Easter Parade Leads to Perry Stadium for Many

BY BEATRICE BURGAN
Society Editor

THE Easter parade yesterday ended for many at Perry Stadium, where the Indianapolis Indians opened the baseball season. Brightly colored new hats and corsages spelled spring even though the breeze whipped through thin suits and coats.

Sun filtering through the boxes late in the game was welcomed. Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Beveridge Jr., fervent baseball fans, were there. Mrs. Beveridge's tan straw hat had its very shallow crown banded and bowed in navy blue, matching her suit. The suit sleeves were full. She wore tan gloves.

Miss Berenice Brennan and Miss Eileen Rocap, both St. Mary-of-the-Woods College students on vacation, attended the game with Miss Brennan's mother and Miss Rocap's aunt, Mrs. William A. Brennan. Miss Brennan brightened her black ensemble by topping it with a yellow camel hair polo coat. Miss Rocap's felt hat and scarf were yellow.

Miss Rocap's brother, John T. Rocap, and Miss Patricia Rocap were in the same box party.

Mr. and Mrs. John Joss, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowen and Ewing Sinclair also spent the afternoon at the game. Mrs. William C. Griffith, sister of Norman Perry, baseball club owner, was on hand with one of her sons.

Young John Kern came with his father, Mayor Kern, and went home the happy owner of the ball which his father pitched to Wade Killefer, manager, as the opening gesture.

Lambs' Club members danced Saturday night at the Columbia Club. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stokely were on the committee. Yesterday they gave a housewarming tea at their new home in Golden Hill.

Mrs. Stokely's evening dress was of blue silk lace, a flare around the skirt following the style of the flounced cape.

Cream colored point d'esprit fluffed over Mrs. Harold Taylor's blue satin slip, and blue velvet petals were massed to form a belt. In front for a gay bit of contrast were wine colored flowers.

Miss Hope Pfaffen, at the dance with her fiance, William Lochhead, San Antonio, Tex., wore a tan-shaded satin flowered gown, with flecks of green.

Others danced the evening away at the Indianapolis Athletic Club's annual Tulip Time ball. The foyer leading to the ballroom was turned into a garden with rambling rose plants, tulips and a rustic fence providing the outdoor effect. In one corner of the Palm room was a fountain with water splashing into the pool where goldfish swam. Many shaded flowers bloomed around the stones edging the pool.

Misses Barbara Frazee, Mary Alice Shively and Martha Morrison, Robert Wooling, Dudley Jordan and Jack Elliott were dressed in Dutch costumes and distributed Easter ducks and tulips to women guests.

One corner of the ballroom was marked off by a windmill with caged windows. Its window boxes were filled with tulips.

Conrad Ruckelshaus, entertainment chairman, and Mrs. Ruckelshaus entertained Miss Mathilde Hooper and Miss Isabelle Wagner, both of Baltimore, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fortune Jr. The Ruckelshaus party met informally at their home in Golden Hill before coming to the club. Their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fortune, Samuel Reid Sutphin, Thomas Ruckelshaus and Burford Danner.

Mrs. Thomas R. Kackley's pink taffeta gown had sleeves puffed to the elbows, with blue flowers across the square neckline. Fullness swishing out in back was pleated.

Mrs. E. E. Whitehill's gray satin gown had a pleated flare around the edge of the skirt and pleated ruffles circled the bodice.

Miss Ruth Courtney, home during St. Mary's spring vacation, danced in a flowered satin gown, with red and blue roses marking off the neckline.

Parents beamed over their sons and daughters Saturday night as the juniors danced in Mrs. William Byram Gates' annual spring recital. Relatives and young men and women who have outgrown the dancing class crowded the Atheneum auditorium while the entertainers waltzed, tapped and fox-trotted through intricate steps.

Miss Harriet Patterson was among the subdebs who entertained with a dinner party before the recital. Crisp white embroidered organza frilled around the bodice of her black taffeta frock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruckelshaus, Woodstock Club entertainment chairman, greeted members who attended the club tea yesterday. With Mrs. Russell Fortune Sr., house committee chairman; Fisk Landers, president, and Mrs. Landers they presided at the club's social season opening.

WEDDING HELD IN NEW AUGUSTA

The Rev. T. R. White officiated at the marriage of Miss Dorothy Jane Bryan and Lionel N. Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel T. Sweet, in a ceremony yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Bryan, New Augusta.

Attendants were Mrs. Glenn L. Wiese, the bride's sister, and Dorwin Sweet, the bridegroom's brother.

