

ROOSEVELT AGE LIMIT PROPOSAL BAD, CLUB TOLD

Those Above 65, Below 18
Would Be Wards of U. S.,
Writer Says.

President Roosevelt's proposal to retire persons under 18 and over 65 will become wards of the government," he said.

"What is the use for scientists to work to prolong man's life when the government kills his usefulness at 65? When you prohibit boys under 18 from working you prevent him from learning a trade until he is 25.

"Skilled Labor Is Problem"

"One of the problems of our country today is the lack of skilled labor. By the time a boy is allowed to work at 18, it will take him seven more years to learn his trade."

He pointed out that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. had named Frederick Delano, a cousin of the President and a man over 70, as the head of a Federal Reserve Bank. "Mr. Delano is an intelligent, useful man. Why not retire him?" Mr. Sokolsky asked.

"Dr. Townsend is over 65 and now the politicians will probably work to steal his organization."

Speaks of War Threat

Referring to the border clashes between Russian and Japanese troops, Mr. Sokolsky said that contrary to popular opinion Japan does not want to fight and in all probabilities there will be no war.

He said that Soviet Russia is in reality a state capitalism form of government and declared that if unscrupulous leaders obtained control of the government the Soviet would become Fascist.

"State capitalism is very near Fascism," he said.

FORT HARRISON TO BE INSPECTED APRIL 22

Maj. Gen. William E. Cole Expects to Make Check.

Maj. Gen. William E. Cole, commanding officer of the Fifth Corps Area, expects to make an administrative inspection of Fort Benjamin Harrison April 22, according to word received by Brig. Gen. W. K. Naylor, fort commander. The inspection is to include Schoen Field.

First Lieutenants John S. Stanley, Indianapolis, and Earl M. Schellhouse, Fort Wayne, medical reserve officers, have been ordered to six months active duty with the CCC and now are at Fort Knox.

GUEST CONDUCTOR

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 14.—W. F. Ludwig (above), Chicago, former member of the Metropolitan Opera Co.'s symphony orchestra, is to be one of four guest conductors at the Hoosier Music Festival Thursday through Saturday at Indiana University. He is to officiate at the pageant of marching bands Thursday night in the university stadium. Approximately 3000 high school musicians are expected to participate in the festival.

JENCKES FIGHTS COSMETICS TAX

Calls Toilet Goods Essential to Modern Woman, Not Luxury.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Toilet goods are essential to women today and should not be subjected to "luxury taxes," Rep. Virginia E. Jenckes (D., Ind.) says in an interview in the current issue of Drug World.

Mrs. Jenckes termed further taxation of toilet goods as "discriminatory taxation of American womanhood."

"Such cosmetics as face creams and powders, lipstick and rouge, dentifrices, soaps, shampoos and hair preparations, have become as essential to housewives and working girls as hats, shoes and other articles of wearing apparel," Mrs. Jenckes said.

"They should not be included under the heading of luxuries and subjected to exorbitant taxation. They are absolute necessities because our high standards of living make clean and well-groomed appearance imperative to women's self-preservation in this highly competitive modern world."

3 STATE PARLEY DRAWS DOCTORS TO FORT WAYNE

Leading Physicians to Read
Variety of Papers at 63d Session.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 14.—Nearly 200 physicians and surgeons representing Indiana, Michigan and Ohio were in Fort Wayne this morning to attend the sixty-third annual convention of the Tri-State Medical Association opening today.

Eleven papers, discussing subjects ranging from advice to newlyweds to surgery of the heart, will be presented by men of prominence both from within the organization and from other associations.

At a business meeting this afternoon officers are to be elected and the site for next year's convention chosen. Dr. Edward P. Gillette of Toledo, president, announced last night that invitations have been received from Detroit, Battle Creek, Lansing and Toledo. The convention must meet in Michigan next year.

Members of the nominating committee are Dr. Edwin B. Bedlow of Lima, O., chairman; Dr. George Larson of La Porte, Ind., and Dr. G. H. Randall of Flint, Mich. All are former presidents.

The first paper this morning will be presented by Dr. Max M. Peet, University of Michigan.
