

NEW MEMBERS PROPOSED FOR ORPHANS' HOME SOCIETY

Organization's Meeting to Be in September

Mrs. W. H. Krieg Heads Committee for Workers.

The names of prospective members for the Indianapolis Orphans' Home Auxiliary are being considered by a committee headed by Mrs. William H. Krieg.

The membership report is to be made at the organization's first meeting of the year to be held early in September when the president, Mrs. William W. Garstang, returns to the city.

A limit of 20 active members has been set by the auxiliary whose philanthropic work is done both at the orphans' home and at benefit events held away from the institution.

Members donate one hour weekly to projects which include Girl Scout work, driving the children to dentist, doctor and clinic appointments, or teaching constructive play.

Last year the organization gave one of the girls a scholarship to a business college in the city. It sponsored several performances of a circus in the city.

The auxiliary, founded in 1932 with Mrs. William Wiggins president, today has a membership of 41 active and inactive members.

Meetings are held monthly at the Woodstock Country Club, usually following a luncheon.

Mrs. Robert Mason is general chairman of the unit's work and serves as a contact between the orphanage and the auxiliary.

Mrs. John Shirley is vice president; Miss Caroline Hitt, treasurer; Miss Mary Leuten, secretary; and Miss Betty Reed, publicity chairman.

REVEAL WEDDING OCCURRED JULY 25

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Stevens have announced the marriage of Mr. Stevens' sister, Miss Nola Mae Stevens, to Robert W. Slansbury, son of Mrs. Luella T. Slansbury.

The wedding took place July 25 at the home of Dr. C. M. Yocum, who officiated. Attendants were Miss Katherine Combs and John W. Cade.

The couple is at home at 3832 Park-av.

Mrs. Davis Gives Shower Tonight for Miss Sharpe

A personal shower is to be given tonight by Mrs. Tracy Davis honoring Miss Mary Phyllis Sharpe, whose engagement to Clarence August Wacker has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sharpe.

The wedding is to take place Aug. 14 at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church.

Guests with Miss Sharpe and her mother are to include Mesdames Clara Hannan, Melvin E. Robbins, Flora Stanford, Hugh Teeters, Lawrence Sims, William Clevens, Max De Vletien and J. W. Mull Jr. and Misses Wilma Aulenbacher, Hazel Guio, Louise Troy, Lucille Morrison, Frances Brumit, Jean Goulding, Rebecca Blackley, Rosemary Byrket, Mary Elizabeth, Helen Carver, Hilda Greenberg, Ruth Hiltzberger, Dorothy Dauner, Martha Jane Banister, Catherine Vogel and Virginia Showalter and Mrs. George Morrison.

COUPLE TO MARRY SATURDAY EVENING

The marriage of Miss Mary Elene Lydick, daughter of Mr. Mabel Lydick, and Eldon McCreary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McCreary, Greenwood, is to take place at 8:30 p. m. Saturday in the First United Brethren Church.

CEILING REGISTER AIDS VENTILATION

If there is an airtight space over the second floor that can be used for ventilating purposes, place a register in the ceiling of the hall, preferably over the stair, and build a wooden flue over the opening about three feet high. This will assist the draft and make the ventilation more positive.

OIL OF GERANIUM USED IN PERFUMES

Oil of geranium, popular as a perfume for soaps, bath powder and other toilet articles, is extracted from the stems and leaves of the plant.

So great is the demand for this scent that geraniums are a common crop in sections of north Africa, Spain and other Mediterranean countries.

Wedding Date Set

The marriage of Miss Lois Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hunter, and Robert L. Goodwin is to take place Sept. 5.

'Well, How Do You Do! You're Just in Time for Tea'

W. C. T. U. Units Meet This Week for Elections

Three units of the Women's Christian Temperance Union are to elect officers at meetings this week. The Vayhinger Union meeting is to be at Mrs. Armen Harbison's home at 2 p. m. Thursday. The local directors are to report their year's work before the election. Mrs. Alonzo Huls is to preside, and Miss Senora Pruden is to lead devotions. The Broad Ripple Union members are to choose leaders at a meeting at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Broad Ripple Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harriet Anderson is to be hostess for the Sarah A. Swain Union meeting at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Mrs. Walter Hardy is to lead the Bible study, and the Rev. Goldie Wetherell, devotions. Mrs. Ephra Johnson is to talk on "Alcohol Education." A luncheon is to be served, and officers elected.

