Six Foreign Workers, Here in Observance of 100 Years of Methodist Work in Southern Hemisphere, to Lead Crawfordsville Meeting

Buenos Aires Bishop Heads Program Arranged for Thursday.

Six church leaders, constituting a "Mission of Fellowship From South America" in celebration of 100 years of Methodist missionary work on that continent, are to speak Thursday at the First Methodist Church, Crawfordsville, of which the Rev. P. L. Benedict is pastor.

This meeting is one of a series arranged by Dr. H. P. Ivey of Crawfordsville, superintendent of the Crawfordsville district of the Northwest Indiana Annual Conference.

The visiting delegation consists of Bishop and Mrs. Juan E. Gattinoni of Buenos Aires, Argentina; Bishop and Mrs. George A. Miller of Santiago, Chile; Dr. George P. Howard, evangelist to all South America, and the Rev. Daniel E. Hall of Montevideo, Uruguay.

Supper to Be Served

The conference is to open at 2 Thursday afternoon, with a round table discussion, led by Bishop Miller, for pastors of the district. Dr. Ivey is to preside. At the same hour members of women's foreign missionary societies and women's Sunday school classes of the district are to be addressed by Mrs. Miller and Bishop and Mrs. Gattinoni.

Following a supper at 5:30 there is to be a general meeting at 7:30, with Bishop Miller and Dr. Hall as speakers.

They are to speak on related topics before special groups, with opportunities for questions and discussions.

Mrs. Gattinoni is of English birth, and was educated in South America. For many years she acted as president and is now honorary president of the Methodist Federation of Women in Argentina.

A quarter century of missionary work to Spanish speaking people has been the contribution of Bishop Miller. He has served in the Philippines, Mexico, Central America and as resident bishop of the Santiago (Chile) area. Mrs. Miller is the author of a book, "Women Under the Southern Cross." Speaker on a continent-wide circuit, Dr. Howard is evangelist to the student youth and educated classes of South America. Mr. Hall is pastor of the Central Church (Spanish) in Montevideo. He has translated many religious books into Spanish and has been pastor in Buenos Aires, Concordia and Cordoba before his present appointment.

Life's Worst Fears Are Not Realized, According to Sermon.

BY THE REV. WILLIAM H. LEE SPRATT
(Pastor, Victory Memorial Methodist Protestant Church)

Deut. 32:25, "As the days so shall thy strength be."

What a vital and living message for today. Strength for the day—not as our life, years, months, or even weeks—but "As our days so shall our strength be." Not for tomorrow, but for today. We are to live and labor our best, one day at a time, and the blessing of Divine strength is assured.

Let us live one day at a time! Half the troubles of life's highway are never reached, and our worst fears are not realized. Oh, the bridges we build in our minds that never materialize and which we never have to cross! God has promised us strength for the day, and He will keep His word to those who are resigned to His will and purpose. He is the unchanging amid the ever-changing. He is "the same yesterday, today and forever."

Therefore, let us step out into life, assured that the future is only one day at a time, and that each present day is to be lived in the power of this glorious promise—"As thy days so shall thy strength be."

It is equally true that "as our strength so shall our day be"; that is, our service should be rendered according to the God-given strength, capacity and ability for the day. The blessings of yesterday are not sufficient for today. Yesterday's measure of service is not sufficient if today's strength is greater. The measure of our strength is to be the measure of our service. So let us pray with the inspired poet: "Lord, for tomorrow and for today I do not pray; 'So make me strong in word and deed, just for today."

Quotes Livingstone

If we are tempted to dread the future, let us not forget that with recurring day our promise holds good. As David Livingstone once wrote, "Leave tomorrow's troubles for tomorrow's strength; tomorrow's work for tomorrow's time; tomorrow's trial for tomorrow's grace—and tomorrow's God."

Jesus said: "Take no thought for tomorrow." However, forethought is not foreboding. Forethought dignifies the days, but foreboding dreads it. Let us remember that He has promised us "never leave you nor forsake you," and again "My grace is sufficient

Lutheran Radio Hour Speaker Will Talk at St. Paul's April 26

Dr. Walter A. Maier, St. Louis, to Address Rally; Local Federation to Participate in Service.

In response to popular request, Dr. Walter A. Maier of St. Louis, nationally known through his Lutheran Hour radio addresses, is to speak Sunday night, April 26, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, S. New Jersey, and McCarty-sts. The occasion is to be a Lutheran Hour rally, with members of the Indianapolis Federation of Evangelical Lutheran Churches participating.

For thee, and my strength is made perfect in your weakness."

"Moment by moment I'm kept in His love."

"Moment by moment I've lived from His love."

"Moment by moment I'll glory doth shine."

"Moment by moment, O God, I am thine."

One Step at a Time

Finally, when we look into the context of this wonderful promise we find that we are only to take one step at a time each day.

"Thy shoes shall be iron and brass and as thy days so shall thy strength be."

Shoes speak of steps, and the whole verse suggests steps according to strength. The psalmist says, "The steps of a good man are ordered of the Lord." One step at a time one moment and movement at a time. In any trying circumstance or dark and difficult days that may come, the Divine promise is sufficient. The supply of strength will suffice. Whatever the way may include, it also will include God and His All-sufficiency. As the Apostle Paul once said, "Our Sufficiency is of God."

"Look from all to Jesus. 'Then you need not fear; 'Though the way perplex you 'All to Him is clear."

"Cast your present burden, 'Leave your future, too, 'Moment—just by moment 'He will bring you through."
