Borah employed all his masterful oratory in an appeal for rejection of the adherence protocols. He attacked the court as a political tribunal of the League, and said membership by the United States would result in disastrous foreign entanglements.
