SOUTHLAND DOTES ON SLOGANS

ASK THE HOOSIERS, THEY KNOW

ACCORDING to big league gossip the Cleveland Americans are going to take over an old Indianapolis spring training camp in 1937. It is at Sanford, Fla., in the celery belt. Which means the Cleveland pastimes will be begged to eat more celery.

Cleveland has been training in New Orleans for many years, where the slogan is, "Eat More Oysters." The Indianapolis Indians spent one spring in another "slogan" town in Louisiana, at Crowley, where it was "Eat More Rice."

As a matter of fact the Hoosiers have lived in their share of Eat-more-ville in the Southland, such as Eat More Strawberries, Eat More Sea Food and Eat More Chittlings, suh.

In the town where you were urged to stuff up on strawberries it so happened that the live wire there was known as the Cucumber King. However, the Tribesters had one experience that was a reverse. The year they were in Hot Springs the slogan was Eat Less and Drink More Water.

And thinking back, it seems the ball players of that year, 1926, got the best of it in the food feeding league. They really went to town crowding the plate in Vapor Valley and it was one of the most stylish trips in the history of the club—10 years ago.

SIX St. Louis Cardinal rookies will report at training camp this spring with an average of 44 stolen bases each, recorded last season. Lyle Judy, with 107, leads the pack, followed by Lynn King, 55; Ed Morgan, 30; Stu Martin, 27; Lou Soffic, 23; and Pat Ankenman, 21. Who said automobiles were taking the "run" out of the kids of today?

And one of the greatest track men ever developed in the history of Amherst College is enrolled there now. He is Bob Stewart, who has yet to meet defeat in the middle distances. He won the 220, 440 and 880 events in a dual meet with rival Bowdoin last spring.

START the presses. Here's a flash. Owner Tom Yawkey has signed a ball player who didn't cost him a cent. He's Joe Prizina, 19, rookie Red Sox pitcher, who was gathered into the Boston fold right after he was graduated from high school. Connie Mack finally was caught asleep.

Billy Treest, Chicago bather who defeated Hank Bath, protege of Jack Kearns, will be ready for Brown Bomber Joe Luis as soon as he can put on 20 pounds, his dressers say. They fatten 'em and dress 'em up to make the meal more appetizing for Joe.

THE Brooklyn Dodgers have 11 outfields on their roster. But that army of fly chasers doesn't mean a whole lot. Only three may play at a time. In the meantime Indianapolis is standing by in a receptive mood. The Hoosiers are short in the pasture department and Brooklyn "owes" for Vin Sherwood and Johnny Cooney, taken up from the locals last fall.

BOB FAUSETT, new Indianapolis third sacker, has quit his job on the docks at Galveston, Tex. He said the heavy labor was cutting off too much weight. He shall now endeavor to sell autos before reporting to Red Killeffer's Redskins. The Tribe chief is due in Indianapolis Feb. 20.

A baseball-writer minstrel told us how Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Browns had thrown Pitcher Dick Coffman off a train last summer and how Manager Bill Terry of the Giants had picked him up. "What are the Giants using for scouts nowadays, track walkers?" countered the stooge.

Ambers Advances in Drive for Title

Hands Out Sound Beating to Mexican.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Lou Ambers, (N. Y.) boy, relegated to the pugilistic scrapheap last summer with a broken jaw, was well on his way to winning another shot at Tony Canzoneri's lightweight title today.

Ambers soundly whipped Baby Arizmendi, bulldozered little Mexican, in a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden last night for his sixth straight triumph since he returned to the ring. Ambers weighed 133½, Arizmendi 131½.

Another disappointing house-576 fans paid $1,096.40—say Ambers win the unanimous decision over Arizmendi. The Mexican won only two rounds, and had an even break in another. Ambers cut him under one eye, over the other, on the lip and reopened an old wound across the nose. After a fast start, Arizmendi tired in the closing rounds, and couldn't keep pace.

MATSUYAMA DEFEATS LOCAL TRI-RAIL RIVALS

In two billiard exhibitions yesterday, Kinney Matsuyama, Japanese cue artist, easily defeated local players. The diminutive three-rail performers won over Doc Busen, 50 to 17, in 50 innings at Columbia Club yesterday noon, with a high run of nine. Last night he defeated Frank Dougherty Jr. at Dougherty's parlor, 50 to 25, in 60 frames.

The section is overwhelming feminine. Some one explains that the high school enrollment is 70, of which 40 are girls, which leaves few boy roosters when you subtract the 15 who play on the teams. The enrollment of the school proper is 340. The Silent Hoosiers varsity appears, 10 husky, clean-cut young men. A burst of applause breaks from the far bleachers, that is all. The opposing team shows—more applause, courteous, which mingles this time with a dash of startling cheers from the visiting spectators.

PLAY begins. The Silent Hoosiers handle the ball smoothly. They use a fast break. Not a sound escapes from their lips. The visiting players, strangely affected, are somber and restrain their voices to near silence. But they play good ball and soon have the home boys on a dead short.

WONDERFUL! Matsuyama defeats LOCAL TRI-RAIL RIVALS

In the high way to the open welter finals with two victories. Harry Brown, Wallace-Monaghan A. C. scrapper, who knocked out Dave Williams, Bass A. C. Flash, last week, scored two decisive victories last night. Winner of the middleweight crown in Vincennes in 1934, Brown was too tough for Ken Kastetter, unattached, and scored a technical knockout in one minute and 40 seconds. In the final bout of the evening he floored Willam Campbell, Negro, Senate Avenue A. C., for the count at the start of the second round.

In one of the classiest battles of the evening, Norval Binninger, Oliver-WPA, sliced out a clean, narrow edge over Jimmie Kruemeier, Shelbyville, who displayed a left hand with lots of whip and snap and right-handed crosses to the body.