The couple is to live at 3605 Boulevard.

Complete Plans for Forest Hills Garden Club's Entry at Forthcoming Indianapolis Home Show

Miss Dorothy Helmer is to report on plans for the new Butler University chapter house. Mrs. Melvin E. Robbins has been appointed Butler chapter delegate to the national convention, at Lake Placid, N. Y., June 22 to 25.

Mrs. Edward P. Fillion, 5226 Cen-ter-av., was hostess at a luncheon for the group Saturday. Committee members included Mesdames Alfred H. Guyot, Robert Zaiser, Bon O. Aspey and Karl Harday.

EDUCATOR TO BE BANQUET TALKER

Dr. William Gear Spencer, Franklin College president, is to speak at 7 Thursday night at the annual banquet for the national society of Daughters of the Union at the Columbia Club. The group opened its convention here yesterday.

This year when allotted the moonlight garden, members got busy with the combined enthusiasm of artists who love color and workmen who enjoy digging in the earth and transplanting plants.

A moonlight garden derives its name from the colors used which are the shades which can be seen at night, committee members explained. Clumps of yellow, white and lavender tulips are to be used, and three shades of yellow narcissus will carry out the effect.

The same colors in varying shades are to appear in the shrub beds, where white lilacs, forsythia and flowering almonds will be seen. Stepping stones will lead past a kidney-shaped pool to a curved stone bench. A "moon" spotlight will reveal three white birches at the rear of the bench, and the background of the entire garden is to be formed by heavy evergreens.

Club officers are Mrs. Joe G. McFarland, president; Mrs. Ben F. Orr, vice president, and Mrs. John Downing, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Downing are on the committee with Mrs. Young.

PI PHI ALUMNAE NAME OFFICERS

Miss Marian Darr is the new president of Indianapolis Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club, which is to sponsor an annual state luncheon and April 25 in the Columbia Club.

Other new officers elected Saturday at a luncheon meeting at Mrs. Frederick Gallagher's home are Mrs. Ralph Gery, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Felt, recording secretary; Miss Katherine Book, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. C. Lewis, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Abbott, Panhandle representative, and Miss Ella Sengenberger, publicity.

COUPLE IN EAST ON BRIDAL TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith Bates today were on a wedding trip East following their marriage Saturday in Irvington Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Bates formerly was Miss Eugenia Fitts, daughter of Mrs. Nan Fitts and Thomas Fitts Sr. The Rev. John B. Ferguson officiated.

The bride wore a beige suit with an eggshell satin blouse and a corsage of gardenias, violets and lilies of the valley.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Bates are to be at home at 5340 N. Meridian-st.

It's hard to cheer when you lose - except when you win!

Camp Fire Dinner Is Tomorrow

"Camping" to Be Theme of Annual Banquet Program.

The Indianapolis Council of Camp Fire Girls is to give its annual dinner at 6:30 tomorrow night at the Central Avenue Methodist Church. Mrs. Frank Burns is dinner arrangements chairman.

Mrs. K. B. Mayhall, decorations chairman, has arranged to have miniature camp scenes as centerpieces on the tables. These are to portray Camp Fire activities, including hiking, swimming, tennis, archery and a garden party.

Mrs. Ralph Stratman, program chairman, has announced the dinner theme as "Camping," in recognition of the new camp site 10 miles north of Indianapolis, which the organization is to use beginning June 21.

New Camp Being Built

The camp is being remodeled with new colonial cabins, each to accommodate seven campers and a counselor, a new dining hall and kitchen. The camp was made possible through a donation by Arthur Baxter.

Miss Martha Burns, harpist, and a member of the Neta Camp Fire group, Shortridge High School, is to play during the dinner and on the after-dinner program.

Miss Dorisann Johnson, Technical High School Tanda group member, is to talk on "Camp Fire as a Girl Sees It." She is a member of the writing team in the state debating contest held last week.

Other program features are to be the Camp Fire songs by the concert club and a group of songs by the Bluebirds, junior Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Burns is to introduce the committee chairman and A. E. Baker, council president, is to preside at the program.

MY DAY

By Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Sunday—Such a house full of young people as we have, but it is very pleasant. My daughter and son-in-law, my niece and nephew, Eleanor and Daniel Roosevelt, went off and rode most of Saturday morning. I only had an hour, so I had to ride alone and get home in time to see Miss Helen Alfred, who wanted to talk over some housing problems.