WOODRUFF PLACE PARTY TOMORROW

A card party is to be given tomorrow night in the Woodruff Place town hall. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fennell and Mr. and Mrs. Max Crawford are to be hosts and hostesses to Woodruff residents and their guests.

COAT RACK HOLDS TOYS OF CHILDREN

A portable coat rack for the children's room is an aid in teaching orderliness.

The rack is made with two upright posts fastened to a sturdy base and a horizontal rod stretching from the top of one post to the other.

Low cupboards at both ends provide a place to store toys when they are not in use.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Swatting keeps you on the fly in summer.

Children Rugged Individualists Up to Ten, Sociologist Finds

This is the first of two articles on children.

BY DR. PAUL HANLEY FURFEE
Associate Professor of Sociology, the Catholic University of America

A young human being is a very complicated creature. He is growing in mind and body and personality toward maturity, all at once, but perhaps at different rates.

We are interested in finding out how behavior becomes more mature. The little boy grows out of the stage where he is thrilled by a sandpile, to the stage in which he plays Indian, then on up to baseball days, and his first dress suit, and manhood. For want of a better name, I have called this side of personality, as it unfolds, a child's developmental age.

Young children up to about 10 are individualists—rugged individualists. They enjoy playing to themselves, but they are too young for most games played by teams. It is a great age for make-believe, and the boys dramatize themselves as cowboys, G-men, storekeepers, and all the other grown-up roles that look attractive and important.

At 6 the greatest sport in the world is tag, in one form or another. I have seen 6-year-olds cheering a game of tag from the sidelines, with all the wild excitement of fans at a major league ball game.

These young individualists are not ashamed to play with girls. Four out of five think nothing of it until the sixth year, perhaps later. Then, they begin to shut girls out of one sport after another. They are growing toward a new stage of development—the gang age.

Gang age sounds wild and inelegant, but the term does express the wave of devotion that a boy of 6 begins to feel for his chosen gang. He is no longer satisfied to toss a ball in any sort of simple ball game. He wants to belong to a team. Remarkable clubs are formed, with secret passwords, and a clubhouse. The boy is eager to join the Boy Scouts.

Girls Have "Gangs," Too

The girl too has her age of rugged individualism, but she is not likely to get into as many fist fights as her brother. Her make-believe is concerned with different things. In a study of 35 6-year-old girls and 35 8-year-olds, we found that every last child had her doll. Four years later this sort of thing has pretty well disappeared.

The girl has her gang age, too, but not many gangs. That is, the girls show the same get-together spirit as the boys, but it takes different forms, such as informal parties at one another's houses. Both sexes are "joiners" at this age.

The last stage of growing up is adolescence, which begins during the high school years and carries the boy or girl into manhood. It is rather curious that this last stage is the least understood of the three—curious, because no age of development has been so much discussed.

Adolescent boys take less interest in affairs of the heart than magazine fiction would make us think. Up to 16 years, less than half the boys we have studied had fallen in love.

Youngsters Obey Readily

More characteristic of the boy nearing manhood is his attitude toward authority. A younger lad is apt to obey any one who speaks authoritatively. An adult has learned to obey and play his part in an ordered universe. But the adolescent is apt to resent commands. He is not yet sure enough of himself to submit gracefully, and the struggle may lead him into trouble at home and at school, or even with the law.

Boys of this age are more apt to be assertive and conciliatory than shy and retiring. About one boy in five, among younger lads, is bashful. But the older boy is ready to be a man, even before society is ready to accept him in that role.

Girls show some of the same trends at this age. Those we studied took themselves more seriously, showed more poise, took better care of their clothes, and began to be interested in their appearance.

Unusual Styles Promised Those Choosing Velvet

Velvets are fall perennials, in a sense, and are linked, mentally, with luxurious afternoon clothes and evening wear. Yet for next fall they promise to have a freshness of style interpretation which not only makes them completely new and attractive, but gives them a fresh fashion "slant."

