

Children to Be Feted at Two Events

Highland, Columbia and Propylaeum Clubs Set Parties.

BY BEATRICE BURGAN

HOW are you to budget your time this week-end to include all the entertainments booked for your pleasure? Surely there is to be some coin-tossing to make decisions on what is to be passed up.

The busy week-end began this morning with the Town Hall lecture with William R. Castle contributing his bit to your intellectual advancement program.

Then for the women with children there was the Children's Theater production of "Heidi" at the Civic playhouse.

Tonight some of you are to be dining at Highland Golf and Country Club with the Southern Club. New members and former members rejoining the club are to be among the guests, who are to dine at tables set with Southern delicacies and decorated with chrysanthemums and fall foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaffner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riddick, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Weatherly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Coleman are committee members among the guests, claiming the South as their homeland. Already members have Dec. 20 noted on their calendars for the next club party.

Cocktail and dinner parties are to be starters for many of the guests at the St. Mary-of-the-Woods College Alumnae dance at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. Misses Berene Brennan and Mary Rosalie Beck arrived this afternoon from the college at Terre Haute, and are to be at a table tonight with Robert Tiernan and Herman Morgan.

Club Schedules Event

Columbia Club members are to dine, play bridge and dance tonight at the club. Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Kemper are going in a party with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Garner Bramwood and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Thiesing.

Mr. and Mrs. Will A. McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harter and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Greer are to be together for the post-Halloween entertainment.

Tomorrow afternoon children again are to be given attention. Several members from the arts and interests group of the Junior League are to manipulate marionettes through a dramatization of "Sokar, the Crocodile," adapted by Mrs. Robert C. Winslow in connection with the John Herron Art Museum's current Egyptian exhibit.

The show is to be in sculpture court. Children are to have first choice of the seats. If you listen closely, you probably will recognize the voices of Mrs. William Junglauss, Mrs. W. Hathaway Simms, Mrs. Helen Fleischer, Mrs. Russell J. Ryan, Miss Elmer Stickey and Miss Florence Barrett, who have been assigned acting duties in the project.

Mrs. Horace F. Hill III has been directing the show with Harry Fowler, who has supervised the construction and design of the museum in preparation for the show.

Supper to Be Given

Patronesses have supported the project. Among them are Mesdames Eugene C. Miller, William C. Griffith, William H. Wenner, Niles Chapman, Sylvester Johnson Jr., Richard M. Fairbanks, E. Kiefer Mayer, William Ray Adams, H. Evans, J. A. Goodman, Fisk Landers, Robert A. Adams, Larz Whitcomb, Guy Wainwright, Albert J. Beveridge Sr., H. H. Hornbrook, R. P. Van Camp, Theodore B. Griffith, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. Hill.

The buffet supper at the Propylaeum is to be given by you to its guests. Mrs. George Philip Meier is to go with her house guests, Mrs. Elizabeth Calder Schaefer, Paris, France, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Aine Peaslee, Chicago, and with Mr. and Mrs. William Roebuck Brown and their visitors, Mrs. Harry Woodburn, Philadelphia, and Mrs. James Reynolds, Gold, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Miller and Harold I. Schoen also are to be with them.

Group to Attend

Mr. and Mrs. William Allen Moore are to be with Dr. and Mrs. Charles Pfafflin and their daughter, Miss Hope Pfafflin; Mrs. Moore's sister, Miss Marie Todd, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sellers.

In another group several parents are to have their sons and daughters with them, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wohlgemuth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alkire and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lange are to be in this party.

Reservations for parties also have been made by Mesdames John W. Kern Sr., Winfield Miller, William J. McKee, Samuel Deal, Frank M. Fawcett, Jacob Paul Dunn, Burke G. Slaymaker, Paul Lee Hargitt, Frank B. Fowler, Ralph Spain, William L. Taylor and Edson T. Wood.

President and Mrs. James W. Putnam are to be in Dr. and Mrs. Guy Shadinger's party, also to include Mrs. Charles Harris and Miss Sue Howe.

Junior League Members Aid Marionette Show

Mrs. Noble Dean and Mrs. Edgar S. Gorrell

The marionette show, "Sokar the Crocodile," is to be presented tomorrow in sculpture court of the Herron Art Institute. Harry Fowler is producer of the show, one of a series scheduled, and a group of the Junior League arts and interests section is assisting with preparations.

Mrs. Noble Dean is working on the scenery for the Egyptian sets and Mrs. Edgar S. Gorrell is pictured putting finishing touches to a marionette's head.