Gov. Winant of the Social Security Board and Col. Westbrook of the Works Progress Administration came to lunch. In the afternoon we were visited by the seniors and juniors of the Tivoli and Staatsburgh (N. Y.) high schools. Tivoli is the village near where I lived all of my girlhood on my grandmother's place and Staatsburgh is just five miles from Hyde Park, so these fifty-odd young people had a special claim on my hospitality.

After that, the national heads of the various women's auxiliaries belonging to the American Federation of Labor came in to tea and we had a little chat about some of their interests. Finally a swim with the young people and then dinner to which came Mrs. Greenway and her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Braisted.

This morning Mrs. Scheider and I got up and for the fourth time attended the sunrise service which takes place at 7:30 a. m. in Arlington. It is held by the Knights Templar, and at the close of the service in the amphitheater they placed a beautiful cross of lilies on the tomb of the unknown soldier.

By 9 o'clock I was home again for breakfast with the family and at 10:45 we all went to the Easter service at St. Thomas' church, after which my husband and I stopped off to see Col. Howe at the hospital.

By 3 o'clock the rain, which actually had begun to fall about 10 a. m., stopped and the sun tried its best to struggle through. April showers are good for growing things I know, but I am wondering how well the White House grounds are going to stand the thousands of people tomorrow.

Harriet E. O'Shea is to speak on "The Mental Hygiene Values of Everyday Life" at the closing meeting of the Woman's Department Club community welfare division Wednesday. Dr. O'Shea is personal director for women and is associate professor of educational psychology in Purdue University.

Other guests are to be Dr. Hazel Hansford Stevens, Family Welfare Society psychologist; Miss Laura Greely, Indiana Department of Public Welfare chief clerk; Mrs. E. C. Rumpf, Indiana Society for Mental Hygiene vice president, and Dr. Ada E. Schweitzer WPA adult education department.

Music is to be provided by the City Hospital student nurses orchestra, directed by Charles Geyer.

Mrs. Robert Shingle is luncheon chairman and is assisted by Mrs. E. A. Carson. Reservations are in charge of Mesdames Walter C. Stork, George A. Bowen and Frank K. Kimberlin.

Mrs. Charles H. Smith is to preside at the business session following the program, reports are to be given by the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. Horace G. Casady, courtesy; Mrs. Frank K. Kimberlin, door; Mrs. Myron Jay Spring, hospitality; Mrs. Shingle, luncheon; Mrs. Philip A. Keller, publicity; Mrs. Stork, telephone; Mrs. W. D. Hamer, tours; Mrs. Thomas Spencer, American Red Cross; Mrs. Merritt E. Woolf, city hospital; Miss Janet P. Shaw, co-operative League for Hard of Hearing; Mrs. Othniel Hitch, education program for Woman's Prison; Mrs. W. A. Eshbacher, legislative; Mrs. John F. Engelke, municipal affairs; Mrs. A. C. Rasmussen, Auxiliary to the Public Health Nursing Association; Mrs. Charles B. Crist, hand crafts for the blind; Mrs. George A. Van Dyke, smoke abatement, and Mrs. William Dobson, welfare.

Mrs. Rasmussen is to be hostess for the Public Health Nursing Auxiliary luncheon tomorrow.

Annual luncheon of the Monday Guild, community welfare department section, was held today. Mrs. John R. Orr reviewed "North to the Orient" by Ann Morrow Lindbergh.

The last dinner-bridge to be held for Columbia Club member is to be Saturday, April 25. The women's luncheon bridge is to be May 5.

The club's weekly dinner and supper dancing program is to continue through May. The social program is to close with Memorial Day activities, including the annual Sweepstakes ball.

Members are to present a float show during dinner.

Park T. Hiser, Milton, is spending a few weeks with his brother, W. S. Hiser, 35 E. 33d-st. Mrs. W. S. Hiser is in New York, visiting her son, Walter Hiser.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Meissner, Edward J. Baxter and Earl G. Baxter, all of Toledo, are spending a few days at the Seaview. The Baxters formerly lived in Indianapolis.

He reasoned that the safest place to find that needed trick was in clubs. All he hoped was that the club members would be split.

So, at this point, the jack of clubs was played. When East covered with the queen, dummy's king was played and West won the trick with the ace.

West returned a heart. East ran off three heart tricks and then, regardless of what he returned, declarer had the rest of the tricks.

This is a good example of the importance of counting your tricks before starting on the play of the hand.