All this leads to the fact that this fall it is expected that velvets will be used for tailored daytime wear. Such style themes as suits, tunic costumes and coat dresses with details of softly treated sleeves and gored or circular skirts often have the zenith of flattery when they are developed in black, midnight or evergreen velvet.

The bride carried the rose point train, a half-circle of her mother, Mrs. Ralph Tipton Davis, and a cascade bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Krieg, matron of honor, wore an aquamarine blue chiffon gown with full puffed sleeves and buttons down the back to the waist. The slight train fell from shirring below the waistline in back. A dubonnet velvet ribbon was caught in front at the deep-V neckline, and circled the waistline and tied in a flat bow in back. Streamers fell from the length of the train.

Mrs. Shimer's gown of petal pink chiffon was fashioned the same and both carried crescent shaped bouquets of gladioli, rubrum lilies, asters and Finch roses in shades of magenta, fuchsia, purple, cerise and pale pink.

Dr. Donald Wood was best man. Mrs. Davis attended in powder blue lace with a short coat and standing collar. Her corsage was of Finch roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Stuart Dean, the bridegroom's cousin, wore a white lace gown, trimmed in turquoise, and her corsage was of gardenias.

Reception Follows Wedding

The bridal couple greeted guests at an informal reception at the church following the ceremony. The plan to have a luncheon at the home of the bride and groom was abandoned because of the late hour.

Of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Fred G. Davis, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mullen, Cincinnati; and Mr. Loftin's sister, Mrs. Richard Rahn, Allentown, Pa.

Mrs. Loftin traveled in a navy blue and white plaid chignon jacket ensemble, with a navy blue blouse and matching accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Loftin is a Butler University graduate and member of Kappa Gamma Sorority. Mr. Loftin also attended Butler and is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

only effective weapons against sweatshop employers.

T. A. Thompson, assistant attorney general of North Dakota, declares: "I have yet to hear any plan to write an act that in my opinion would pass the test under the Constitution as it now stands."

Legal authorities of other states privately express misgivings regarding the possibility of writing a law to protect industrial women from wage exploitation as would ever come the Supreme Court objections.

Enforcement officials of several states declare they will not force compliance upon unwilling employers, but will attempt to obtain voluntary co-operation of industry.

Federal labor officials, under direction of Secretary Frances Perkins, are searching for a plan based on a theory differing from that on which the Ohio act is written.

The natural platform adopted by the Republican Party expressed belief that the question could be solved without constitutional amendment. Gov. Landon supplemented the platform by expressing himself in favor of such amendment to gain the desired end, if it could be obtained under the present Constitution.

The Democratic Party pledged itself for amendment "if these problems can not be effectively solved by legislation within the Constitution."

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. McIntosh, 4616 Guilford-av., have returned from a motor trip through Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Brownman of New York are spending several days with Mr. Brownman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownman, 5601 E. St. Clair-st.

Alpha Chapter, Sigma Phi, 8 p. m. today. Y. W. C. A. election. Tau Delta Sigma. Tonight. Mrs. J. W. Fiecer, hostess.

George R. Chapman W. R. C. 10, 1:30 p. m. Tues. Fort Friendly, Mrs. J. H. Smith, hostess.

SOCIETIES

Alpha Chapter, Sigma Phi, 8 p. m. today. Y. W. C. A. election. Tau Delta Sigma. Tonight. Mrs. J. W. Fiecer, hostess.

George R. Chapman W. R. C. 10, 1:30 p. m. Tues. Fort Friendly, Mrs. J. H. Smith, hostess.

Arthur Loftin, Bride on Trip After Wedding

McKee Chapel Scene of Impressive Ceremony Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gillette Loftin were on a wedding trip today following their marriage Saturday night in McKee Chapel, Tabernacle Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Loftin with his bride, formerly Miss Betty Jeanne Davis, are to be at home at 3208 Central-av.

Dr. J. Ambrose Dunkle officiated at the exchange of marriage vows. Paul Matthews played bridal songs while the ushers, M. Stanley McComas Jr., William H. Krieg, Allan Z. Shimer and Russell Campbell were seating guests. During the ceremony Mr. Matthews played "To a Wild Rose."

