MICKEY THE MIKE SPEAKS OUT

CONFIDENCE TICKLES TIGERTOWN

BASEBALL fans of Detroit are enjoying a pleasant off-season and it's a case of all-smiles in the stove league up there. Mickey the Mike Cochrane talks a good race in the winter and then goes out and produces a pennant in the summer. He's the last word in confidence and Tiger rooters are ready to believe anything he says.

Cochrane took a sixth-place club and made it American League champion in 1934, his first year at the helm. Repeating in 1935, Mickey the Mike also added the World Series title to make it a grand slam.

"We can't miss this year," Cochrane said the other day. "We are going to be better than in the last two years and we have the 'something' that the other contenders lack. The Bengals possess the pitching, hitting, fielding and spirit. Four in one, there. Just chalk up another gonfalon for Detroit."

The only thing worrying Mickey, he confesses, is Hank Greenberg's wrist that was cracked when the lanky Tiger first sacker collided with Catcher Hartnett, early in the 1935 Series. The injury took Hank out of title action, Greenberg declares the wrist is as strong as ever and to prove it he has demanded more money than Detroit is offering.

COCHRANE takes the view, however, that you never can tell, knowing the only real test of a crippled wing is hard work with the ball and bat, which Greenberg is sure to receive in heavy doses during spring training. He is the "big shot" of the Detroit attack and if any weakness in his form comes to the surface it will be corrected at once if it takes the Tigers' last dime. At any rate, that's the way Mickey puts it.

Cochrane is willing to admit that the Red Sox, Yankees and Cleveland have enough to make it hot for his Cats, but labels them "threats, with just enough menace to keep our boys on their toes." It's difficult to match Mickey in a fanning bee when his Bengals and the pennant are the topics.

RINGSIDE broadcast by WIRE of The Times-Legion Golden Glove bouts is bringing a national response. Sports Commentator Andre Carlon has received a flood of mail, much of it from such points as Washington, D. C., Schenectady, N. Y., Southbridge, Mass., and also from Western cities. The writers mention they are now regular Friday night listeners. Action in the Armory ring is to start tonight at 7:30, with the broadcast beginning at 10.

There is money in the horse race business—if you own the track. Narragansett Park is planning to set up a purse of $64,000 for its New England Futurity, to be run at the Pawtucket (R. I.) course this fall.

JACK (JUDGE) HENDRICKS, operating Tice's tavern on Maryland-st. as a receiver, is in a new line, but says in a way it's similar to baseball with a lot of conversation exchanged. Jack is a baseball encyclopedia and nobody ever heard of him being stumped on a question in diamond history. Hendricks has been up and down the line as player, manager, scout and business manager in the old Central League, Western League, American Association and National League. On top of that he earned a degree in law at Northwestern University. His Indianapolis club won the pennant and Little World Series in 1917.

Purdue Followers Wary of Two Battles on Road

Iowa Has Been 'Tough' in Past and Gophers Are Dangerous; Hawkeye Tilt Carded Tomorrow.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 7.—Despite the fact that Purdue's basketball squad has made an impressive showing in opening its Big Ten campaign with five straight victories, Bollermaker followers anxiously are awaiting the results of the week-end road trip against Iowa and Minnesota before considering the advisability of inserting in talk of championship possibilities.

Cardinals Win Out in Driving Finish

Japanese Cue Star Defeats Local Player

Running out in 35 innings, Kin-ryu Matsuyama, Japanese billiard artist, defeated Joe Bogue, 50 to 14, in a three-cushion match at the Board of Trade parlor last night. The diminutive Oriental star, rated as one of the world's best, will continue his series of local appearances at Dougherty's parlor tonight and at L. S. Ayres & Co. tomorrow.

TIME SCHEDULE FOR CITY SECTIONAL SET

Play Here to Extend Over Three Days

Questionnaire by Trester
Hints Change in 1937
State Net Meet.

BY PAUL BOXELL

Assurance that the Indianapolis high school sectional basketball tournament will extend over a three-day period was given today when Arthur L. Trester, commissioner of the I. H. S. A. A., announced time schedules for all events connected with the state eliminations next month.

For the first time in tourney history sectional centers having 13 or more competing teams will be permitted to begin play on Thursday night without making a special request to the I. H. S. A. A. Sixteen Marion County teams participate in the local sectional at the Tech gym. Tourney dates here, then, will be March 5, 6 and 7. Sessions will be held Thursday night, Friday morning, afternoon and night, and Saturday afternoon and night.

Other Arrangements

Sectionals with a maximum of nine entries will hold sessions on Friday and Saturday afternoons and nights. A Friday morning session will be added to that schedule for sectionals having from 10 to 12 competing teams.

All Saturday sessions, in the regionals, semi-finals and finals, as well as the sectionals, will hold games at 2 and 3 in the afternoon and the championship tilt at 8 at night.

A total of 64 sectional meets will be held throughout the state. Commissioner Trester also announced that the pairings for all divisions of the state tourney will be announced Saturday, Feb. 29. Regional play will be held March 15, the four semi-final meets on March 22, and the finals at the Butler Fieldhouse on March 29.

Dissatisfaction Revealed

Action in the sectional at Tech will begin with three games Thursday night, March 5. Three more tilts will be played Friday morning, three Friday afternoon, and three at night. Semi-finals and finals, of course, will be played Saturday afternoon and night.

Indication that the Board of Control of the I. H. S. A. A. fears dissatisfaction over the new tourney system was revealed in an additional note stating that a questionnaire is to be sent to 800 high school principals following the tourney finals.

The questionnaire will seek "suggestions and reactions regarding the state championship tournament series."

