

JUDGE DEFENDS NAMING OF SON AS BOARD HEAD

Bartholomew Jurist Says Act Does Not Violate Security Law.

He is to take over the director's duties April 1 at an annual salary of $1300.

One of Three Considered

Convinced the appointment is lawful, Judge Long added that "it was made without the recommendation of the court," and that he understood his son's application for the post was one of three considered by the board.

Section 31, Article 3, of the act, reads in part:

"No person who is related to the judge of the Circuit Court appointing the county board or to any member of any county board or to the director of any county department as a husband or wife, father or mother, son or daughter, son-in-law or daughter-in-law, brother or sister, niece or nephew, uncle or aunt, shall be eligible to any position in such county department."

This section, the judge maintains, applies only to welfare employees who later will be chosen for office and field work. It does not, he contend, affect major appointments, such as that of board member or county welfare department director.

Explains His Belief

The judge further holds that he would have been within his legal right to have named one or more of his relatives to the Welfare Board.

"The judge, the board and the director," he explained, "are put in separate classes so far as that section is concerned. Their selection is not governed by those provisions at all."

Members of the old guardians' body transferred to the new board are Donald DuShane, city school superintendent; Mrs. R. S. Brown, Mrs. Merle S. Reeves, Charles S. Kitzinger and D. M. Bottorff.

As welfare director, Mr. Long is to serve also as board secretary and all applications for pensions and other relief will pass through his office before reaching the board.

Aimed at Marion, He Says

Judge Long expressed the belief that the nepotism provisions were aimed at the larger population center and cited Marion County as an illustration.

"There you will have hundreds of people employed by the welfare office," he said, "and the provision is meant to keep families and relatives of officials off the pay roll."

DE PAUW ADOPTS NEW STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Proposed Constitution Approved by 4-to-1 Vote.

Times Special
GREENCASTLE, Ind., March 26.—De Pauw University students today had a new deal in self-government.

By a 4-to-1 majority, the student body voted yesterday to accept a proposed constitution drawn up by a student committee.

Results of yesterday's poll ended the four-year sway of the Student Senate, governing body of 29 members chosen by each sorority, fraternity, and residence hall.

The new constitution provides for a student executive board of 15, chosen by the Hare system of proportional representation from states of candidates selected in party nominating conventions.

Nominating conventions must be held by April 7, and the first election under the new constitution will be held soon afterward.

MENINGITIS FATAL TO SOLDIER AT PANAMA

Officials Report No New Cases, Will Lift Quarantine.

By United Press
PANAMA, March 26.—Private Harold Speers, whose contraction of meningitis caused the quarantining of 1200 Army recruits who arrived here on the transport Republic, died yesterday, Army officials announced today.

Speers contracted the disease on the way from New York. The 1200 enlisted men aboard with him were taken to a special isolation camp. No new cases had developed today and it was announced that the men would be taken to the ship Saturday, to continue to California.

MICHIGAN SLIGHTED, HARRY HOPKINS TOLD

Relief Agency Failed to Buy Up Food Quota, Is Charge.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, March 26.—Charges that the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation had discriminated against Michigan-grown cherries and potatoes in purchasing relief supplies were made today by Rep. Albert J. Engel (R., Mich.), in a letter to Harry L. Hopkins, head of the corporation.

Rep. Engel demanded "reasons, not excuses" why Michigan apparently was not allowed to furnish potatoes for relief purposes in proportion to the amount of that crop produced in the state during 1935.
