

BIG DROP SEEN IN STATE 1936 CORN HARVEST

Decrease of 48,000,000
Bushels From 1935 Is Purdue Forecast.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 14.—Purdue University today estimated that Indiana corn this year will harvest at 25 bushels to the acre for a yield of 111,900,000 bushels as against 160,474,000 bushels last year.

August and September heavy rains were credited with remedying to some degree the damage done by early summer droughts over much of the state, M. M. Justin, who made the forecast, said.

Those same rains, he said, have slowed farm work to the extent that there now is a shortage of farm labor in the state for the "first time in many months."

The oats yield in the state was estimated at 27 bushels to the acre for a state total of 36,072,000 bushels. Oats stocks on farms were estimated at 27,415,000 bushels as against 28,185,000 bushels a year ago.

Corn stocks on farms were estimated at 11,386,000 bushels as against 3,598,000 bushels a year ago, and wheat stocks were estimated at 11,312,000 bushels, 657,000 bushels less than a year ago, although the yield is estimated to have been greater this year than last by about 7,000,000 bushels.

The report continued: "Condition of potatoes was five points above last month because of late rains in the muck land of northern Indiana and the indicated yield is 68 bushels per acre against 80 last year, giving a production of 4,216,000 bushels. The sweet potato crop also improved during September with prospects for a yield of 80 bushels per acre."

"Condition of soybeans was one point higher last month with an indicated acreage of soybeans lower than last year. A production of 3,094,000 bushels is estimated against a figure of 5,899,000 bushels last year."

"The yield of tame hay was estimated to be 95 ton per acre against 138 tons last year. Because of the rain, pasture conditions especially in the central and northern part of the state, improved 30 per cent. The production of tobacco was reported 15 points above last month, giving a yield of 683 pounds per acre. A production of 378,000 bushels of apples was forecast."

SPEECH IS SCHEDULED
Miss Blanche Stillson is to speak at 8:15 p. m. tonight at the Herron Museum on "The Life and Letters of Vincent Van Gogh."

Chester Harding Portraits Are Nucleus of 'Family Album Show'

OFFICERS ARE NAMED BY STATE REBEKAHS

Miss Anna Belle Gaynor, Indianapolis, new president of the Rebekah Assembly, I. O. O. F. of Indiana, was to confer today with her deputies and inspect the Odd Fellows Home for the Aged and Orphans at Greensburg.

She was elected yesterday. Others named were Mrs. Cecelia Monical, Washington, vice president; Mrs. Grace E. Child, re-elected secretary for the eleventh year, and Mrs. Margaret M. Harrison, Muncie, treasurer. Mrs. Violet Gibbons, Terre Haute, is retiring president.

Election of the warden was scheduled for today, with Mrs. Retta Gaunt, Greensburg; Mrs. Gladys Dunkle, Kokomo; Mrs. Margaret Stotter, Fort Wayne; Mrs. Lena Johnson, Whiting; Mrs. Minnie Shipley, Martinsville; Mrs. Ada Smith, Rochester; and Mrs. Della McArthur, Hillsdale, as candidates.

BUREAU TO ASSIST VISITING TEACHERS

The convention bureau is making arrangements to maintain a clearing house to assist delegates to the Indiana State Teachers' Association here next Thursday and Friday obtain hotel or room accommodations. This action was announced by Henry T. Davis, secretary-manager of the Indianapolis Convention and Publicity Bureau, as he predicted a record attendance.

BANKERS HEAR DATA ON NEW BUSINESS

BLUFFTON, Ind., Oct. 14.—Bankers were urged to investigate the possibilities of monthly payment loans as an added revenue source by E. S. Woosley, Louisville banker, in an address before the Regional Clearing House Association here today.

The consumer credit field has been revolutionized by growth of the automobile, radio and refrigerator business in the last 25 years, he told the bankers.

"The amount of consumer credit outstanding in the form of loans in 1935 indicated a total in excess of all commercial loans made by all the banks of this country," Mr. Woosley pointed out.

T. I. Walsh, of the Standard Statistics Co., Chicago, pointed to future bond business as added earnings for banks.

John F. Hull, Evansville agricultural agent, advised bankers of the importance of mutual understanding between bankers and the farmers.

TOWNSEND BIDS FOR I. U. STUDENT VOTES

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 14.—Defending the national and Indiana taxation systems, Lieut. Gov. M. Clifford Townsend, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, today made a bid for the student vote at Indiana University.

