

'Not So Good,' Even Bad, Riding Form to Take the Prizes When Algonquin's Equestrians Cavort

Committees Are Announced for Fourth Annual Festive Event to Be Staged by Club on July 19th.

BY BEATRICE BURGAN

EQUESTRIANS who have misgivings about their riding form will have a chance to compete against friends with similar regard for their own style at the Algonquin Riding Club sweepstakes and field meet.

The showman will have his fun, too, at the fourth annual fun event July 19 on the club grounds; he will be able to forget for the nonce all the technique, eyed so thoroughly by the formal horse show judge.

Stunts are arranged for the outing to keep spectators amused; no act can be too ridiculous for the committee.

Committees Are Named

Frank E. Samuel, general chairman, is rounding up his committees and held a dinner recently to bring the members together.

He appointed Dudley Williston vice chairman; Miss Emma Moore, secretary; Mrs. Marie M. Bowen, treasurer; Russel S. Williams, master of ceremonies, and Harry P. McNutt, co-ordinator.

Mrs. Bowen is to lead the committee choosing prizes to be awarded for the events. Her aids are to be Mesdames August C. Bohnen, J. L. Hyatt, Harry F. McNutt, J. R. McNutt, Dudley Williston; Misses Norma Jo Davidson, Jane Drake, Laura Haight, Lucy Kaufman, Jane Williams; Frank J. Haight, Tom Twyman, Frank H. Davis, James M. Drake, Dr. Evanston Earp, T. M. Kaufman, Dr. Goethe Link, Leonard Meisberger and Carl York.

Others Are Appointed

Donald Rose has been assigned chairmanship of the committee to decide on ring events, and his assistants are Miss Gertrude Brown, Mrs. Earp, Mrs. Williams and Morris C. Rosner.

The steeplechase and jumping events are to be arranged by Dr. F. O. Bonham, chairman; Mr. Bohnen, Joe S. Williams, Mrs. Haight, Mrs. Rosner and Miss Lucy Link.

Miss Grace A. Speer, with the suggestions of Dr. John H. Greist and Miss Ethel Miller, is to decide on the theme of invitations.

Arranged for Concessions

Concessions are to be arranged by Dr. Elliot Hirsch, chairman; Mrs. York, James L. Rainey, Miss Mary Moore and John Hancock.

The committee on reception, information and parking is to include William A. Shepherd, chairman; Mrs. Twyman, Mr. Hyatt, Miss Dorothy Peterson, David McKinstry, Miss Marjorie Hyatt, James McNutt, Russel S. Williams Jr. and Gene Williams.

J. R. McNutt, Mrs. Twyman, Miss Mary McGee and Miss Helen Howard are on the publicity committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nivins and family, formerly of this city, have arrived from Los Angeles. A daughter, Miss Charlotte Nivins, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. William Kiger, who returned recently from a visit with her family.

Gladys Gilatte Is to Model for Gotham Stylists

BY HELEN WORDEN

NEW YORK, June 13. — Miss Gladys Gilatte, whose mother resides at 3060 N. Meridian st., Indianapolis, is staying at the Marlborough Plaza, near Central Park.

Miss Gilatte was selected to model for Milgrim, one of the fashionable shops on 57th-st., the Rue de la Paix of Gotham, and her duties will keep her there for several months.

It was Milgrim that made the inauguration gowns for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. She also wore a creation in Eleanor blue, over a light-colored dress, for the birthday ball given in honor of the President in January, 1935, and in 1936, in recognition of the color selected for this celebration, appeared in Georgia peach pink.

At fresco parties she takes the place nightly in the park, on the Mall, and recently the Finnish folk gave a native dance in quaint costume. On another occasion, peasant numbers from Budapest gave the Hockapies, to the strains of the beautiful Blue Danube.

Every night, everybody can dance here according to mood. In this polyglot city, where all languages are heard constantly, one feels that it is after all a tourist resort. For the old Knickerbocker families are fast giving way to the foreign influx.

At St. Marks-in-the-Bowery, the anchor church on E. 13th-st., where good Petrus Stuyvesant, with the wooden leg, lies in a vault, more than 2000 ancestors of New York's aristocracy are buried in the Pantheon.

If you want to find a missing ancestor, look for him here. He's quite likely resting under a slab, with those of the Van der Bilt, the Goets, the Rockefellers, and the Rhinelanders (from the river Rhine).
