RESIDENTS PROTEST LICENSE TO TAVERN

Liquor Control Board Refuses to Act on Request.

Protests of residents near the College Keg, 1601 College-av., resulted today in the Marion County Liquor Control Board passing the "buck" to the State Beverage Commission in granting of a license.

The board refused to act on the request for a liquor license. It was pointed out by James P. Scott, board member, that the state commission had refused a license to the tavern in July without holding a hearing before the local board.

Albert Sahm, state Representative; Byron Woods, advertising man, and E. A. Miles, Indiana Anti-Saloon League attorney, protested the petition. Mrs. Lenora Robertson, police matron, said the tavern was orderly.

CONGRESS SHIFT COUGHLIN'S AIM

Radio Priest Would Change Legislators' Complexion; Assaults Roosevelt.

By United Press
DETROIT, Nov. 4.—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and his National Union for Social Justice opened a campaign today to change the complexion of Congress.

In his first radio speech of a new season, Coughlin yesterday aimed the greater part of his fire at Congress. He said the slogan "Roosevelt or Ruin" on which he supported the President in 1932, might be changed to "Roosevelt and Ruin" unless public opinion removes from Congress the "rubber stamps of moribund-minded men who have lost sight of their duty as representatives of the American people."

Coughlin has been off the air all summer; hence his National Union has not been in the news. It is estimated his weekly addresses this fall and winter will reach 35,000,000. Yesterday he outlined his line of battle.

"First, to bend every effort to return Christianity against paganism and any other ism which opposes the Christian concept of life."

"Second, to fight unto death, if necessary, for the retention of the American democratic system of government, together with its republican institutions."

Third, to retain our entire Constitution, including the right of Congress to coin and regulate money.

"Fourth, to impress upon this audience the President and his Cabinet are negligible entities compared to the Congress of the United States, which is composed of our law-making Representatives and Senators."

Coughlin's attack on Congresses of the past "20 or 30 years" was couched in blazing sentences. He said in part:

"A history of recent Congresses has been a history of men who have been more interested in acquiring patronage than they were in securing equitable legislation for the thousands and hundreds of thousands of citizens who received no jobs."

Often times, there was as little distinction between a Democratic and Republican member of Congress as there was between two worms gnawing on one apple. Exploitation of the inarticulate people continued until wealth was concentrated in the hands of the few."

SHOWDOWN ON TRUCK PURCHASES SCHEDULED

Taxicab, Barber Shop Ordinances to Be Introduced Tonight.

Charges that the Works Board purchased two trucks at a cost of $1300 in excess of the lowest bid are scheduled for a final showdown at City Council meeting tonight. Hubert S. Riley, Works Board president, is expected to offer an explanation to findings of Dr. Theodore Cable, Council works committee chairman.

An ordinance to limit the number of taxicabs and two labor measures, one to repeal the anti-picketing ordinance and the other to provide sanitary inspection for barber shops, are to be introduced.

County Toll Climbs to 123; Two Others Hurt in Accidents.

Injuries she received last week in an auto-train wreck at Oaklandon were fatal to Miss Georgia Jackson, 24, last night in Methodist Hospital, bringing the total traffic fatalities in Marion County this year to 123.

Mrs. Jackson was injured severely and is at the Methodist Hospital.

Albert Laird, 22, of 115 Palmer-st., is in City Hospital today with injuries he received when his car and another collided at 23rd-st and Broadway yesterday. Mrs. Ruth Eddy, 2322 Guilford-av., also in the car, was treated, but not admitted to City Hospital, and her husband, Fred, escaped injury.

The condition of Clark Britton, 14, of 2519 E. Washington-st., is fair today in City Hospital with injuries he received yesterday when his car collided with one driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Columbus, O., at Rural and Washington-sts.

AUTO SALES HAILED AS RECOVERY SIGN

M'Nutt Points to Increase of $25,000,000.