Miss Fitchey Chooses Aids for Wedding

Attendants have been named for the Fitchey-Stuart wedding ceremony to be read at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24, at the University Park Christian Church by the Rev. Edward L. Day.

The bride-to-be, Miss Kathryn Fitchey, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Fitchey, and James A. Stuart Jr. is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stuart Sr. The officiating minister is the grandfather of the bridegroom-to-be.

Miss Fitchey is to have Miss Mary Elizabeth Search as her maid of honor and Mrs. John Albert Schumacher, sister of the bridegroom-to-be, her matron of honor. Robert H. Stone is to be best man and C. Robert Shaffer, Mr. Schumacher and A. Edward Campbell, New Albany, ushers.

Assisting at a reception which is to follow at the Marriott are to be Mrs. Campbell and Mesdames Margaret Lewis, Delight Morrison, Isabel Hanson and Frances Moody.

Several parties are being arranged to fete Miss Fitchey and her fiancé before their exchange of wedding vows. Mrs. Stuart has issued invitations for the wedding at her home Nov. 9, and Mr. and Mrs. Schumacher are to entertain at dinner at the Columbia Club Nov. 26.

Miss Lewis and Miss Morrison, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. H. B. Shoup Jr., Mrs. C. L. Lannin and Miss Jean Spickelmeier have not set the dates for their parties.

Art Group of Club to Hear Adolph Shulz

Compilation of the history and growth of the Brown County art colony and the art museum of Sarasota, Fla., are to be discussed by Adolph Shulz, Indiana artist, when he addresses the art department of the Woman's Department Club at 2 Monday at the clubhouse.

Contract Bridge

Today's Contract Problem

North holds the hand shown here. If South opens with a psychic club bid and North, who is using the Four Aces' System, makes a jump two-over-one bid of two spades, what should South's response be? Suppose South's original bid is a sound one-club, what should his response be over North's two spades?

Solution in next issue. 26

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

BY W. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary American Bridge League
Here's a bid that is now being employed a great deal. It is explained in the new book entitled "The Four Aces' System of Contract Bridge."

When the one-over-one bid first became popular, a jump two-over-one was not advocated. However, the bid in this system has a definite meaning.

It is seldom used, but when employed it is of great importance. It is used for one purpose by a player who has passed and for another by a player who has not passed. I shall take it up first when used by a player who has passed. Such a bid says, in effect, "Partner, even though you have a shaded bid, we must continue to game." For example:

▲KQJ105
▲K867
♦J6
♦8 20-1

This hand does not contain the strength required for an original bid. After passing, however, if partner opens with one club, you should respond with one spade with this holding, because you are afraid of a misfit. But if partner opens with a diamond or a heart, the Four Aces' System advocates a bid of two spades.

Example No. 2:

▲KJ8653
▲A7432

After passing with the above holding, if partner opens with one heart, you should bid two spades, as you are certain of a fit. If partner opens the bidding with a club or a diamond, however, the proper response is one spade.

The Four Aces' System warns you that, even though you have passed what might be termed an original bid, you must not make a jump two-over-one with a hand like this:

▲AK32
▲A83
♦64
♦J82 20-3

If a partner were to make an opening suit bid, you should bid only one spade with this holding.

Edward C. Wolfe, widely known contract bridge lecturer, is to speak at Sears, Roebuck & Co. social room at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Wolfe is acting as personal representative of Ely Culbertson and is to speak on the latest improvements in the Culbertson system.

Council to Be Addressed by Three Speakers

Paul C. Stetson, city school superintendent; Rep. Louis Ludlow and E. J. Unruh, executive secretary of the Indiana Council on International Relations, are to address the November meeting of the Indianapolis Council of Women Tuesday in the William H. Block Co. auditorium.

The meeting is to open at 10. Stetson is to discuss the significance of American Education Week, Nov. 11 to 17; Rep. Ludlow's topic is the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution for a referendum on war and Mr. Unruh is to discuss "Present Day World Trends."

The president, Mrs. Carl W. Folz, is to review the biennial meeting of the National Council of Women which she and Mrs. Fred Brown, treasurer, recently attended in New York.

LUDLOW PROPOSAL GIVEN APPROVAL

Indorsement of Rep. Louis Ludlow's proposed constitutional amendment requiring a plebiscite before war can be declared was given yesterday by Dean Gino A. Ratti of Butler University, in an address before the Tri Psi Mothers' Club.

