

'ARMY DAY' TO BE MARKED AT FORT HARRISON

Inspection Is to Feature Garrison's Ceremonies On April 6.

With leather polished and uniforms pressed, the Fort Benjamin Harrison garrison is to celebrate Army Day Monday, April 6. The Hoosier Chapter, Military Order of the World War, again is sponsoring this observance.

The program is to be held at the post under direction of Brig. Gen. W. K. Naylor, commander. Col. George V. Strong of the 11th Infantry has been designated officer in charge.

Last year the day was observed by a display of modern army equipment on the Indiana World War Memorial Plaza, which was viewed by more than 10,000 people.

Col. Strong announced the program is to begin at 1 p. m. with an inspection of barracks, and continue through until retreat at 5.

Military ceremonies that date back to the English Crusaders are to occupy special places on the program. Chief of these is formal guard mounting of the 11th Infantry to be held at 2:15. A garrison review of all troops is to be held one hour earlier.

The 19th Field Artillery is to give a demonstration, and infantry, artillery and aviation equipment is to be displayed.

Aviators, "dough boys" and "wagon soldiers" are to show how various arms of the service co-operate in working out an attack problem. Use of the radio in tactical problems is to be emphasized.

Unit commanders today were ordered to prepare plans for the conduct of their parts in the program.

PHONE FIRM ORDERED TO ANSWER COMPLAINT

Woman Declares Company Refused to Install Apparatus.

Superior Judge Joseph R. Williams today ordered the Indiana Bell Telephone Co. to appear in court Monday to show cause why it has refused to install phone connections at 1606 E. 49th-st.

Matilda Nichols, operator of the Bell-Aire Cleaners at that address charged that the phone company refused to accept $6 to establish connections there.

Attorney Ernest E. Dillon explained that previously there had been a phone service limited to 90 calls a month at the address, but that after a dispute over a phone bill the service had been discontinued.

A suit charging the phone company with conspiracy in connection with the same case has been filed in Superior Court also.

600 Are Expected to Attend White River Council Fete Tomorrow.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 27.—Approximately 600 Boy Scouts from south central Indiana will gather here tomorrow for a day-long rally honoring Dr. James E. West, New York, chief Scout executive.

Highlights of the rally, sponsored by White River Council, are to be a luncheon address by Dr. West and a troop review before the chief executive and his staff. The program will be held at Indiana University.

Among regional Scouting officials who plan to attend the event are D. M. Ramsey, A. L. Claude and W. W. Shaver, all of Chicago. Irvin Taylor, Bloomington, council president, is to be in charge of activities.

Dr. West, winding up a two-week visit in Indiana, is to leave for New York immediately after the celebration. He and his staff members came to the state to attend the national executive conference last week at French Lick.

COURT'S ACTION SPUR TO STATE MILK DIRECTORS

Price Emergency Declared in Columbus Area, Fixing Prices.

Declaration of a seventh milk price emergency was the result today of an Indiana Supreme Court decision which held virtually all phases of the Indiana milk control law constitutional.

The State Milk Control Board ordered an emergency, effective immediately, in Columbus and in the Bartholomew County area within a three-mile radius of the county seat. Emergency price schedules were fixed for all classes of milk.

Constitutionality of the milk control law was upheld in an opinion yesterday by Judge James P. Hughes, Greencastle, in which he held the milk control law was not an abuse of police power and was an action by the General Assembly in the interest of the public welfare.

Control of the milk industry, Judge Hughes held, bears a direct relationship to public health and comes within the General Assembly's right to act for the general good.

St. Joseph Court Upheld

The high court opinion upheld a judgment of St. Joseph County Superior Court against two dairymen, Frank Albert and Delbert Schafer, who refused to come under the State Milk Board's jurisdiction, attacking constitutionality of the law.

The defendants contended the law is confiscatory because, they alleged, without due process of law it deprives the persons whom it seeks to regulate of the right of trial by jury, and is a violation of the state's police power.

C. W. Humrickhouse, milk board secretary, forecast the Supreme Court decision would result in dropping of similar suits now on file in Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, New Albany, Evansville, Mount Vernon, Franklin, Richmond and Lebanon.