The bridal party grouped on the steps to the chancel while the ceremony was being read. A pair of crystal vases holding gladioli and asters were arranged on the steps. A background of clobotium, Boston and Woodwardia ferns was arranged in the chancel. White tapers in two seven-branched candelabra lighted the setting, and single cathedral tapers in standards burned at the chancel entrance.

Gowns Are Described

Virginia Keyes Mote, dressed in a pale pink tulle frock with puffed sleeves and a corded skirt, scattered rose petals in the path of the bride, who entered alone. Virginia carried the petals in a pink net hat, trimmed with dubonnet velvet streamers.

The bride's princess style white satin gown had a high square neckline, with a quilted standing collar joining it. The sleeves were long and pointed over the hands. The wedding veil, also worn by the bridesmaid, Mrs. Shimer, at her wedding, fell the length of the dress' train. The veil cap was of point lace and had orange blossoms caught at the sides.

The bride carried the rose point train, a half-circle of her mother, Mrs. Ralph Tipton Davis, and a cascade bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Krieg, matron of honor, wore an aquamarine blue chiffon gown with full puffed sleeves and buttons down the back to the waist. The slight train fell from shirring below the waistline in back. A dubonnet velvet ribbon was caught in front at the deep-V neckline, and circled the waistline and tied in a flat bow in back. Streamers fell from the length of the train.

Mrs. Shimer's gown of petal pink chiffon was fashioned the same and both carried crescent shaped bouquets of gladioli, rubrum lilies, asters and Finch roses in shades of magenta, fuchsia, purple, cerise and pale pink.

Dr. Donald Wood was best man. Mrs. Davis attended in powder blue lace with a short coat and standing collar. Her corsage was of Finch roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Stuart Dean, the bridegroom's cousin, wore a white lace gown, trimmed in turquoise, and her corsage was of gardenias.

Reception Follows Wedding

The bridal couple greeted guests at an informal reception at the church following the ceremony. The plan to have a luncheon at the home of the bride and groom was abandoned because of the late hour.

Of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Fred G. Davis, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mullen, Cincinnati; and Mr. Loftin's sister, Mrs. Richard Rahn, Allentown, Pa.

Mrs. Loftin traveled in a navy blue and white plaid chignon jacket ensemble, with a navy blue blouse and matching accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Loftin is a Butler University graduate and member of Kappa Gamma Sorority. Mr. Loftin also attended Butler and is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

only effective weapons against sweatshop employers.

T. A. Thompson, assistant attorney general of North Dakota, declares: "I have yet to hear any plan to write an act that in my opinion would pass the test under the Constitution as it now stands."

Legal authorities of other states privately express misgivings regarding the possibility of writing a law to protect industrial women from wage exploitation as would ever come the Supreme Court objections.

Enforcement officials of several states declare they will not force compliance upon unwilling employers, but will attempt to obtain voluntary co-operation of industry.

Federal labor officials, under direction of Secretary Frances Perkins, are searching for a plan based on a theory differing from that on which the Ohio act is written.

The natural platform adopted by the Republican Party expressed belief that the question could be solved without constitutional amendment. Gov. Landon supplemented the platform by expressing himself in favor of such amendment to gain the desired end, if it could be obtained under the present Constitution.

The Democratic Party pledged itself for amendment "if these problems can not be effectively solved by legislation within the Constitution."

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. McIntosh, 4616 Guilford-av., have returned from a motor trip through Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Brownman of New York are spending several days with Mr. Brownman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownman, 5601 E. St. Clair-st.

Alpha Chapter, Sigma Phi, 8 p. m. today. Y. W. C. A. election. Tau Delta Sigma. Tonight. Mrs. J. W. Fiecer, hostess.

George R. Chapman W. R. C. 10, 1:30 p. m. Tues. Fort Friendly, Mrs. J. H. Smith, hostess.

SOCIETIES

Alpha Chapter, Sigma Phi, 8 p. m. today. Y. W. C. A. election. Tau Delta Sigma. Tonight. Mrs. J. W. Fiecer, hostess.

