

TWO VETERANS SEEKING G. A. R. COMMANDERSHIP

88 - Year - Old Candidates Campaign at State Encampment.

Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., June 23.—Two candidates are seeking commandership of the Grand Army of the Republic holding its annual state convention here.

They are Quincy A. Hunt, Morton Post of Terre Haute, and David Kinney, Indianapolis, commander of George H. Chapman Post, Mr. Hunt, a member of Co. A, Fifty-seventh Indiana Regiment, will be 88 Wednesday, and Mr. Kinney, a member of Co. D, One Hundred Forty-eighth Indiana Regiment, will be 88 June 30.

State Commander Edward McClelland, Muncie, was too ill to attend the convention.

The Indiana Department of Federated Patriotic Societies, holding its convention with seven others here, was the only one yesterday to elect officers and conclude its sessions.

Other organizations holding their conventions here this week are the Woman's Relief Corp., Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Union Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans and the Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans.

The dedication of a limestone memorial to the G. A. R. was a highlight of yesterday's program. In Cascades Park, near here, Daughters of Union Veterans performed the ceremonies.

Two veterans, N. H. Stewart, Star City, and Henry Robinson, New Albany, celebrated their ninety-second birthdays yesterday. John Grant, Fowler, 96, and James H. McCormack, 86, Centerton, are the oldest and youngest at the encampment.

Barney Stone, Noblesville, is the only colored veteran attending.

The annual parade of the veterans is to be held at 2 tomorrow.

Two Local Brothers to Paddle Own Canoe on 2000-Mile Trip

Two modern adventurers, Everett (left above) and Paul Dye, Indianapolis brothers, plan to paddle a canoe more than 2000 miles to Houston, Tex., en route to Phoenix, Ariz., where they are to enter the University of Arizona this fall.

Everett, Paul Dye intend to end Long Journey at University of Arizona at Phoenix.

By TRISTRAM COFFIN
Two husky young brothers who have spent most of their lives out of doors dipped their blue and white canoe into White River near Valley Mills yesterday.

By the time the University of Arizona opens this fall, the youths, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dye, 2842 E. New York-st, hope to have ended a 3200-mile journey to Phoenix, Ariz.

Everett, 20, and Paul Dye, 19, have been canoeing for the last nine years, principally on Indiana waters and have no qualms about the rough 2000-mile paddle to Houston, Texas.

From Houston, they will drive to Phoenix by auto.

Making the trip by easy stages, the boys plan to paddle into the Wabash River, then to New Orleans by the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

From there, they expect to paddle through the Ties Canal to Orange, Tex., where they are to take the Sabine River to the Gulf of Mexico. The Inter-Coastal Canal and the bayou will be followed into Houston.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dye think the trip is a swell idea.

"Everett and Paul are outdoor boys. They've spent quite a bit of time hunting and fishing in some pretty wild country in New Hampshire and know their way around," Mr. Dye said.

The boys have a complete camping outfit and plan to sleep at the rivers' banks.

Fishing is their long suit.

"The fish better watch out, because we're going to pull out some of those 50-pound catfish," Everett said.

To make sure that the constabulary of the southern states don't pick them up as vagrants, the boys have a letter from Mayor Kern.

Everett was graduated from Technical High School in 1933 and Paul in 1934. It was Paul's idea that they enroll in the University of Arizona, and he figures that he can talk Everett into going to the university when they sit around the campfires at night.

They plan to see the Texas Centennial before going to Phoenix. As they left yesterday, the boys were dressed up in blue overall trousers, blue monogrammed shirts and white tropical helmets.

Another brother, Joseph Dye, 22, remained at home to work with his father.

SULLIVAN NEXT STOP ON FLIGHT AROUND INDIANA

Group Leaves French Lick on Second Leg of State Trip.

By United Press
FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 23.—Planes and pilots comprising the eighth Indiana Air Tour took off from the airport here today on the second leg of their six-day flight that was to take them to more than a score of Hoosier cities.

The fliers were to visit Sullivan at noon today and then fly to Terre Haute for the overnight stop.

The tour of more than 50 planes left Hoosier Airport, Indianapolis, yesterday.

The 150 members of the tour flew first to Muncie where tribute was paid Frank E. Ball, aviation enthusiast, who was killed in a crash at Findlay, O., last month.

After stopping in Columbus for lunch, the fliers came here. They remained last night as the guests of Thomas Taggart.

Mike Murphy, Kokomo, who was flying a Waco Taperwing, with Bill Sweet, announcer, on board, were the only ones delayed in the take-off from Indianapolis. Shortly after the men finally got into the air they were forced down northeast of Indianapolis. Mr. Murphy arrived several hours late in French Lick.

Tri-Motor Has Trouble
The tri-motored Stinson, flown by Myron Hightower, developed motor trouble after leaving Indianapolis, but finally reached Columbus.

An impromptu stunt flying program was given at Columbus and French Lick by Lieut. Joseph S. Mackey, Findlay, O.

The Army O-38 plane piloted by Lieut. Robert N. Taylor, One hundred thirtieth Observation Squadron, was damaged at Columbus when a plane, piloted by E. L. Lowe, Columbus, taxied into it and damaged a wing. Lieut. Taylor was making efforts to obtain another ship to continue the tour.

After leaving Sullivan, today's noon stop, tour members are to continue to Terre Haute for the night.
