

One-Time Rough Rider to Accept Republican Honor at Chicago Tonight

Gen. Wood's Convention Floor Manager, 1920

World War Army Officer, 1917

Hoover Board Chairman, 1932

Scene of both the 1932 major party national conventions, the Chicago Stadium, seating 25,000, was chosen for the notification ceremonies tonight of Col. Frank Knox, inset, as Republican vice presidential candidate. Interior of the mammoth structure, on the block-long stage of which were placed seats for nearly 700 party notables, is shown here.

An old-time rally, with torchlight parades and martial music from several bands, will precede the notification ceremony. Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, who is to tell Col. Knox of his selection as candidate, is to be introduced by John D. Hamilton, national committee chairman.

MODEL HOUSE MAY BE BUILT

Commissioners Ask $350 of County Council for Project Here.

as much as $7 a month for a dwelling banded by the City Health Board as unfit for human habitation.

Plans Are Outlined

The house would contain an inside, sanitary toilet and running water. It would have chimney outlets for two stoves—one for cooking and one for heating.

The floor would be a concrete slab, finished smoothly on the inside. Walls would be plastered and a small porch would set off the front.

Lester Moorman, State Planning Board attaché loaned temporarily to the planning department of the WPA; Mrs. Meredith Nicholson Jr., WPA official and member of the state legislature; Joseph Scherer, chief inspector for the State Fire Marshal's office, and Clem Smith, fire marshal, together with the State and City Health Boards and the City Fire Department, contributed information to the commissioners on the project.

Dovetails With Campaign

If the appropriation is granted and the project proves a success, the commissioners have indicated they may ask for additional appropriations next year and build several more of the dwellings, creating income for the county from properties which now yield none.

The proposed project dovetails with the fire marshal's current campaign to raze some 500 uninhabitable dwellings in the city before fall because they are fire traps. More than 200 have been marked for destruction.

County Council members have given assurance that they will vote favorably in the commissioners' request, sponsors said. The council meets 10 days after notification is sent to members by County Clerk Glenn Ralston.

Spreads Disease, Claim

City and state health agencies lately have stated that the presence in the city of upward of 5000 insanitary outdoor toilets is a great factor in the spread of disease in the city and a constant drain on the taxpayer.

The proposed project also dovetails with the City Health Board's work of notifying property owners to install inside toilets and running water in accordance with the city sanitation ordinance.

Mr. Moorman pointed out that a building program is a necessary complement to the razing program. There now are not enough sanitary dwellings to house families living in condemned properties even if the families could afford higher rent, he said.

Board Officials Comment

He also pointed out that Mr. Scherer has said his department would order as many as 1000 other buildings wrecked because they are fire hazards if it were not that the people living in them would have no available shelter.

Indianapolis Real Estate Board officials have estimated that the number of unrented dwellings in all classes in the city is close to 1 per cent. That is virtually a working minimum for efficient property management, they said.

The commissioners hope to make the dedication of the house, if the appropriation is granted and the work is completed, a matter of public ceremony. The project, if completed, is to be a model for the state.

was reported on the danger list at City Hospital. Hazelrigg was sitting on a truck on the rear of the truck when the accident occurred yesterday afternoon. George Hamshire, 48, of 1840 Asbury-st, was driving.

Carmen Jackson, 22, of 5236 E. St. Clair-st, suffered critical injuries last night in a head-on automobile collision in the 4700 block on N. Keystone-av. He was sent to City Hospital. Physicians reported he had a fractured skull.

Jackson, police were informed, attempted to pass another automobile and was blinded by the lights of an approaching car.

He was said to have lost control of his car. The other vehicle in the accident was driven by Jesse Preston, 51, of 2446 Stuart-st, who escaped injury. Riding with Preston was Joe Joseph, 44, of 3739 E. New York-st, who was treated at City Hospital for head lacerations.

Isaac McClain, 40, of 152 McClain-pl, suffered lacerations and bruises last night when he was knocked down by an automobile at 22d and Meridian-sts. He was in a fair condition at City Hospital today.

