THOMAS TO CONDUCT VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

Executive Committee Meets to Map Strategy.

CLEVELAND, May 27.—The Socialist national executive committee, named at the close of the party's four-day convention last night, met today to draft plans for Norman Thomas' third presidential campaign. The committee indicated Mr. Thomas would stage a vigorous fight for election, based on a platform of calling for public ownership of the nation's key industries and broad congressional control over industry and agriculture.

The party proposes to carry out its platform by working for adoption of the farmers and workers rights amendment to the United States Constitution, now before Congress.

CONSUMERS ON RURAL LINE GET FIRST CURRENT

43 Farm Homes Served in Boone County; 60 Miles of Wire Strung.

M. J. Bridges, general manager of the Indiana Rural Electric Membership Corp., announced today the energizing of 60 of the first 160 miles of wiring completed in Boone County in the Lebanon and Thorn-ton areas.

"In the first 60 miles of wiring we have 43 homes connected and probably 150 more farm homes ready for connecting," he said. "Wiring of homes has advanced so that within the next two weeks approximately 200 homes of farmers will have electricity," he added.

The Boone County electrification project is one of the first to be completed in the United States under REMC and is the first rural electrification project actually to reach the consumers under the Federal Rural Electrification Administration.

William C. Richart, chief engineer of the Indiana REMC, estimated that 100 miles more of wiring would be completed by the middle of July with an estimated total of 600 homes served in the Boone County farm district by that time.

"And there's even one washing machine going in on the first 43 homes energized," said one of the REMC engineers.

The home is that of Mrs. Clark Woody on State Road 32, west of Lebanon.

Mr. Richart said some barns also had been wired but that the wiring in them has not been completed. Lebanon is reported to be experiencing a miniature boom in the demand for such electrical appliances as radios, electric irons, toasters, washing machines and similar articles.

Got Loan of $567,926
The Boone County project, when complete, according to Mr. Briggs, will embrace 587 miles of line. The project was allocated $567,926 for the construction of the lines. Loans, obtained from the Federal government, are to be repaid out of earnings of the co-operative venture.

"The rural people in Indiana, who have never been served by electric power, are so eager to co-operate to receive the benefit that interesting evidences of their willingness often appear," Mr. Briggs said.

Lend Neighbor a Hand

"In one instance, the neighbors of a farmer who felt he could not afford to wire his home, went together and paid for the work and installation in order to have him as a member and have their neighborhood reached with electricity."

Mr. Briggs said the Public Service Commission had approved orders for REMC corporations in Wabash, Huntington, and Rush Counties, and the approval will mean loans by the REA of more than a million dollars for approximately 1240 miles of rural lines in the three counties.

Applications for loans also are sought by the following counties: Johnson, Marshall, Henry, Hendricks, Hancock, Carroll and Fulton.
