Cold With Byrd? Tut-Tut! Get a Load of Charley

Lies on Ice at 35 Below
and in Thin Pants

After Robbery.

Charles Conroy, 19, of 1001 W. 29th-st, went back to work at an ice station at 30th-st and Barnes-av today convinced that a voyage with Admiral Byrd would be a "push-over."

After two Negro bandits had robbed him of $20 yesterday noon they bound and gagged him with tape and locked him in the ice room.

"I spent five hours in there flopping around like a fish to keep warm," he said. "All I had on was a thin pair of work pants and a shirt. The temperature goes below 35. Don't tell me it wouldn't be a cinch to go to the Antarctic—those guys wear fur suits."

Two customers finally released him and called police. Taken to the City Hospital, he was put to bed.