The marked increase in the purchase of new automobiles in Indiana was cited as evidence of increasing prosperity by Gov. McNutt in his weekly radio broadcast last night.

The Governor pointed out that Indiana citizens have spent about $75,000,000 so far this year for new automobiles, an increase of more than $25,000,000 over the same period last year.

Approximately 45 per cent of this year's automobile purchases were for cash, Gov. McNutt pointed out, as against a 5 per cent cash purchase in 1932.

ROBINSON REPORTED DISGUISED AS WOMAN

Showman Tells Police He Saw Fugitive in Makeup.

Philip Monninger, Williams Hotel, reported to police that he saw Thomas H. Robinson Jr., alleged kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Speed Stohl, Louisville, on Indianapolis streets last night. He said the suspect was dressed and made up as a woman.

Mr. Monninger, who is in the theatrical business and told police he could not be misled by facial makeup, identified a picture of Robinson as that of the person he saw on the street.

He said he saw the suspect at Illinois and Ohio-sts and that he wore a flat red hat, a white lace dress and no coat and appeared to be intoxicated. Police were assigned to investigate.

Legion Auxiliary Drafts Resolution Commending Regime of Roosevelt

Move Aimed to Offset Effect of Pacifist Charges by Mrs. Oliphant.

A resolution was being drafted today by the American Legion Auxiliary commending the Roosevelt Administration.

It was expected to act as oil on troubled waters and to take the teeth out of accusations made yesterday by Mrs. O. D. Oliphant, former auxiliary national president, against Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Oliphant, permanent national defense chairman of the organization, named Mrs. Roosevelt as "the A-No. 1 first pacifist in this land."

"I am thankful and I appreciate that the President does not follow in her footsteps," Mrs. Oliphant said.

Sees "High Compliment" "I do not expect any criticism of my remarks about Mrs. Roosevelt except from pacifists," Mrs. Oliphant said today. "I feel I paid the President a high compliment."

As the resolutions committee worked on the resolution commending the Administration, Indianapolis women leaders in world peace movements declined to comment on Mrs. Oliphant's speech. Although they admitted they disagreed personally with her stand, they said controversy over such a statement would do to defeat work in which all women's organizations are co-operating.

Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree, Connerville, past national president of the American War Mothers, said that while she agreed with Mrs. Oliphant that too much stress had been placed on the horrors of war, she could not agree with her in her statement about Mrs. Roosevelt.

Not First Pacifist "I think she is much more radical than her husband, but I do not think I should call her the first Pacifist of the land," Mrs. Ochiltree said.

"We hear a great deal from pacifists about the horrors of war," Mrs. Oliphant said. "I wish some-

Coaxing Called Essential Part of 'Hair Sculpture'

Leon Dourlet, Chicago Head Stylist, Tells Beauticians How to Suit Waves to Character.

"Come! Come! That's it! Just a little more curl!" That's the coaxing pattern necessary to turn out a well-sculptured head of hair, opines Leon Dourlet, Chicago "hair-sculptor" for the Four Hundred. He spoke today before the Indiana Association of Beauticians in the Severin.

If you, Madam, can afford the "overhead," you'll have Monsieur Dourlet coax out of your locks a hair wave that suits your character. He knows you from your neck-line to your ears and the sector adjacent—the behind part that always is missed by your Mary and Johnny in washing.

The Ugliest Part "Behind the ear is the ugliest part of a woman's head. She does not realize it. The neck and back of the head lose beauty when an umbrella wave is given," the 28-year-old stylist says.

If you want your eyes dunked into oblivion let the beautician bring waves too close to the orbs and sink them into shadowland, he declares. If you have a narrow forehead the next style of curls and more curls will not be attractive. Foreheads as broad as an airport are the best landing-places for curls, the "hair-sculptor" says.

