

WIRE TO CARRY CLARK RITES

F. D. R. Talk to Be Heard on Program

Broadcast From Vincennes Scheduled at 9:30 A. M. Tomorrow.

Vincennes is to host to President Roosevelt tomorrow at the dedication of the George Rogers Clark Memorial. The President's address, to be heard during an hour's morning broadcast over WIRE beginning at 9:30, is the last scheduled on his present tour.

On July 4, he is to be heard from Thomas Jefferson's home in Monticello, Va., on a special Independence Day broadcast.

Gov. McNutt is to introduce the President tomorrow, and in turn will be introduced by Senator McKellar.

Monday midnight is the deadline for posting your votes for "The Most Popular Father in Radio," according to Phil Baker, head of the Father's Day celebration radio division.

Any one connected with radio—artists, announcers, writers or technicians, are eligible if they are fathers.

Suggested candidates include Jack Benny, Lowell Thomas, Boake Carter, Phil Dwyer, Ed Wynn, Horace Heidt, Walter Winchell, Bing Crosby, Carson Robison, George Burns, Paul Whiteman, Phil Lord, Al Goodman and Edgar Guest.

Votes should go to the Father's Day Committee, 515 Madison-av., New York, or the station on which the candidate is heard.

Every one should know by now that "swing" music is only a revival, slightly modified, of the primitive jazz of 20 years ago. Proof of this is the fact that the original Dixieland Five is reorganizing, and that the Original Mount City Blue Blowers have reassembled for a "mike" appearance tonight on the CBS Swing Session at 6 on WFBM.

Also present is to be the famous trumpeter, Bunny Berigan, and his band.

Postmaster General Farley is to speak at 6 tonight, over WJZ (660) and the NBC Blue network, on methods of obtaining bonus bonds, which are to be available Monday.

At 7:15, Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, and others are to continue the same subject.

World war veterans in New York, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis and Los Angeles are to be brought to the microphone by CBS at 1 Monday afternoon, to tell what they plan to do with their bonus money.

A short message of advice by an unannounced American Legion official is to conclude the broadcast.

Walter Winchell seems to have picked a "natural" for his debut as a radio actor tonight. He is to do a scene from the popular Hecht-MacArthur opus, "Front Page," at 7:30 on WLW. The play's leading character might almost have been modeled after the staccato-speaking columnist.

Appropriate or not, Senator George Norris has titled his radio talk tomorrow "Behind the Political Smoke Screen." The liberal legislator from Nebraska should be able to pierce the murky veil, for he first came to Congress more than 30 years ago, has led many legislative battles and fathered many bills, including the twentieth amendment to the Constitution. He is to speak at 6:30 tonight on WFBM.

If a man can do a good job with the role of Sherlock Holmes, he seems to have his life's work cut out for him. William Cagney played it, off and on, for 30 years, and Richard Gordon, who created the radio part, has been at it almost 10, behind footlights and microphones. Mr. Gordon was a veteran "Holmes" before he ever saw Mr. Cagney in the role. The detective's radio ventures may be heard at 5:30 tonight over WGN-WLW.

Tomorrow is Major Bowes' birthday as well as Flag Day, but the Major will be too busy for much celebrating. He is to dedicate his program to Oakland, Cal., across the bay from his native Frisco.

Genevieve Tobin and Phillips Holmes are to do a Flag Day sketch with Mary Pickford in her first Sunday "Parties at Pickfair" broadcast at 8 tomorrow night, WFBM.

A new detective series, "Meet McBride," is to replace "Night Court of the Air" on WFBM at 6:30 tonight.

Jack Benny has announced the opening of the Benny-mount Studios, Hollywood's latest film factory, at 5 tomorrow night on WLW, while Phil Baker invites listeners into the editor's office of the "Too Too Utterly Magazine" at 6:30, WFBM.

Hill-billies, child prodigies and the regular Paul Whiteman staff are to be on tomorrow night's regular broadcast by the rotund "Dean of Dance Music," over WLW at 7:45. Whiteman has received over 5000 applications since he announced his children's auditions May 17. At the first audition 500 children, with their parents, stored the studio doors. Paul had invited 150.

Orchestras Are to Give 4 Concerts

Week-End Schedules List Attractive Programs for Music Lovers.

By JAMES THRASHER.

Four orchestra broadcasts will claim the attention of week-end radio listeners, with the Radio City Music Hall program at 10:30 tomorrow morning promising to be of special interest. WLW carries the broadcast.

Continuing the "modern composers" series, the Radio City Orchestra is to devote the hour to Stravinsky and de Falla. Stravinsky is to be represented by the music to the ballets "The Firebird" and "Petrushka," and the "Feu d'Artifice."

"The Firebird" is based on an old Russian legend, which Balakirev once thought of using for an opera. The ballet was commissioned by Diaghilev, and was produced first in Paris in 1910. The scenario was by Fokine.

Edwina Eustis to Sing

"Petrushka," to a scenario by Benois, was brought out in June of the following year, again in Paris and under Diaghilev's supervision. It is in 14 parts, while "The Firebird" has six divisions.

Edwina Eustis, contralto well known to this program's audience, will sing four songs by the famous contemporary Spaniard, Manuel de Falla. They are "Nana," "Cancion," "Asturians" and "Jota."

This might be a good time to wonder why the Radio City management never announces the conductor, or conductors, of these broadcasts. Sometimes, we sense the presence of Erno Rapee, the orchestra's regular leader; on other occasions Mr. Rapee obviously is absent.

Frank Black has assembled 70 men from the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra for an hour's all-Wagner program at noon tomorrow over WLW. In response to many requests for a complete orchestral program on the "Magic Key" broadcast, Dr. Black has chosen the best-loved excerpts from Wagner's music dramas.

Included are the preludes to "Die Meistersinger" and "Lohengrin," "Tannhauser" overture, the prelude and "Love Death" from Tristan and Isolde, and "The Ride of the Valkyries" from "Die Walkure," as a finale.

Cesar Franck's D Minor Symphony is to take up most of the "Everybody's Music" broadcast by Howard Barlow's symphony orchestra at 1 tomorrow on WFBM, while Arthur Fiedler has chosen the "Wedding March" from Rimsky-Korsakov's opera, "The Cossacks," the Overture of Thomas "Mignon," the "Emperor Variations" for string orchestra, by Haydn; Dvorak's Slavonic Dance, No. 3, and the Finale of Tchaikovsky's Fourth Symphony for the Boston Symphony "pop" concert at 6:30 tonight on WIRE.

The distinguished leading contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Company, Kathryn Meisels, is to be soloist with the Ford Symphony Orchestra at 7 tomorrow night, WFBM. Erno Rapee and the General Motors Symphony will be assisted by Walter Cassell, 25-year-old baritone protégé of Lawrence Tibbett, and Marion Claire, soprano, late of "The Great Walrus" cast.

Beloved for his verse, Robert Browne also wrote music, according to Frank St. Leger, pianist and director of the Sunday night "Fire-side Recital" at 5:30 on WFAA (780) and the NBC hookup.

St. Leger found the tune to "Auld Robin Hood" in a collection of Burnsiana owned by the late Edward Moore, Chicago music critic. He arranged it for Edward Johnson, and will have it sung by Sigurd Nilsson tonight.
