

INDIANA'S 1935 INSURANCE LAW HELD AS MODEL

State Code Lauded at Breakfast Opening Week's Observance.

Indianapolis observance of Life Insurance Week opened this morning with a breakfast for life underwriters and their guests in the Claypool.

Principal speakers were O. Sam Cummings, Dallas, Tex., National Association of Life Underwriters secretary; Harry E. McClain, state insurance commissioner, and H. E. Nyhart, general chairman of the Indianapolis program.

Every life insurance policy holder should support government officials pledged to resist inflationary agitation," Mr. Cummings said.

Continue Conservative Policy

"Today, with recovery under way, quick profits from investments might be seized by life insurance companies if they were inclined to be opportunists. However, the same philosophy of trusteeship that carried them through the depression is able to continue to disregard the lure of easy money."

The Indiana life insurance code enacted in 1935 has become a model of protection, and 10 states are preparing to draft similar laws, Mr. McClain said.

"Insurance touches the welfare of every person in Indiana," he declared. "Insurance has much to do with the future prosperity of our citizens, and it is essential that laws governing insurance operations should afford the public every protection."

Questions Are Welcomed

"The people of Indiana in 1935 paid or invested more than $122,000,000 in premiums for all types of insurance protection."

The purpose of the observance is educational, Mr. Nyhart said.

"We wish to encourage policy holders and others interested to obtain benefits of this week by asking questions and obtaining help from professional experience in the life underwriters," the chairman said.

Radio Programs Arranged

The observance is to continue through Saturday with daily radio addresses, talks at civic clubs and a window display contest. The program is sponsored by the Indianapolis chapter of Chartered Life Underwriters, Indianapolis General Agents and Managers' Association and the Indianapolis Association of Life Underwriters.

Mansur B. Oakes is advisory committee chairman, Edward A. Kreuger, vice general chairman in charge of publicity; William H. Meub, vice general chairman for arrangements, and James L. Rainey, ex-officio member of the general committee. Mr. Rainey presided at the breakfast.

Gov. McNutt has issued a proclamation on Life Insurance Week.

Clubs to Hear Speakers

Guests at the breakfast were Robert E. Sweeney, Herbert M. Woolen, Edward B. Raub, G. L. Stayman, George A. Bangs, James M. Drake and Harry G. Leslie, all presidents of life insurance companies having home offices here.

Insurance speakers are to address the following clubs this week:

Kiwanis, Optimist, Service, Gyro, Reserve Officers, Indiana University, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Universal, Exchange, Mercator, Knights of Columbus, Real Estate Board, National Association of Women's Clubs, Women's Department Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Zonta and Women's Rotary.

DEPORTATION BILL IS SUPPORTED BY KEENAN

Would Provide G-Men With Powerful Weapon, He Says.

By Scripps-Hoover Newspaper Alliance WASHINGTON, May 11. — The Kerr-Coolidge deportation bill would provide G-Men with a powerful weapon against gangland, Joseph B. Keenan, assistant to the Attorney General, declared today.

The bill would add gun-toters to the classes of alien criminal who can be deported. The Labor Department says at least 1801 who have been convicted of this offense in the last five years can be deported immediately if the bill becomes law.

"Promiscuous gun-toting accounts for the fact that the large cities in the United States have a homicide rate 10 times larger than British cities," Mr. Keenan said. "I have every respect for our law-abiding aliens, but our studies show that firearms violations are most prevalent among the foreign-born."

Dr. A. R. Killian, American Legion state commander, yesterday urged Indiana veterans to hold the $50,000,000 in bonus bonds to be distributed beginning June 15 as an investment. Dr. Killian's talk concluded a two-day spring conference held here.

If a thing does not SATISFY it costs too much

On the other hand...

if it DOES satisfy it is worth all it costs...and more

That's how it is with Chesterfields...they are made to satisfy.

Chesterfields are different from other cigarettes in that they have not only different kinds of tobacco, but the paper from the Champagne Paper Mills in France is different...the tobacco from Turkey is different...the way the cigarette is made is different.

Chesterfields are made to satisfy... that's their business; that's their reputation... they live up to it.