George R. Chapman W. R. C. 10, 1:30 p. m. Tues. Fort Friendly, Mrs. J. H. Smith, hostess.

SOCIETIES

Alpha Chapter, Sigma Phi, 8 p. m. today. Y. W. C. A. election. Tau Delta Sigma. Tonight. Mrs. J. W. Fiecer, hostess.

George R. Chapman W. R. C. 10, 1:30 p. m. Tues. Fort Friendly, Mrs. J. H. Smith, hostess.

SOCIETIES

Alpha Chapter, Sigma Phi, 8 p. m. today. Y. W. C. A. election. Tau Delta Sigma. Tonight. Mrs. J. W. Fiecer, hostess.

Plans Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Maxwell, 5417 Winthrop-av., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Charlyne Maxwell, to Merrill A. Ludwig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ludwig. The wedding is to take place Sept. 26.

Miss Evelyn Poston has returned to Martinsville to prepare for her marriage Wednesday to Charles E. Scheuring, Indianapolis. Miss Poston, who was here yesterday, was honor guest at an open house given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Scheuring, her fiancé's parents.

The reception was held at the Scheuring home, Indian Lake-rd. Mrs. Edwin I. Poston, the bride-to-be mother, Martinsville, was among out-of-town guests, including Miss Blanche Poston, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Poston and Mrs. Bess McFarland, Martinsville; Mr. and Mrs. Harry George, Miss Helen George, Miss Dorothy Thoms, Miss Gertrude McCullough, Franklin, and Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Griffiths, Nashville.

Miss Evelyn Poston is to be her sister's maid of honor and Paul Scheuring is to be his brother's best man. The wedding is to be solemnized by Dr. W. A. Mills, Crawfordsville, at the Poston home.

Classmates Meet Again

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and Howard Fleber are to return from Walloon Lake, Mich., next week but Mrs. Fleber is to stay on until September.

Miss Jane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Davis, is to meet Miss Catherine Bengston in Chicago tomorrow, before they go to Miss Bengston's home in LaGrange, Ill. The two girls were classmates at Principia College. Jane is to enter the University of Cincinnati next month.

When Mrs. L. E. Lancaster, New York, was here for several weeks she met many friends of her sister, Mrs. William Kothe, and her Kothe. She has returned to her home.

SHOWER IS GIVEN FOR RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. Wilbur Cardis, formerly Miss Elizabeth Pool, was honored at a tea and shower given yesterday by Miss Lucille Hensley, who was assisted by Mrs. Walter Cozad and Miss Lorraine Skelton.

Guests included Mesdames J. O. Pool and George Macy; Misses Velma Runyan, Virginia Lindstrom, Arlene Neese, Virginia Watwood, Marjorie Brown, Helen and Cloe Kidwell, Jean Burnside, Jean Moore, Esther Brown, Doris Ellis and Mary Skinner.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Reception Is Arranged

Mrs. C. E. Nagle is to receive friends from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. She is to be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Dodson.

Society Moves at Fast Pace, Writer Notes

Comings and Goings of Local Residents Not to Be Predicted.

BY BEATRICE BURGAN

THE society editor becomes distracted annually at this time of the year. The result of attempting to keep track of the comings and goings is about the same as watching all the acts in a three-ring circus.

No sooner do we think we have every one settled in their favorite vacation spots than they are up and gone again to another. We scarcely have a "hostess" word that she's had all her guests, when a long-lost college classmate comes breezing in to town.

We have all the college and school youngsters settled down at home, concentrating on their fall wardrobe shopping, and then a note from a classmate lures them away.

Then we give up predicting who we will see at the next party.

Mrs. Cummings Returns Home

Mrs. J. I. Cummings came home Saturday from a visit with her husband's parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Cummings, Brownstown. Her sister, Miss Jane Drake, had left shortly before for Lake Wawasee for a vacation with a former Tudor Hall classmate, Miss Betty Amos, Edinburg.

Miss Julia Fletcher has gone to Roaring Brook, Mich., to vacation with Mrs. Edwin Stott. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. O. Speers and son David are at home again, enjoying in retrospect the pleasures of Roaring Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Wolf were at Burt Lake, Mich.,