

Girls Show Interest in Needlework

School Pupils Contribute Garments; Exhibit Scheduled.

BY BEATRICE BURGAN
Times Woman's Page Editor

THE early history of the Needlework Guild of America has a direct appeal to the juniors, who have started an auxiliary to co-operate with the branch here. The American Guild originally was started for children by a group of young girls. The beginning of the guild in England was the outcome of the need of an orphanage near Lady Wolvenston's home.

The junior auxiliary here includes members of the Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Junior Catholic Daughters, Girl Reserves, Job's daughters and pupils at Tudor Hall School and the sewing department of Technical High School.

The girls enjoy particularly to sew garments for children. The sewing class at Technical completed 35 boys' suits to add to the 920 garments made by the other youthful workers.

Miss Alida Sherwood, daughter of Mrs. Hartley Sherwood, president of the Indianapolis branch, is leading the 550 junior workers here. Their work will be displayed in a separate exhibit at the annual roundup of garments Nov. 11 to 14 in the Second Presbyterian Church.

Some of the juniors present show or sell candy and cookies to raise money to buy material to be made into garments.

The junior work was started in 1903 by a group of little girls in Hattboro, Pa. In 1908 another group working in Ambler, Pa., organized The Little Women's Sewing Circle. In this manner the junior work spread throughout the country and now thousands of boys and girls contribute to the guild.

Special guild honor bands are awarded to Camp Fire Girl workers for every two new articles that they make. Girl Scout members receive community service awards for every four garments that they contribute.

Dinner for Guests Will Open Season

University Women Will Be Hostesses to New Members.

New members of the Indianapolis branch, American Association of University Women, will be guests of honor at the first general dinner-meeting at the Woman's Department Club at 6 Tuesday. The new members include women graduates of accredited colleges to whom courtesy cards have been issued conveying privileges of membership for one year after graduation.

All the branch's daytime and evening groups will have their individual studies explained.

Officers and directors of the branch will be in the receiving line upstairs. Hostesses will be in the downstairs parlor to introduce new members. Name badges, with the association seal and attached with ribbons in the official blue and white of the association, will be distributed. Those for new members will be distinctive with red rosettes.

Mrs. Todd to Speak

Mrs. N. Taylor Todd, who is serving her second term as president, will speak after the dinner on "Serious Moments and Otherwise of the National A. A. U. W. Convention" which she attended in June in Los Angeles. Because of the accomplishments of the local branch, Mrs. Todd was invited by the convention committee to appear on the program. Her subject was "The Nine Branch Meetings of A. A. U. W." and included a resume of monthly meetings held by the Indianapolis branch.

Following a brief outline of the study and discussion groups, there will be registration in both daytime and evening courses. Group chairmen seated at tables designated by posters will have available detailed information and will answer inquiries of members interested in their respective study projects.

Non-members are especially invited to attend the study group meetings and participate in the discussions.

Mrs. James R. Spalding is chairman of the social committee which has arranged for the dinner meeting. She has been assisted by Mesdames J. H. Campbell, E. Beckner, Alvin T. Coats, Wilmot G. Goodall, Carroll O. Skaar and T. G. Jerry Stapleton.

Aid on Committees

The hospitality and membership committees and a special committee appointed by Miss Kathryn M. Bowby, in charge of the evening study groups, have co-operated in arrangements for the new members and will assist as hostesses. Mrs. H. F. Dunlap is chairman of the hospitality committee, which includes Mesdames S. W. Bonham, Arthur E. Focke, Oscar M. Helmer, William O. Johnson, W. W. McBeth, W. L. Richardson, Leonard A. Smith and J. M. Williams.

Those on the membership committee are Mrs. Calvin R. Hamilton, chairman; Miss Mary E. Armstrong, Mesdames James A. Bawden, Paul V. Brown, John L. Goldthwaite, H. E. Grosbach, Karl M. Koons, B. C. Lewis, Robert M. Lingle and Misses Mary Riggs and Eleanor Jones. Hostesses from the evening groups, besides Miss Bowby, will be Mrs. Everett E. Campbell, Miss Dorothy G. Helmer, Miss Virginia Holt, Miss Belle Ramey, Mrs. Wilson Ulbrich and Miss Mary E. Armstrong.

The telephone committee, which is taking reservations for the dinner, includes: Mrs. W. Donald Wright, chairman; Mrs. Beck, Mrs. L. M. De Voe, Mrs. E. W. Hebel, Miss Alma Hoss, Miss Bertha Hoss, Mrs. E. R. Kautz, Mrs. Arthur O. Lindstad, Misses Martha Logsdon, Cecilia and Teresa Meskill, Mrs. Skaar and Mrs. A. A. Trefz.

Dress in Tunic Style

BY ELLEN WORTH

Tunic dresses have come back again and are excellent choice for first fall days.

This little model in smart ginger shade wool-like silk is very charming. And it's very simple to sew it. The sleeves cut in one with the shoulders. The youthful neck has a drawstring or ribbon inserted through casing.

Satin-back, crepe using both surfaces or novelty wool crepe would also be smart for its development.

Style No. 502 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35-inch lining.

Our fashion magazine is beautifully illustrated in color. Price, 10 cents.

Inclosed find 15 cents for which send me pattern No. 502.