After all, a permanent wave or hairdress is, according to Mr. Dourlet, like erecting a building. "A foundation is necessary for the hairdresser as well as the hair. No foundation in training, no foundation in dressing the hair, and you've got a pretty poor building," he asserts.

KENTUCKY VOTE FOR GOVERNOR NEW DEAL TEST

Distilling Industry Threat Feared in Furious Campaign.

paign with "a $75 sound-truck and a pitcher of water." He wound up this week at the head of a 500-car motorcade, a flapping red rooster to ride the sound-truck's hood entering towns and a masseur to keep his muscles supple.

Coached at Centre

Happy coached football one time at Centre College, famous for its team which beat Harvard either with a pre-game prayer or a set of all-American backs and linemen. He trained for this campaign like an athlete. With his rooster, attendants and paraphernalia and a crooning talent with "Sonny Boy" and such modern spirituals, Happy seems to assay a trace of the late Huey P. Lone's showmanship.

Both nominees ignore the explosive question: Shall Kentucky repeal its prohibition amendment? Both are for the proposed amendment to permit old-age pension legislation.

Governor Ruby Laffoon, who also is Democratic national committee-man, balked Chandler and demands that the Republican judge be elected Governor in vindication of Laffoon's expiring Democratic administration of state business. But both Chandler and Swope denounce the sales tax, which probably was the outstanding legislation of the Laffoon regime.

Seven States Test New Deal

By United Press
Voters in eight states will cast ballots in an off-year election tomorrow that is expected to provide a test of New Deal sentiment through which political forecasters may obtain a clearer picture of what is in store for President Roosevelt in 1936.

Leaders of both major parties have been most active in New York and Kentucky which will hold the most important state-wide elections, although considerable attention is being centered on the Philadelphia mayoralty fight in which the Democrats are attempting to gain a foothold after 40 years of Republican rule.

New Dealers predicted that Lieut. Gov. Chandler would win by a 30,000 majority over Judge King Swope, the Republican candidate, in Kentucky, despite opposition from former Gov. Ruby Laffoon, a vigorous Roosevelt critic.

In New York, control of the assembly may hang on a few seats. Although James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, insists the election will be decided purely on state issues, the result will be looked upon as indicating the trend of opinion.

National issues have been injected into the New Jersey Assembly battle. Virginia will elect a new Legislature, but the campaign has been without unusual features. In Mississippi, a state of Democratic candidates for legislative and other state offices is expected to win approval with the usual lack of opposition.

Mayoral elections will be held in three Connecticut cities, Hartford, New Haven and Bridgeport. Indiana holds town elections only.

HOLDUP MAN GETS $60 FROM PASTOR

Snatches Billfold and Escapes With Accomplice in Car.

The Rev. Michael J. Gorman, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, was held up this morning in the parsonage garage, Vermont-st and Warman-av.

The gunman took Father Gorman's billfold containing about $60, ran to a waiting car, and was driven away by an accomplice.

SOCIALISTS GIRL FOR NEW BATTLE

Beaten in First Court Test, Party Plans to Reargue Title Contest.

Beaten in the first court test, the Socialist Party of Indiana today prepared to reargue its case in Superior Court against the Socialist Party of Indiana, Inc.

Ruling on a demurrer, Superior Judge William A. Pickens last week declared that Charles R. Rogers, Socialist state chairman, had not followed proper procedure in his suit to enjoin the incorporated group from using its present name and party emblem.

The group headed by Mr. Rogers claims the support of Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate in 1932, while the other faction charges it is the rightful party by reason of its incorporation.

CHARITY GRID GAME PLANNED FOR 'KITCHEN'

Thanksgiving Contest Objective of City Officials.

Joseph D. Tynan, Mayor Kern's secretary, today said efforts are being made to arrange a charity football game Thanksgiving afternoon between Cathedral and Shortridge High Schools. Proceeds would be for the benefit of the city's "soup kitchen" at 130 E. Maryland-st., which requires about $17,000 yearly to operate.