Speaking before an overflow crowd in Assembly Hall, he said: "Before Democrats came into power early in 1933, many young couples planning marriage were afraid to attempt to buy homes because they feared excessive property taxation."

"That was growing into a dangerous problem," he said, "but it's different now. The burden has been taken off that small percentage of population, the home owners, and distributed among all."

John C. Dugan, 80, at 630 N. Pennsylvania, uremia.

Ira Ruth Stark, 42, at 1013 High, cerebral apoplexy.

Harry Ward, 63, at 1131 N. Capitol, arteriosclerosis.

DEATHS
John Joseph Sullivan, 45, at 2833 E. 1st, coronary occlusion.

Andrew A. Peck, 75, at 2025 N. Meridian, coronary occlusion.

Elmer Ostermyer, 50, at 5693 N. Delaware, coronary occlusion.

Louise Byrd, 41, at Douglas, cardiovascular disease.

John C. Dugan, 80, at 630 N. Pennsylvania, uremia.

Herron Art Institute Seeks Pictures for Display in November.

BY JOE COLLIER
"Chester, I want to speak to you about your mode of life. I think it is little better than swindling to charge $40 for one of those effigies."

Thus spoke Chester Harding's papa in the early 1800's after one of the trips into Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and other Middle Western states, painting portraits of the wealthy as he went and building up a reputation that for a while, in the East and in England, was second to none of the painters of the time.

The elder Mr. Harding was a New England farmer and had no sympathy at all for "effigy painting." But the pictures have come to be collector's items, and the Herron Museum of Art in Indianapolis is fortunate to possess two of them.

Used as Nucleus of Show
They are to be used as the nucleus of the November "Family Album Show."

Wilbur Peat, director, has announced and for which the museum staff now is accepting offers of contributions.

The pictures, Mr. Peat says, that will be hung in the exhibition are to come from the attics and off the drawing-room walls of Indianapolis homes, and they will, he predicts, add a great deal to the history of Indiana art before, during and for a period immediately after the Civil War.

Stories of the pictures themselves are likely to prove interesting. Mr. Peat said. For instance, the harrowing experiences of the pair of Chester Harding's now in the museum's permanent collection, may be typical of the journeys of other pictures which Mr. Peat hopes will be uncovered and undusted for the exhibition.

It also is significant, he said, that now, as the campaign for pictures gets underway, the museum, for the first time, has identified the sitters of the portraits.

Unkempt Discovery
In 1923 Edward R. (Bill) Gilgour, Indianapolis art dealer, was poking around in a Mr. Zimmerman's shop in Cincinnati, and he came across the two paintings, horribly unkempt and in need of repairs.

He asked for a price, and Mr. Zimmerman said they were commissioned to him only for the sale of the frames. But, he said, he would ask his client for a price on paintings as well, and eventually he got to the museum. And so around these pictures is to be built the "Family Album" show Mr. Peat is staging.

Mr. Gilgour had the pictures in his possession for three years, where they were admired by J. Arthur MacLean, formerly director, but he could not raise the purchase price from museum funds.

Miss Lucy Taggart eventually bought them and presented them to the museum. And so around these pictures is to be built the "Family Album" show Mr. Peat is staging.

Grocery and Fruit Stores
Have Eatmor Cranberries
SERVE FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE TODAY

Painted in Cincinnati, Belief
One picture was of Capt. Charles J. Bunker, and the other of Miss Hardaway's father's sister. They were painted by Mr. Harding, she said, before the Civil War.

Harding died in 1886. Capt. Bunker was in the service of the North, she said, and from decks of his boat he was a sea captain, as museum officials long had suspected because of the maritime background in the picture's title.

Mr. Gilgour had the pictures in his possession for three years, where they were admired by J. Arthur MacLean, formerly director, but he could not raise the purchase price from museum funds.

Miss Lucy Taggart eventually bought them and presented them to the museum. And so around these pictures is to be built the "Family Album" show Mr. Peat is staging.

Man Bites Snake
A Mexican laborer working on a Rotan (Texas) ranch was bitten on the hand by a rattlesnake.

"Wait," said the Mexican, when his fellow workers hastened to kill the reptile.

Snarling the snake with his hands, he held it back of the head, wrapped a handkerchief around its middle and bit through the cloth.

