Regulars Repeat in Indians' Camp

Tribe Veterans Win, 3-1, in Practice Tilt.

WAUCHULA, Fla., March 20.—Wade Killefer's Indianapolis Indians "first team" tacked up another victory over the rookies in a practice tilt yesterday, 3 to 1, and are set to begin their exhibition schedule at Arcadia tomorrow, playing the St. Paul Saints.

Chief Killefer assigned three veteran hurlers to the rookies yesterday, but the regulars were not to be denied and pounded out enough hits to emerge on the long end of the score. Bolen, Tinning and Chamblin took turns on the mound for the rookies and Elmer Riddle, Trout and Cloyd Stith worked for the regulars. Young Riddle, brother of Johnny Riddle, Tribe catcher, held the rookies hitless and runless in three innings.

Dale Miller, Hoosier business manager, reached camp yesterday after a fast drive from Indianapolis.

Brown Takes Decision in Feature Ring Scrap Here

BY PAUL BOXELL
The old chatter about "what they lacked in ability they made up in willingness," which usually finds its way into descriptions of amateur fighters and amateur fights is waning in adaptability as far as local scrappers are concerned.

In the first of a series of amateur fights scheduled for Tomlinson Hall last night, boys of the local simon-pure clan uncorked a marked display of ability as well as willingness.

Though knockdowns were numerous in the several bouts offered, only one knockout was recorded. This was due in most part to the resourceful fighting of the boys when they got in distress, and in some measure to the even pairings for the matches.

Harry Brown, Beech Grove, popular local Golden Gloves welterweight champion, barely outpointed Joe Benna of Terre Haute in a closely fought four-round main go. Benna, champion of Terre Haute, gave the Beech Grove youth a stubborn battle all the way and probably would have commanded the decision had he not been the victim of two knockdowns in the second round.

Of the three judges, two gave Brown the edge by a single point and the other by five. The graded 20 points to the round. Both boys were cautious in the opening frame, Benna outstaying Brown with his left for a slight edge.

Brown caught Benna with a sizzling right jab coming out of an in-fighting flurry in the second frame and the Terre Hautean went down. He was up after a single toll but ran into a left cross that glanced off his jaw but sent him spinning again. The spunky visitor bounced up with no count, danced away until his head cleared, then came back to put up a near-winning rally in the two final sessions.

In other bouts, all three-rounders, Johnny Benna, Terre Haute, dominated Bob Blue, South Side Turners; Dick Lybarger, Terre Haute, outpointed Tommy Davidson, unattached; Ivan Hunt, Terre Haute, whipped George Hoyt, Puritan Bed Springs; Herman Walters, unattached, decided Dave Caphart, unattached; Omar Sensel, South Side Turners, decided Charles Bruck, Brightwood A. C.; Wally Ricks knocked out Bob Phillips in the first round.

Bob Mudd, though knocked down by Myron Baer, Brightwood A. C., in the second round, started and finished strong to take the verdict. Matchmaker Roy Wallace announced that another show would be held next Thursday night.

League Fives Play Big Part in Net Meets

members of Kokomo and Newcastle tackle Central of Fort Wayne and Warsaw, respectively, in afternoon contests.

Anderson is the lone Big Ten standard bearer in the warfare at Tech's coliseum here, with the -ville trio furnishing opposition. Shelbyville and Crawfordsville clash at 2, and Anderson goes against Connersville at 3.

Three in One
Thus, all three Southern Indiana league dynasties are concentrated in the one remaining tourney. New Albany, Washington and Central of Evansville are the league ambassadors at Vincennes, but in their midst is a non-member which stands as a stalwart threat to barricade the loop's road to the finals—Martinsville.

If Coach Tom Rea of Washington doesn't sleep well tonight, you can bet he'll be thinking about the canny courtmen of Curtis. His Hatchets are first to collide with the Artesians.

—And the littlest shall be the biggest — or words to that effect. Martinsville, choice of this corner to cop the state title for the fourth time since 1924, is the smallest city of the 16 hangers-on from a standpoint of population. The downstate town has a per capita somewhere in the neighborhood of 4900. Though Central draws from only part of the city, the Fort Wayne quintet represents the largest population—120,000. Who said "in numbers there is strength?"

Guess Who's Favored?

Times Special
SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 20.—Who never heard of Warsaw? Perhaps the team from the Land o' Lakes isn't well known in some sections of the state, but in a poll of fans being conducted here, Warsaw is running alongside Frankfort and Kokomo as a favorite for the high school basketball championship.

Warsaw plays in the semi-final tourney at Muncie tomorrow. a "complete rest"; tomorrow, wonder what? ... Anderson received its allotment of 1000 tickets to the local meet last Monday and by 11 a. m. Tuesday was sold out! ... Disappointed fans are still storming the doors. (By P. B.)

18 From Indiana

Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 20.—With Indiana University's distance stars gradually regaining their stride after being handicapped by illness, the Hoosiers, 18 strong, will leave here tomorrow morning for Indianapolis to participate in the annual Butler Relays.

The same squad, which gained third place in the Big Ten indoor championships last week-end, will bid for the Relays title, led by Dan Caldemeyer, Indiana's only defending champion in the games. Caldemeyer, who last year won the high vault, Baldwin in the high jump and Collier in the dashes are included in the individual entries.

The Hoosiers are entered in every university relay event, and Caldemeyer also will participate in the high jump. Shoemaker in the pole vault, Baldwin in the high jump and Collier in the dashes are included in the individual entries. Mel Trutt, Indiana freshman who will run unattached, will be pitted against Glenn Cunningham, world's record holder; Ray Sears of Butler; Daily of Michigan, and Rice, Notre Dame freshman, in a special mile race. Trutt recently defeated Archie San Romani, national collegiate mile champion, in an indoor meet at St. Louis.

Picard Shows Way Into Third Round

Fires Sub-Par Golf in Open Title Defense.

By United Press

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 20.—Setting a sub-par pace, defending champion Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., led the field into the third round of the fourth annual Charleston Open today.

Playing over the Charleston Country Club course, where he once served as pro, Picard added a 69 yesterday to his first-round card of 67, to lead the field at the halfway mark with 136, six strokes less than par for the 36 holes. Ky Laffoon, Young Chicagoan, whose 67 tied him with Picard for medal honors, "lost control" yesterday and took a 76, giving him a 36-hole card of 143. Coming from behind, two Chicagoans, Frank Walsh and Dick Metz matched Picard's 69 to share second place at 141.
