

Girls at Ladywood Irked—They'll Miss Nelson Eddy Songs

But Their Disappointment Is Expected to Fade Tomorrow When They Receive at Athletic Association Tea.

BY BEATRICE BURGAN
Society Editor

THE tinkle of teacups tomorrow probably will drown out the sighs of many of the Ladywood School pupils as they receive guests at their Athletic Association tea.

The dejected feelings will come to them when they have free moments to recall that Nelson Eddy is singing at English's.

For weeks many of the girls had anticipated attending the concert, and not until the tea date had been changed twice did they realize anything would keep them from hearing the singer's program.

If the girls could have done so, Mr. Eddy would have been invited to the tea. But the Sisters of Province teaching them vetoed the proposal because they realized that an artist's time is scheduled by minutes.

Just the same, the girls think their idea was a good one. Their dejection has been lightened by the realization that they will be seeing many friends and relatives at their own party.

The girls have forgotten their disappointment while scurrying about borrowing appointments for the tea.

Miss Rosalie Hall picked out a rock crystal vase at her home, given to her mother, Mrs. William Campbell Hall, by Miss Hall's grandmother, Mrs. Carrie R. Rink. Her eye also fell on Mrs. Rink's silver candelabra. Rosalie's sisters, Misses Joanne and Dorothy Mae Hall, are to be among the students greeting guests while Rosalie sings in a trio with Miss Elizabeth Deins and Miss Antoinette Holzborn, Cincinnati. Miss Mary Spalding is to play the harp.

Miss Virginia Meyer, Chicago, senior class president, is to head the receiving line in the drawing room. The canary yellow crepe dress she is to wear has a tunic with pleated collar. In the line with her are to be Miss Kathleen Cameron, Keokuk, Ia.; Misses Betty Leikheim and Joan Fox, Indianapolis, and Misses Betty Ann Hamlin and Virginia Fisher, both of Detroit.

Miss Kathryn Gartland, association president, is to preside at the tea table. The black crepe dress she intends to wear has clips at the neckline and a corded belt.

Sharing serving duties with Miss Gartland are to be Miss Joyce Vavanaugh, Chicago; Miss Holzborn, Miss Mary Lou Farrell, Chicago, and other officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Owsley's stopover here on their return from Florida to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., their home, occasioned an event in the life of Blaine H. Miller III, their grandson.

The arrival of the baby's grandparents precipitated a hasty christening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owsley's daughter, Mrs. Blaine H. Miller Jr., and Mr. Miller. Dr. Jean S. Miller, Second Presbyterian Church pastor, officiated.

Young "Sandy" (as he already is nicknamed by virtue of blond hair like his father's), has Frederick G. Matson as godfather.

His grandmother, Mrs. Miller, is one of the enthusiastic workers at Second Presbyterian Church, where "Sandy's" name has been enrolled.