The possibility that the final tourney may be changed from the local fieldhouse site in 1937 was indicated in the following sentence which stated: "The I. H. S. A. A. lease on the Butler Athletic facilities has one more year to run, and the Board of Control will desire to secure the reactions of the principals regarding lease provisions at Butler, or elsewhere, for the future."

It is that "or elsewhere" insertion which attracts attention. Other subjects in the questionnaire will relate to points connected with regular season basketball play, number of games on season schedules, and the number and type of invitational and conference tourneys to be sanctioned.

Semi-Final Tickets

Ticket allotments for the four semi-final tourneys to be held in Indianapolis, Gary, Muncie and Vincennes have been divided as follows:

1. Five hundred season tickets will be guaranteed to each of the four participating schools, and to the center school city if not a participant, provided such tickets are purchased not later than Monday, March 16. Purchase must be made by the high school principals.

2. Ten season tickets will be guaranteed to each of the schools participating in the sectional tourneys included in their semi-final tourney area, provided such tickets are purchased not later than Monday, March 16.

3. Twelve complimentary tickets will be given to each of the four participating schools for the ten team members, principal and coach.

4. Open sale of remaining tickets will begin Tuesday morning, March 17, with the understanding that the center principal will guard all sales to insure fairness to all.

5. The blocks (500 each) for the four participating schools shall be located in the middle portions of the two sides and next to the playing floor.

Complete Time Schedules

All tourneys will have the same time schedule on Saturday—afternoon at 2 and 3, and evening at 8. Time schedules for sectionals on other days follow:

Eight Teams—Two Officials
Friday afternoon, 2:30 and 3:00; Friday evening, 7:30 and 8:00.

Pushes Up Ceiling—He's Times-Legion Ringster

Maxwell tips the beams at 230 pounds and stands 6 feet 4 inches. He is entered in the Novice Class along with big Elza Thompson, mammoth Negro. There are four fighters left in that division. Fans anticipate the utmost in mauling if the drawings pit Maxwell and Thompson against each other. Both are barrel chested, with Glen claiming an expanded chest measurement of 50 inches. Each has an 80-inch reach. Maxwell has a slight advantage in weight and height. The Times-Legion Golden Gloves tournament moves into the third chapter tonight, starting promptly at 7:30 in the National Guard Armory. Before the five-hour fistic program has been concluded it is believed the Open Class division will have reached the final round, and the Novice Class will have simmered down to the semi-final stage.

The Novice welterweights will open the show. The Messer twins, the midgelets of the Novice flyweight bracket, still are claiming "it's just a breeze." Neither concedes any one—even the other brother—a chance.

A packed house is expected to tax the capacity of the Armory. Approximately 40 fights are carded tonight. Tickets are 50 cents and $1, on sale downtown at Haag's Claypool Hotel drug store and the Lemcke Service Shop, 108 E. Market-st. The pasteboards will be transferred to the Armory box office after 6 p. m.

Conquerors of Local Prep Basket Teams Invade City Again for Tussles Tonight

Noblesville, Decatur Central and Southport Seeking to Repeat Over Capital Net Foes; Shortridge Travels to Lebanon; Tech Idle.

Teams which already boast the hides of Indianapolis high school quintets among their victory souvenirs this season are coming back to search for new victims on local courts tonight.

Noblesville's Millers, who sifted down the Cathedral Irish several weeks ago, invade the Washington goalhouse in hopes of adding the Continentals to their Capital City triumph list. The local West Siders have slipped into a slump of late, but expect to snap back in form by surprising the invaders.

Decatur Central, decisive victor over Broad Ripple last week, grows bolder and sets out to stalk Manhattan's city champions at the Red-skin gym. Decatur Central fans are hoping that Gibson, their all-county forward, will cut loose again with a scoring spree such as he used to stun the Ripplemen.

Cards Slip, Irish Plug
Coach Bill Bugg and his Southport Cards tackle Indianapolis foe No. 3 seeking victory No. 3 when they invade the Cathedral gym tonight. The Cards edged out Shortridge in a thriller when the season was in its infancy and a few weeks later dusted off Washington. After a strong start, however, the Cards have lost seven straight while the Irish have been plugging along steadily, if not brilliantly, and the locals are favored to snap the Suburbans' supremacy this time.

Shortridge travels to Lebanon with two varsity men likely to view action from the sidelines. Dudley Swartz and Tom Brooks have not practiced with the team this week, due to illness.

The galloping Giants of Ben Davis expect to snare consecutive victory No. 20 when Warren Central invades tonight. The Silent Hoosiers journey to Carmel. Crispus Attucks' general's Central High of Louisville in an important tussle for the Tigers.

Diminutive Giants at Tech
Tech's Green goalers do not move into action until tomorrow night when they play host to Orville Hooker's Marion Giants in the East Side gym. Marion's Giants are said to belie their name, being small in stature, but possessing plenty of speed.

Londos in Fine Fettle for Comeback Attempt

By United Press
DETROIT, Feb. 7.—Former World's Champion Jimmy Londos tonight begins his attempt to regain the wrestling title he lost nearly a year ago to Danno O'Mahoney.

Londos said he had kept his old training routine while resting in California the last nine months.

Danville Netters Gain 50-22 Victory Over Oaks.

DANVILLE, Ind., Feb. 7.—Central Normal College, resting unscathed at the top of the Indiana College Conference, lapped No. 11 to its list of victims here last night by swamping Oakland City, 50 to 22.

The Purple Warriors were ahead, 27 to 7, at intermission. Morris and Wilson paced the local squad with five field goals each, and Morris added two free throws. Stuckey, who counted six points, led the invaders. Summary:
