Religious Film to Be Shown

"Through the Centuries" to Be Seen at Parish Hall.

"Through the Centuries," a film which shows the rise and spread of Christianity from the coming of Christ to the present day, is to be seen for the first time here at 2 tomorrow afternoon at St. Philip Neri parish hall. A Catholic picture, the showing tomorrow, is to be for Sisters of the city, and will mark the inauguration of the first sound equipment permanently installed for parochial use in this diocese.

Pope Pius XI is seen frequently in the film, and art treasures of the Vatican are pictured. Missionary activities from barren Arctic wastes to torrid tropical jungle, actual scenes from the World War, pictures of throngs of pilgrims visiting holy places and other scenes of religious activity are included.

In early stages of the film, scenes are historical and portray the history of the church as recorded in the New Testament. Pedro de Cordoba speaks the part of Christ at the beginning of the picture and that of Pope Pius at the end.

Rite Choir Will Give

Volume Traces Rise of Three

Jewish Communities in Vienna

Dr. Max Grunwald's work is translated from German for Publication Society of America.

The latest volume in the Jewish Community Series is Dr. Max Grunwald's "Vienna," translated from the German by Dr. Solomon Grayzel and published by the Jewish Publication Society of America.

The work traces the rise of the three Jewish communities in the Austrian capital, and includes a history of the present community, which dates from 1680. There are tales of prosperous court Jews as well as persecutions of the lower classes; of battles for civil liberties; of the influence of Jewish women in society; of the growth of trade and developments in the arts and sciences.

Biographical accounts include such picturesque and famous names as the Oppenheims, Arnsteins, Rothschilds, and others. Contributors to Judaism as well as western culture are found among the Vienna families of Fischel, Jellinek, Kuranda, Bloch and Herzl. The book follows

Junior Church to Celebrate Fourth Year

Musical Program to Feature Children's Anniversary Service.

Special services in McKee Chapel of the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church are to mark the fourth anniversary of the Junior Church tomorrow morning. Larry Finley, president, and the program committee are to have charge of the celebration, to which all former members of the junior organization have been invited.

This children's church was organized by James B. Martin, Church School Director of Religious Education, and is believed to be the only organization of its kind in Indianapolis. During its four-year existence, over a thousand children have been associated with the church. Children conduct the entire service, which is planned a week in advance, and carry on many activities in addition to the Sunday religious period.

A feature of tomorrow's anniversary is to be a musical program by the Junior Church choir of 25 voices, directed by Mrs. Lillian Brady. Ex-presidents who expect to be present include Allen Hendren, Betty Parkhurst and Lucy Deranian.

Lesson Is Cited

All Churches of Christ, Scientist, are to have "Substance" as the subject of their lesson-sermon tomorrow.

The lesson text is: "Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase." (Proverbs iii, 9).

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon are verses 1, 6, 18-21 from Proverbs 8, and the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Spirit is the only substance and consciousness recognized by divine Science. . . . That matter is substantial or has life and sensation is one of the false beliefs of mortals, and exists only in a supposititious mortal consciousness." (p. 278).

"A New Testament writer plainly describes faith, a quality of mind, as the 'substance of things hoped for.' . . . In proportion as the heart is purified, that life and intelligence are in or of matter, the immortal facts of being are seen, and their only idea or intelligence is in God." (p. 279).

Sunday's Program

Will Honor Pastor

"Honor Our Pastor Day" is to be observed by First Baptist Church Sunday school tomorrow morning in co-operation with the Sunday School superintendents' League of the Indianapolis Baptist Association.

Jesse C. Moore, Franklin College director, is to speak on "Our Pastor a Tribute." Dorisann Johnson, Principal of Peace declamation contest winner, is to read "The Pledge of Our Pastor in the Church and Our Community."

Pre-Easter Series

to Open March 29

The Rev. George D. Billeisen, River Avenue Baptist Church pastor, announces a series of pre-Easter revival meetings, to open March 29 and to continue until Easter. Mr. Billeisen is to be assisted by the Rev. Reuben H. Lindstrom, evangelist. Services are to be held each night.

Church School to #### Meet, Hold Dinner

The officers and teachers of the Brightwood Christian Church School are to have a supper meeting at 4 on Thursday night. Plans are to be made for the achievement of Easter goals and definite organization of teachers and officers.

On Friday night, the Adult Bible Class of the church is to serve a fish fry.

Name Class Speaker

Mrs. Curtis Hodges is to speak before the Women's Bible Class of the Third Christian Church Sunday morning at 9:30. Special music is to be given on a program by Messdames Laura and Lulu Lookabill.

Volume Traces Rise of Three

Jewish Communities in Vienna

Dr. Max Grunwald's work is translated from German for Publication Society of America.

The history of Vienna's Jews through the World War, and ends with a plea for Jewish nationalism, or Zionism.

Dr. Grunwald, as a resident of Vienna, has been in a position to carry on much original historical research. His book has been designed for all lovers of liberty and democracy, as well as for Jews throughout the world.

Publication of the volume was made possible through a bequest of the late Abraham Erlanger to the Publication Society. It has been edited by Albert Mordell to conform in size, style and general treatment to other books of the series.

Churches Must Meet Problem

of Sunday Program With Frank Determination, Pastor Believes

Question Does Not Deal With Message, but Rather With Method and Approach to Generations Served, the Rev. Arthur E. Cowley Declares.

BY THE REV. ARTHUR E. COWLEY
(Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Shelbyville, and chairman of the Commission on Sunday Problems of the Indiana State Pastors' Convention.)

The Protestant Church's Sunday program is largely the result of tradition and custom. With a few variations due to the different parts of the country, it is pretty much the same, including a Sunday morning worship service, with a Church School before or after, a young people's service and a vesper or night service. Such a program has served the church well in the past but many are wondering how adequate it is to meet modern conditions. Can such a program largely built on conditions that no longer exist be followed today without some important adaptations to new conditions?

Teachers Will Meet Monday

Easter Theme Is Selected for Children Group Leaders.

All persons interested in children's church work are invited to attend the regular meeting of the Children's Division Work Groups of the Churches of Marion County in Christ Episcopal Church from 2 to 4 Monday afternoon. The meeting is sponsored by the Marion County Council of Christian Education, and will have as its theme, "Easter and Its Message for the Individual."

Mrs. Bob Shank, chairman of the Children's Division Committee, is to preside.

Principal speaker is to be the Rev. William F. Rothenberger of Third Christian Church, whose topic will be "The Supremacy of the Spiritual." Devotions are to be in charge of the Rev. Donald Conrad, pastor of First Moravian Episcopal Church.

Group conferences are to meet in the parish house at 3. Discussion of "Experience in Easter Messages, Including a Study of Materials and Program Building" is to be led by the following:

Workers with pre-school children, Nellie C. Young, director of children's work, the Indiana Council of Christian Education, assisted by Mrs. C. A. McKamey of Prentice Presbyterian Church and Mrs. Walter Holt of Central Christian Church; workers with primary children, Miss Myrtle Huckleberry, director of children's work, Indiana Baptist Convention, assisted by Miss Emma Heidrop of the First Reformed Church and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy of Grace Methodist Church; workers with junior children, Miss Elizabeth Taft, associate director of Christian Education, Presbyterian Synod, assisted by Mrs. John Clark of the North Methodist Church.
