

WILLIAM D. GILL WORRIED ABOUT COMING SESSION

He Must Move Squatters
From Offices in Statehouse.

Under ordinary circumstances, William D. Gill is regarded around the Statehouse as a very popular young fellow, but he falls in the category of process servers and other enemies of mankind at the moment.

Mr. Gill is superintendent of the Statehouse buildings and grounds and is getting ready for the forthcoming special session of the Indiana General Assembly.

The reason he goes around with a worried expression is because he has to prepare a number of dispossess notices for state governmental agencies which are exercising squatters' rights on the House of Representatives and the Senate.

It's Not So Easy

Mr. Gill not only has to give these various office forces the bum's rush; he also has to find a place for them.

In the north anterooms of the House, usually assigned to the Speaker of the House for an office, are the state publicity bureau, Indiana Industries sales division, a benevolent institutions investigator and part of the teachers' retirement fund offices.

The south anterooms of the House are occupied by the State Pharmacy Board. Across the hall in the Senate, the north anterooms are taken up by the state architect's offices and the State Milk Control Board uses the north rooms for conferences.

The state Barber board and state beauticians board occupy the Senate proper.

They're Doing Light Work Now

Mr. Gill's cohorts, supplemented by a detachment of Works Progress Administration workers, are getting both chambers ready for the legislators. Both Houses have to be "revamped." That means all light fixtures must be lowered and equipped with fresh bulbs in preparation for any night sessions or an unusually dark day.

In addition, the indirect heating plants for both houses have to be gone over carefully. The motors of each plant have to be broken down, cleaned and reassembled.

Not the least of Mr. Gill's problems is the disposal of approximately 6,000,000 pieces of state auto license department records. The state archives committee recently went into a huddle to decide what state records could be destroyed and what must be saved.

Press Rooms Are Problems, Too

They reached the conclusion that the driver license records should be preserved for 10 years, so Mr. Gill is looking for various nooks and crannies in which to place them.

Not the least of Mr. Gill's troubles in preparing for the special session is the providing of press rooms for each of the three Indianapolis newspapers and three wire services.

The Supreme Court Judges are a little disturbed about this latter phase of the special session problem. They usually are the press room victims.

If through any eventuality there is no special session, Mr. Gill probably will be glad to lead a chorus of relieved sighs.

Gone, but Not Forgotten

Automobiles reported to police as stolen belong to:
Piccadilly Cleaners, 26 E. 16th-st. Dodge truck, iron in front of 334 E. 8th-st.

BACK HOME AGAIN

Stolen automobiles recovered by police
belong to:
Fletcher Bowman, Linton, Ind. International truck, found west of city limits
Harry Bryan, 114½ E. Ohio-st. Ford
coach, found in front of 342 Indiana-av.
W. W. Bryan, 114½ E. Ohio-st. Ford
coach, found in front of 342 Indiana-av.
Marion Payne, 1325 W. 23rd-st. Chevrolet sedan, found at North-st. and Park-av.

Two Elected to Pension Board
Patrolman Leonard B. Forsythe and Thomas Bledsoe are filling vacancies today on the police pension board, having defeated Detective
Chief Fred Simon and Patrolman
Oscar Merrill in an election yesterday.

AIDS WITH DANCE

DWIGHT H. DAY, CHURCH LEADER, IS DEAD IN EAST

Former Resident Served as Missions Treasurer in New York.

Dwight H. Day, formerly of Indianapolis, died Sunday in Cornell Medical College Hospital in New York. Mr. Day for the last 10 years served as treasurer of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. He was 59.

Born in Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Day, the family moved to Indianapolis, where Mr.

Positive Relief For Itchy Skin

Soothing Blue Star salve melts
on the skin, gently tested medicated
deeply into pores to kill common itch-
tetter, rash, eczema, foot itch, ringworm, etc. Money back on first jar,
if it fails to relieve.—Advertisement.

Breaks Arm in Fall

Miss Glenda Alexander, 29, of the Lockerbie, slipped and fell in her bathroom early today, breaking her arm.

It's Not So Easy

Mr. Gill not only has to give these various office forces the bum's rush; he also has to find a place for them.

In the north anterooms of the House, usually assigned to the Speaker of the House for an office, are the state publicity bureau, Indiana Industries sales division, a benevolent institutions investigator and part of the teachers' retirement fund offices.

