TOLEDO HENS GO AT .714 PACE
WHEN THEY MEET THE INDIANS!

FRED HANEY'S Toledo Mud Hens are in the league cellar, but you wouldn't believe it when they are tackling the Indians. Based on the season's record between the rivals, the Haneys belong in the first division. They have played .714 ball against the Hoosiers, having defeated the Redskins five times while losing twice. It's a problem in baseball that the Tribe Brain Trusters are unable to solve.

Last night, in the series opener at Perry Stadium the home tossers staged a fine rally in the seventh and came from behind to lead, 6-5, but in the ninth the Toledo jinx went to work and choked the Tribesters into submission.

Six Hens winged their way around the sacks to the payoff station as Rookie Dizzy Trout fell apart after a couple of errors started him on the way. The final score was 11-6.

BOTH sides employed three hurlers . . . Stewart Bolen of the Redskins opposed Danny Boone at the start and both were knocked out . . . Gallivan relieved Bolen in the seventh and dropped out for a pinch hitter in the same inning . . . The Hoosiers were ahead, 6-5, when Gallivan retired . . . Freshman Trout got by the eighth after walking the first man, but in the ninth it was a deluge.

Boone of the Hens was swept out of the box in the seventh and Lefty Snell took his place . . . And Smoll gave way to a pinch hitter in the ninth and Hare, a righthander, finished by retiring the Indians in order.

By winding up on the short end last night the Tribesters muffed a chance to reach fourth position in the A. A. race . . . The defeat dropped them from fifth to sixth . . . A twight-millennium double-header is carded this evening, the first tilt at 5 and the second at 8:15, both for the price of one admission.

Turner and Tinning are listed as the Indians' starting hurlers.

Sullivan and Cohen, both southpaws, are due for the Hens.

THIRD SACKER ENGLISH was a thorn to the Hoosiers last night . . . The young man collected two triples and two singles, scored three runs and batted in three . . . He'll use the airmail to send the press clipping on that one home.

Vincent Sherlock and Fred Berger were the only Redskins to get more than one blow and by polling two Sherlock's batting average zoomed above the .300 mark for the first time this season . . . He also played a strong game in the field.

TOLEDO staged two "big" innings, the seventh and ninth. The visitors tallied one marker in the fourth, one in the fifth, three in the seventh and six in the final . . . The home tossers broke into the scoring column in the fifth, batted around for five in the seventh and then passed out of the picture . . . The fans quickly gave up when Dizzy Trout entered the fracas, despite the fact he held the Hens in the eighth . . . The youngster is helpless with runners on and tries to "blow" the ball by the hitters . . . And they take a pinch.

Minneapolis, the 1935 champ, defeated the league-leading Milwaukee Brewers yesterday and advanced to within two games of first place . . . The Tribe remains four-and-a-half games back of the Brewers . . . A short winning streak on the home pasture would make a lot of difference . . . Other A. A. winners yesterday were Columbus and St. Paul.

MANAGER HANEY of the Hens thinks he is entitled to some sort of a bonus for service in the "War of Louisville" . . . Instead, he was fined $25 . . . The Toledo chief looks like he had been clawed by a Clyde Beatty cat . . . Fred claims that during his recent fight with Manager Grimes of the Colonels the fiery Louisville manager kicked him in the face with spikes after he had been pulled off his adversary.
