

C. F. ROBERTS' RITES ARE SET FOR TOMORROW

Prominent in City Music Circles 35 Years, Noted as Composer.

Services are to be held at 1:30 tomorrow at the Shirley Brothers Central Chapel for Charles Francis Roberts, noted composer, Indianapolis musical circles more than 35 years. He died Saturday. Burial is to be held in Knightstown, his birthplace. He was 58.

Mr. Roberts, composer of operas, musical production lyrics and popular songs, first gained prominence when he played the first organ installed at a local theater, the Orpheum, located in the building now occupied by Stewart's, Inc.

"Indianapolis, My Home Town," a song composed jointly with Henry K. Burton, local producer, was published in 1921, receiving much popularity. A Cincinnati firm purchased the rights to the song which was used as the theme song of the Indianapolis Industrial Exposition and dedicated to the Chamber of Commerce. More than 30,000 copies were sold in Indianapolis.

Mr. Roberts also wrote the lyrics for the stage production of "Roger Bean," produced by Mr. Burton, a score of operettas including his best known, "The Old Rock Candy Mountain."

Mr. Roberts organized and operated for several years a musical organization used for sound effects with silent motion pictures.

Included in his group of several musicians was Ole Olsen, now a member of the Olsen and Johnson stage team. Olsen at that time was a student at a conservatory here. Among his closest friends were Mr. Burton and the late Lewis Shank, former Mayor of Indianapolis.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Florence Belle Roberts, 220 N. Illinois-st., and a cousin, Harry Dent, Richmond.

AIRLINER HITS HOUSE; CRACKS UP IN FIELD

Takes Fire; 15 Occupants Only Slightly Hurt.

By United Press
CHICAGO, June 1.—Skill of W. F. Smith, a veteran T. W. A. pilot, and alertness of an oil station attendant with a fire extinguisher were credited today with saving 15 men and women from injury and possible death when their two-motored airliner smashed into a house and pancaked into a vacant lot.

The plane was forced down at the end of its New York-Chicago run last night. Its right wing clipped the roof of a frame cottage a half mile from the airport. The plane spun around, smashed one of its motors, and hurtled to the ground.

The 12 passengers and three members of the crew were rushed to a hospital. Nine of them were released shortly. The other six were detained overnight "for observation." Apparently one was injured seriously.