The south anterooms of the House are occupied by the State Pharmacy Board. Across the hall in the Senate, the north anterooms are taken up by the state architect's offices and the State Milk Control Board uses the north rooms for conferences.

The state Barber board and state beauticians board occupy the Senate proper.

They're Doing Light Work Now

Mr. Gill's cohorts, supplemented by a detachment of Works Progress Administration workers, are getting both chambers ready for the legislators. Both Houses have to be "revamped." That means all light fixtures must be lowered and equipped with fresh bulbs in preparation for any night sessions or an unusually dark day.

In addition, the indirect heating plants for both houses have to be gone over carefully. The motors of each plant have to be broken down, cleaned and reassembled.

Not the least of Mr. Gill's problems is the disposal of approximately 6,000,000 pieces of state auto license department records. The state archives committee recently went into a huddle to decide what state records could be destroyed and what must be saved.

Press Rooms Are Problems, Too

They reached the conclusion that the driver license records should be preserved for 10 years, so Mr. Gill is looking for various nooks and crannies in which to place them.

Not the least of Mr. Gill's troubles in preparing for the special session is the providing of press rooms for each of the three Indianapolis newspapers and three wire services.

The Supreme Court Judges are a little disturbed about this latter phase of the special session problem. They usually are the press room victims.

If through any eventuality there is no special session, Mr. Gill probably will be glad to lead a chorus of relieved sighs.

THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES

Day attended school, graduating from Shortridge High School.

He was graduated from Phillips Andover Academy in Massachusetts in 1895 and Yale University in 1899.

In 1927 Mr. Day became treasurer of the Presbyterian missions and made a trip around the world in that capacity.

Surviving Mr. Day are the widow, Mrs. Clara Bradford Day of New York; two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Strauss and Mrs. Katherine Day of New York; two sons, Theodore Day of New York and Huntington T. Day of New Haven, Conn.; two sisters, Mrs. James Y. Simpson of Edinburgh, Scotland, and Mrs. J. Ross Stevenson of Princeton, N. J.; two brothers, William E. Day of New Haven, Conn., and Frederick H. Day of Indianapolis, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held in Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, tomorrow morning.

Hoover to Speak in Oregon

PALO ALTO, Feb. 11.—Former President Herbert Hoover will leave tonight for Portland, Ore., where he will deliver a Lincoln Day address tomorrow night.

EYES EXAMINED . . . GLASSES ON CREDIT

A Valentine ball is to be held by the Elks Lodge Saturday night in the Seviner, W. G. Taylor (above), lodge secretary, is assisting in the arrangements.

Positive Relief For Itchy Skin

Soothing Blue Star salve melts
on the skin, gently tested medicated
deeply into pores to kill common itch-
tetter, rash, eczema, foot itch, ring-
worm, etc. Money back on first jar,
if it fails to relieve.—Advertisement.

Breaks Arm in Fall

Miss Glenda Alexander, 29, of the Lockerbie, slipped and fell in her bathroom early today, breaking her arm.

It's Not So Easy

Mr. Gill not only has to give these various office forces the bum's rush; he also has to find a place for them.

In the north anterooms of the House, usually assigned to the Speaker of the House for an office, are the state publicity bureau, Indiana Industries sales division, a benevolent institutions investigator and part of the teachers' retirement fund offices.

The south anterooms of the House are occupied by the State Pharmacy Board. Across the hall in the Senate, the north anterooms are taken up by the state architect's offices and the State Milk Control Board uses the north rooms for conferences.

The state Barber board and state beauticians board occupy the Senate proper.

They're Doing Light Work Now

Mr. Gill's cohorts, supplemented by a detachment of Works Progress Administration workers, are getting both chambers ready for the legislators. Both Houses have to be "revamped." That means all light fixtures must be lowered and equipped with fresh bulbs in preparation for any night sessions or an unusually dark day.

In addition, the indirect heating plants for both houses have to be gone over carefully. The motors of each plant have to be broken down, cleaned and reassembled.

Not the least of Mr. Gill's problems is the disposal of approximately 6,000,000 pieces of state auto license department records. The state archives committee recently went into a huddle to decide what state records could be destroyed and what must be saved.

