

Warmer Weather Turning Talk to Vacation Plans; Exodus From City to Lake Shores Under Way

Atkins Family to Leave for Michigan Resort Soon; Harvard Celebration Calls Indianapolis Couples to East This Week.

VACATION centers are figuring in conversations these days as families realize that June is well on its way. The annual trek to lakes has been slow this season, because of the temperate weather at home. The urge to be up and away transcends swiftly when the days become stifling.

Next week Mrs. Henry C. Atkins Jr. with her children, Tommy and Susan, is to set out for Charlevoix, Mich. Later in the season Mrs. Atkins' mother, Mrs. Edna Martin, and Mrs. Albert Goepfers are to join them.

In July Mr. and Mrs. Atkins and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Call expect to go up into the wilds of Canada on a fishing trip.

Last week-end Mr. and Mrs. Atkins went to Chicago to visit Mrs. Atkins' cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Anderson. The Atkins saw the Andersons' new son William for the first time.

Miss Florence Barrett is leaving Tuesday to join her brother, E. Clifford Barrett Jr., Washington and Lee University student. Young Barrett's classes are to be dismissed Saturday, but he intends visiting friends in the South before coming home.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett with their family, including Miss Eleanor Anne Barrett, haven't settled the date for their departure to their summer home at Burt Lake, Mich.

Miss Dorothy E. McCullough, Tudor Hall faculty member, left Saturday for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to attend the reunion of her graduating class at Vassar College. Later she is to go to New York to serve as an English reader for the college entrance examination board.

Miss Constance M. McCullough, a sister, is to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. John S. McCullough. She has been studying at the University of Minnesota in preparation for her doctor's degree.

THE three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Harvard University happily comes the same year as the twenty-fifth reunion of Clemens Mueller's and John Rauch's graduation class.

Mr. Mueller and Mr. Rauch are returning to their alma mater with their families to take part in the celebrations.

Mr. and Mrs. Mueller are to leave this week for Boston. While Mr. and Mrs. Rauch are East they also are to witness the graduation of their daughter, Miss Jane Rauch, Wellesley College senior. Their other daughter, Ann, is a Bryn Mawr student.

The Muellers attended graduation of their daughter, Marjorie Jean, from Tudor Hall, last week-end. Marjorie Jean and her brother Horace are to stay at the Mueller Lake Maxinkuckee home while their parents are East. Horace is enrolled in the Culver Military Academy summer school.

Montgomery S. Lewis also was graduated in the same class as Mr. Mueller and Mr. Rauch. Miss Constance Lewis, Vassar College student, joined Mr. and Mrs. Lewis this week at their home in Greenwood. She is to vacation until July 1 when she is to become a counselor at Camp Delwood.

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

BY W. E. MCKENNEY
American Bridge League Secretary

SOMETIMES it is difficult for a player, holding a lot of high cards, to give up the idea that he holds the attacking hand, and to assume the role of defender.

"Why, I held ace-king, ace and ace" is one of the oft-heard explanations given for a double which results disastrously, but these tragic results usually follow, because the holder of a "rock-crusher" has never been able to get over the feeling of mastery which was his when he first glanced at his cards.

Today's hand, dealt in a nine-table duplicate game, is a case in point. At seven tables, West made five hearts, being doubled at four. At one table West went to five hearts and was defeated because of the choice of an opening lead, other than at the remaining table, South played the hand at four spades doubled, and went down three tricks for a loss of 500 points.

Vonneguts Off to Boston for M. I. T. Events

Son Bernard Receives Degree at Program Tuesday.

BY HELEN WORDEN

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Vonnegut, 4365 N. Illinois-st., Indianapolis, are at the Barbizon Plaza, with their son, Kurt Jr.

They are to leave for Boston today to attend the commencement exercises at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where their son Bernard is graduating tomorrow.

This college of scientific education bears the honor of having had Herbert Hoover as a graduate in a civil engineering course. It represents the highest standards in its curriculum, which is confined solely to courses in sciences. A recent interesting announcement was that one of the astronomical units sent to Russia to witness the approaching solar eclipse was composed of students in astronomy at the Institute, including men and women. This is a great innovation at this Massachusetts seat of learning, which hitherto was open only to men students.

The two honor pupils, selected by the late Thomas Edison because of their progress in electricity, were also enrolled here. Its laboratory advancement has assumed recognized importance in discovering atomic rays and other electricity behavior.

New York went Parisian last week in its sidewalk art show, which opened May 29 and closed Saturday. On Washington Square and in MacDougal Alley, where the studio of Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney is located, pictures galore were displayed on the walls, their owners seated beside them on camp chairs. Men and women, young and old, hopeful and discouraged, represented this art group which looked like the Latin Quarter along the Seine.

Fashion and poverty rubbed elbows, as buyers inspected the paintings, looking for bargains. Persons invited to lunch at the Rockefeller Center Rainbow Room can see John D. Rockefeller Jr., any noon eating stacks of Melba toast coated with sweet butter.

Famous persons have unexpected tastes in food and music. Mr. Rockefeller's son Nelson's favorite tune is "Solitude."

Mrs. Allan Ryan, beautiful and blond and the young woman who, it is said, William Rhinelander Stewart is going to marry, always asks for "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody."