The automobile was driven by Frank L. Buchanan, 54, E. R. 14, Box 335. He was not held after witnesses were reported to have told police the traffic signal was in Buchanan's favor.

Driving into a railroad elevation abutment, Miss Mildred Duval, 620 N. New Jersey-st, and her passenger, Miss Juanita Quigley, 22, same address, suffered face lacerations early today. Both were treated at City Hospital.

John Perry, 65, of 1832 Howard-st, injured in an automobile collision at West and 16th-sts last night, was in a fair condition today at City Hospital. He was a passenger with Theodore Brown, 53, of 1410 S. Harding-st. The other car was driven by Rufus M. Wharton, Negro, 41, of 371 W. 26th-st.

Wallace Expected to Advise Heavy Imports Due to Drought.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace prepared a report today for President Roosevelt expected to recommend heavy importation of corn if the drought continues another 10 days.

Mr. Wallace revealed his advocacy of corn importation at a press conference shortly after returning from a tour through the drought-stricken Midwest. The next 10 days, he said will be the "crucial period" for the corn crop.

REQUESTS $800,000 FOR SPANS, PASSES

County Surveyor Asks PWA for Road Work Funds.

County Surveyor Herbert Bloemer today filed a request for an $800,000 Public Works Administration grant for the construction of six bridges and three underpasses in Marion County.

The original PWA petition for bridge construction, filed several years ago, asked for $800,000 on a grant and loan basis. The government was to provide 45 per cent, and the county was to raise 55 per cent by bond issue.

Proposed sites for the bridges are at 58th-st and Eagle Creek, Sherman-dr and Fall Creek, White River and Southport-rd, Shadeland-dr and Fall Creek, 86th-st and White River and Indian Creek south of Sunnyside.

The proposed underpass sites are at Morris-st, Ben Davis and Action. Present underpasses at Ben Davis and Morris-st are traffic hazards, because of sharp turns, and the Action site is now a grade crossing, Mr. Bloemer said.

Present bridges at White River at Southport-rd, a 488-foot covered bridge; 86th-st and White River, a light steel truss, and Indian Creek, an old concrete structure, are disintegrating and must be replaced, Mr. Bloemer said.

ACTRESS, DR. THORPE SWAP ACCUSATIONS

Give Names, Dates in Court Battle Over Child.

Norma Taylor and identified her from a photograph. Previous witnesses had testified that Dr. Thorpe once called police to his home to "restrain" Miss Taylor.

Miss Astor, a neat figure in black and white, listened at counsel's table with an abstracted air. Dr. Thorpe sat five feet away, his lips tightening.

One other alleged excerpt was included in the new affidavit. It referred to himself, he alleged. It said: "He was badly broken up for several days."

Woolley questioned Miss Richardson concerning little Marilyn's attitude toward her father. The child was timid, afraid of him, she said. The reason was that he "spanked her too much."

She said that Dr. Thorpe "spent no evenings at home to speak of," when asked if the father spent much time with the child. She added that after Dr. Thorpe moved out of the house which he and Miss Astor owned jointly, and Miss Astor moved in, she stayed on. Miss Astor was with the child "almost constantly," she said.

Thorpe's attorney, Joseph Anderson, led Miss Richardson to acknowledge that she had told several persons that Dr. Thorpe was "a fine father," that the baby received "excellent care" under his direction, and that she liked to work for him. It was at this point that Judge C. S. Knight adjourned the hearing until tonight.

Miss Richardson testified after

Dr. Thorpe was subjected to another severe examination by Miss Astor's attorney and two police officers had told about the time they were called to Dr. Thorpe's house to restrain Miss Taylor.

Dr. Thorpe was asked why, considering that he had signed an affidavit alleging that Miss Astor was not a "proper person" to have custody of a child of "impressionable age," he permitted Marilyn to remain with her mother, though the probate court gave him full custody last summer.
