

PREPARE CONVENTION RADIO COVERAGE

Broadcasters Plan Elaborate Pick-Up System at Cleveland; Bay to Feature Transcriptions

Political Experts to Man Microphones During Sessions.

BY RALPH NORMAN

With the winter program season, the Indianapolis race and other highlights of sports and the Queen Mary's maiden voyage behind them, broadcasters now will turn thoughts to summer's most important event, the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Already extensive plans have been announced by the networks for airing the most comprehensive picture of the sessions ever to be broadcast, and large staffs of announcers and commentators are being assembled to cover the affair.

A CBS announcement says 68 microphones and more than seven miles of wire will be used at the Republican convention, beginning June 9, the most ever utilized at any one event. NBC will use 10 microphones suspended from the ceiling to pick up delegates' speeches and the new micro-wave transmitters will be used by announcers as they walk among delegates for interviews. They also will be used in hotel lobbies, streets and wherever people gather.

The NBC staff at both conventions is to include Graham McNamee and Charles Lyons, veteran announcers, Dorothy Thompson, Walter Lippmann and William Hard, political analysts and commentators. For CBS listeners, Announcer Bob Trout is to be at the microphones much of the time, assisted by H. V. Kaltenborn, Mabelle Jennings and Paul Mallon, political experts. Additional names are to be added to both staffs before the first convention broadcast June 9 from Cleveland.

It is radio, not movies, which will bring together for the first time two of Hollywood's biggest names, Clark Gable and Marlene Dietrich. The two cinema players are to co-star in Radio Theater's first production from the west coast which is to be aired by CBS (WPBM) at 7 tonight. Producer Cecil B. DeMille has chosen for the Gable-Dietrich vehicle a radio version of the movie, "Morocco," which he calls "The Legionnaire and the Lady."

The death of Frank Fay's father in Brentwood Heights, Cal., may delay the comedian's return to New York, which had been scheduled for his program Friday night. The elder Fay guided his son's career since Frank went on the stage many years ago, and he particularly was proud of his son's radio success.

Commencement season for NBC will begin at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon on WPBF when President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University delivers the principal address at the annual commencement day luncheon of Columbia University. Numerous other commencement broadcasts will be made by NBC this week and next.

To the staffs of WIRE and WPBF our congratulations for excellent Speedway race broadcasts which made the event interesting. We feel sure, to many who were not at the track Saturday. Never before have broadcasters been permitted to show their ability as they were Saturday. The Speedway management will be repaid for its courtesy by increased public interest in the speed classic.

Five women, outstanding in five different fields, and an eminent physician who will remain anonymous, are to participate in a new CBS (WPBF) daily program inaugurated at 10 this morning. Called "You and Your Happiness," the series was planned to be of interest to women. The speakers are to include Alice Hughes, fashion editor, Tuesday; Mrs. Cora Field, housewife, Wednesday; the physician, Thursday; the Grand Duchess Marie, Friday; Ethel Cotton, authority on conversation, Saturday, and Lillian Lauryer, beauty expert, Monday.

LABOR CANCELS OPPOSITION TO BIDDER ON P. O.

Contract Is Signed With County Trades Council, Ludlow Reports.

Times Special

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Organized labor in Marion County has withdrawn objections to the Henry Dattner Construction Co., Detroit, low bidder on the Indianapolis post-office addition, Rep. Louis Ludlow announced today.

He quoted a telegram received from the Marion County Building Trades Council saying: "Henry Dattner Construction Co., Detroit, has signed an agreement with the Marion County Building Trades Council. Please consider him as fair to union labor."

Mr. Ludlow and Senator Frederick VanNus had received many telegrams of protest from labor leaders against the concern. These were turned over to the Treasury Procurement division, which has charge of postoffice building contracts.

With the passage of the deficiency appropriations bill bringing total funds for the Indianapolis addition to $1,880,000 the contract likely will go to the Detroit contractor, it was said.

MANHUNT ENDS WHEN FUGITIVE KILLS SELF

Louisiana Slayer of Prison Captain, Wife Surrounded by Posse.

By United Press

ANGOLA, La., June 1.—The greatest manhunt in Louisiana in recent years was over today with the suicide of Wilfred Lindsey, 23-year-old escaped convict, as a posse closed in to kill or capture him for the slaying of a prison guard captain and his wife six days ago.

Lindsey shot himself through the chest with a revolver after a futile effort to stand off the posse.

The youthful criminal, serving a life term for slaying a rival suitor, was a model prisoner at the prison farm here until last Wednesday when he slashed the throat of Mrs. Cecile Himmel, wife of the prison captain, because she repulsed his advances. He later shot and killed her husband, Nelson J. Himmel, and escaped.

GASETERIA OUSTS EXPENSES AND LOWERS GAS COST

By cutting to a minimum the overhead, handling and hauling costs that must be absorbed in gasoline prices, the GASETERIA STATIONS at 1801 Madison Ave., 1702 W. Washington St., 1079 E. 10th St., 700 N. White River Fwy., 320 W. Michigan St., 1009 E. New York St., 726 N. Delaware St., 802 W. Oliver Ave. and 69 N. West St. have succeeded in bringing the price of both gasoline and motor oil to thirteenth levels. These low costs have been achieved without sacrificing either quality or service. By reducing needless expense gasoline and motor oil of first-grade quality can be sold at appreciable savings. Five per cent to 50 per cent is the range of saving made possible by patronizing these popular stations.

The slogan, "You Can Save With Safety at Gaseteria," is a fact when remembering when you are ready to fill up your tank for your week-end trip. Thousands of local motorists are making this a thrifty-habit that is paying handsome rewards in excellent motor performance and SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS.

Remember the address of these Indianapolis GASETERIA, INC. stations.—Advertisement.
