Tech Among Favorites in 6-Team Meet

Local High School to Bank on Strong Hurlers in Event Tomorrow.

Five North Central Conference teams and Pendleton are to engage in a high school baseball tournament here tomorrow, with Tech of this city one of the prime favorites. Tech meets Muncie tomorrow morning at 9:30 on the local school's diamond, with the winner to oppose Jeff of Lafayette on the same lot at 11:30.

Anderson and Pendleton are to clash at Brookside No. 1 at 9:30, the survivor taking on Newcastle at 11:30. Winners of the 11:30 contests then meet on the Tech diamond for the championship at 3 in the afternoon.

The local East Side nine has combined highly effective pitching with heavy hitting to capture eight of nine games, losing only to Richmond.

Coach Dagwell is expected to start Don Ingmire on the mound in the first game tomorrow, and, in case of successive victories, Marvin Reno in the second tilt and Ralph Shearer in the final.

Ingmire won his only start this season, yielding one hit. Reno has a record of four victories, including three two-hit games, against no defeats. Shearer has won three tilts while losing one. All three triumphs were gained on two-hit pitching.

It is the third time during the pre-race preparations that he has been thwarted in his plans. In an early test he cracked a cylinder block, and last week in an attempt to qualify the car, it became overheated after four laps. Yesterday an oil heater became too hot and melted, dropping sand into the oil tank.

Meyer will have his charger ready for qualifications this week-end, but the delay will shorten the tests he had planned.

With the large pot of gold to lure the contenders and 17 places still unfilled in the starting lineup, all the unqualified cars are striving to get on the track this week-end. Acceleration and speed tests are to be held from 1 to 7 tomorrow and Sunday. The A. A. A. contest board has not decided what extension of time will be granted after those days.

The first ten places are the goal of the speedsters. Those coming into the money will receive Speedway cash prizes in the order:

First prize	$20,000
Second prize	10,000
Third prize	5,000
Fourth prize	3,500
Fifth prize	3,000
Sixth prize	2,200

Tenth prize	1,400

The graduated scale of the pay checks shows how much difference a few seconds mean in the final awards.

LOU MOORE came out of secret to practice yesterday and hauled one of his Ford Fiston Ring Specials into Gasoline Alley. It is the four-cylinder Offenhauser-powered car which he drove last year. Fred Faxon, winner in 1932, will take the wheel for him this year. Moore's other Ford is still in a downtown garage and will arrive on the scene today. Both will appear at the starting line tomorrow or Sunday.

THE Sullivan-O'Brien Special, owned by Shorty Cantlon is to be driven by another pilot for the first time this year. In five starts, Shorty has finished second twice, sixth and twelfth once each. Johnny Seymour, veteran of motorcycle and dirt track events as well as Speedway races, will handle it for Cantlon. Shorty has rebuilt the Hamilton-Harris Special which was wrecked in the late Al Gordon's fatal crash at Ascot. It is now as good as new.

AMONG those who are ready for qualifications tomorrow are Seymour, Ray Pixley, Luther Johnson, Chet Gardner, Al Miller, Mauri Rose, Hank Banks, Frank Brisk and Emil Andres.

Deacon Litz is ready after using too much gas in his first attempt. Overton Snell's Special and the two entries of Joe Thorne will be on the track. Expected to make a trial not later than Sunday are Harry McQuinn, Red Shafer, Zeke Meyers and Roy Painter.