Press Rooms Are Problems, Too

They reached the conclusion that the driver license records should be preserved for 10 years, so Mr. Gill is looking for various nooks and crannies in which to place them.

Not the least of Mr. Gill's troubles in preparing for the special session is the providing of press rooms for each of the three Indianapolis newspapers and three wire services.

The Supreme Court Judges are a little disturbed about this latter phase of the special session problem. They usually are the press room victims.

If through any eventuality there is no special session, Mr. Gill probably will be glad to lead a chorus of relieved sighs.

Going to town with Luckies A LIGHT SMOKE of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

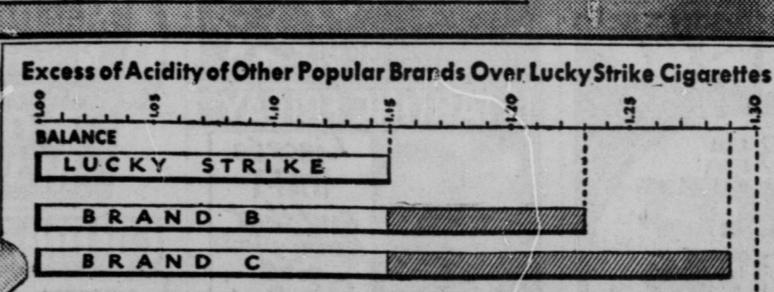

consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting");

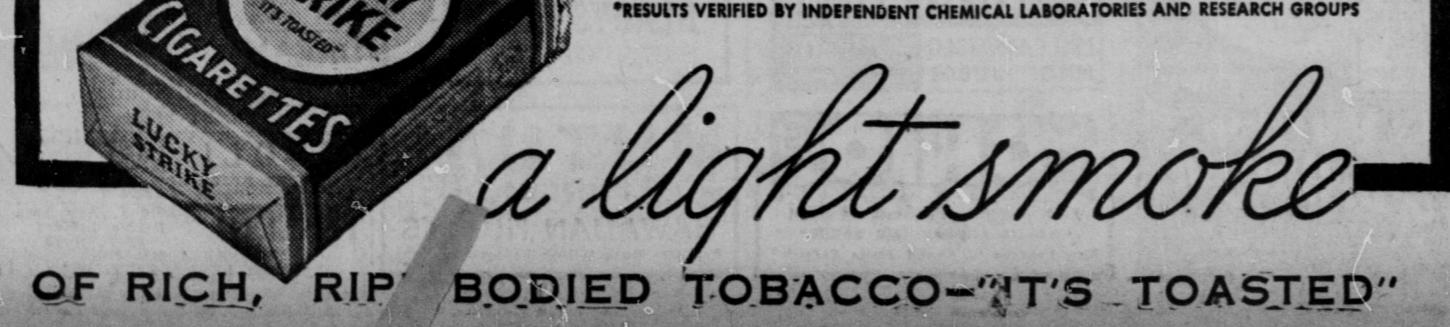

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show*
that other popular brands
have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

*RESULTS VERIFIED BY INDEPENDENT CHEMICAL LABORATORIES AND RESEARCH GROUPS

BUY ON FAIR'S BUDGET PLAN

Wom. EXTRA SIZE SLIPS

46 to 50

37c

Women's lace-trimmed or tailored broadcloth slips, full cut, 46 to 50.

Wom. Lace Trimmed RAYON PANTIES

10c

Women's lace-trimmed, some lace-trimmed, panties.

Wom. Out Size SILK HOSE

39c

First quality service weight all silk, reinforced; wanted colors; all sizes.

Women's Tuck Stitch SNUGGLES

Small, Med. and Large

16c

Tuck stitch "Durene" snug fitting shorts or shirts. Main Floor.

Girls' Fast Color WASH FROCKS

7 to 14 Yrs. 2 to 6 Yrs.

49c

Prints and plaids, new styles, fast colors, 2 to 14.

Men's All-Leather Gauntlet GLOVES

29c

Guaranteed style glove leatherette cuff. Main Floor.

Girls' Br'dcloth BLOOMERS

6c

Good quality pink broadcloth bloomers; subst. in all sizes.

Wom. Sheer SILK HOSE

27c

Sheer chiffon, reinforced, wanted colors; subst. in all sizes.

Regular $3.50