LEGION AUXILIARY JUNIORS ENJOY PAINTING TOYS FOR CHILDREN

These little girls are happy because they have made other children happy. They are members of the Garfield Park Unit No. 68, American Legion Auxiliary Juniors, which completed an active year with presentation of 27 animal toys to the Indianapolis Day Nursery.

They also presented toys to other Indianapolis institutions, to the Knightswood Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's Home, and helped with community service and child welfare work.

A Legion friend sawed out the animals, and the girls spent many hours painting them in bright, realistic colors.