"We must back our government in all efforts to remain neutral," Prof. Ratti said. "The way out of our present and future war crisis is a more powerful League of Nations than our present one, with free migration and free trade for every one."

Prof. Ratti outlined dangers of the Ethiopian situation, and charged that certain European countries are using the League for their own selfish ends.

"The situation is the direct and inevitable result of the political and economic barriers that Italy finds in the path of her necessary expansion."

"If sanctions are imposed upon Italy by England and France, Italy will be forced into the arms of Nazi Germany, bringing about a new balance of power in Europe. Those nations which have all the land and natural resources will be on one side and those which need these things on the other side. Nothing but war can result from such a balance of power."

WELLESLEY CLUB MEET SCHEDULED

Wellesley Club members are to meet Monday at the home of Mrs. Karl Koons, 5767 N. Pennsylvania-st. The hostess is to be assisted by Mrs. William Krieg and Mrs. Marlow Marlon.

Group to Meet

Mrs. Paul Fifer, 3352 Broadway, new president of the Indianapolis Panhellenic Association, is to be hostess for a meeting at 6:15 Monday night. Committees for the year are to be appointed.

Doll Models Depict Book Characters

University Women Sponsor Exhibit of Work by School Pupils.

BY HELEN LINDSAY

Mothers and teachers who have wondered about their daughters' and pupils' conceptions of book characters are to have an opportunity to see them in actuality next week. Girls from 14 Indianapolis schools have dressed dolls to represent characters from children's classics. These are to be on display in connection with the American Association of University Women's book and toy display at the L. S. Ayres & Co. store from Monday to Saturday.

Beside them will be sail boats built by boys from the same 14 schools. These are to be judged on workmanship and "seaworthiness."

The exhibit is in answer to letters sent by the university women last May to Parent-Teacher Association presidents and school principals, inviting seventh and eighth grade pupils to compete in a contest in connection with the book and toy exhibit.

Girls were asked to dress dolls to represent characters from "Little Women," "Alice in Wonderland," "Lucinda," "Heidi," "Hans Brinker," "David Copperfield," "Robin Hood" and "King Arthur."

P.-T. A. to Supply Judges

Each doll was to represent the child's own work, and material was to be of her own selection. They are to be judged on workmanship, accuracy of representation and general effectiveness.

Judges are to be three P.-T. A. patrons who do not have children in the seventh and eighth grades. Schools competing in the contest are 3, 8, 31, 35, 57, 62, 63, 72, 73, 76, 82, 84, 85 and 91.

One of the first entries was a stately representation of Queen Guinevere. Her golden crown is made of gilded card-board, and her royal robe is a green silk one, which shows the painstaking care of little-girl fingers.

Cousin Dede, well-remembered character from "Heidi," has a thoroughly Alpine air, just as she must have had in the book when she scolded the old "alm uncle." Her black bodice is laced with yellow embroidery floss, and her felt hat turns up in true Swiss style, with a tiny bright colored feather in back.

Book Details Followed

Hans Brinker also has been entered in the exhibit. His wooden shoes have been copied in heavy brown canvas, and his full Dutch trousers are just as described in the book.

Gentle Beth, from "Little Women" has long brown curls, and on examination is seen wearing just as many petticoats as such a prim little person would have worn. Around her shoulders is a crocheted jacket, and her long dress is made of tiny yellow-checked gingham.

Among the boats the boats of the Mayflower, while another was a clipper ship.

Mrs. Edmond W. Hebel is contest chairman.

MISS BROWNLEE, TO WED NOV. 14, FETED

Floral centerpieces held tapers at a luncheon given today by Mrs. Henry Schmidt for Miss Anita Brownlee, who is to become the bride of Robert W. Platte on Nov. 14. After luncheon, guests played bridge and presented linen gifts to the bride-to-be.

Guests with Mrs. Harry M. Brownlee, mother of the bride-to-be, included Mrs. C. T. Platte, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. John W. Miller, grandmother of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Paul R. Pinick, her aunt.

Others were Mesdames Robert Berner, Henry Talbot, George Buskirk, Frank Miller and J. H. Cook; Misses Josephine Ready, Ruth Marie Price, Katherine Rubush, Mary K. Campbell, Marjorie Campbell, Maxine Foltenlogel, Louise Hedrick, Dorothy Wright, Dorothy Duesenberg, Lois Young, Maxine Quinn, Maxine Scherrer, Annabess Swager, Ruth Emigholz and Margaret Fry.