In a few minutes the rattlesnake was dead.

OLD LANDMARK IS RAZED HERE

Vinton Home Was Built 75
Years Ago and Had Walls
Covered With Lace.

Wreckers today began the destruction of an old Indianapolis landmark, rich in the social, civic and family tradition of the city.

It was the home of Almus E. Vinton at 14th and Meridian-sts., and is said to have been built 75 years ago by Francis Costigan, a Philadelphia architect who also built the famous Lanier home in Madison.

It is to be razed to make way for a new salesroom of the Roy Wilmoth Co., an automobile agency, and was sold to the new owner after Mrs. Elizabeth V. Pierce, daughter of Mr. Vinton, died July 8, this year.

The home contained walls covered with lace 500 years old, an old Franklin open wood stove, an antique door bell that rang in different tones to summon different members of the family, and a couch that came originally from the home of an overseer of George Washington's slaves.

Members of the Pierce family still living are a son, Henry Douglas Pierce Jr., a daughter, Mrs. Frederic Krull, and two grandchildren, and a twin brother of Mrs. Pierce, Lindsey Vinton, New York.

HATCHERIES TO BE ENLARGED
Members of the Indiana Farm Bureau Co-operative Association at a meeting in the Claypool Hotel yesterday made plans to increase the capacity of co-operative chicken hatcheries from 700,000 to 900,000 next year.

of the North, she said, and from decks of his boat he was a sea captain, as museum officials long had suspected because of the maritime background in the picture's title.

Mr. Gilgour had the pictures in his possession for three years, where they were admired by J. Arthur MacLean, formerly director, but he could not raise the purchase price from museum funds.

Miss Lucy Taggart eventually bought them and presented them to the museum. And so around these pictures is to be built the "Family Album" show Mr. Peat is staging.

Grocery and Fruit Stores
Have Eatmor Cranberries
SERVE FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE TODAY

Painted in Cincinnati, Belief
One picture was of Capt. Charles J. Bunker, and the other of Miss Hardaway's father's sister. They were painted by Mr. Harding, she said, before the Civil War.

Harding died in 1886. Capt. Bunker was in the service of the North, she said, and from decks of his boat he was a sea captain, as museum officials long had suspected because of the maritime background in the picture's title.

Mr. Gilgour had the pictures in his possession for three years, where they were admired by J. Arthur MacLean, formerly director, but he could not raise the purchase price from museum funds.

Miss Lucy Taggart eventually bought them and presented them to the museum. And so around these pictures is to be built the "Family Album" show Mr. Peat is staging.

Grocery and Fruit Stores
Have Eatmor Cranberries
SERVE FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE TODAY

Painted in Cincinnati, Belief
One picture was of Capt. Charles J. Bunker, and the other of Miss Hardaway's father's sister. They were painted by Mr. Harding, she said, before the Civil War.

Harding died in 1886. Capt. Bunker was in the service of the North, she said, and from decks of his boat he was a sea captain, as museum officials long had suspected because of the maritime background in the picture's title.

Mr. Gilgour had the pictures in his possession for three years, where they were admired by J. Arthur MacLean, formerly director, but he could not raise the purchase price from museum funds.

Miss Lucy Taggart eventually bought them and presented them to the museum. And so around these pictures is to be built the "Family Album" show Mr. Peat is staging.

Grocery and Fruit Stores
Have Eatmor Cranberries
SERVE FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE TODAY

Painted in Cincinnati, Belief
One picture was of Capt. Charles J. Bunker, and the other of Miss Hardaway's father's sister. They were painted by Mr. Harding, she said, before the Civil War.

Harding died in 1886. Capt. Bunker was in the service of the North, she said, and from decks of his boat he was a sea captain, as museum officials long had suspected because of the maritime background in the picture's title.

PERSONAL AIMS RULE GAS FIRM, ATTORNEY SAYS

Business Interests of City
Utility Directors Conflict,
Club Members Told.

BY FREDERICK G. MATSON
Responsibility for the failure to bring natural gas to Indianapolis was charged to the "conflicting interests" of some City Utilities District directors by Clinton H. Givan, attorney, in a speech before members of the North Side Federation of Clubs last night at the Marott Hotel.

Mr. Givan, speaking on "Why Indianapolis Does Not Have Natural Gas," specifically named Henry L. Dithmer, Utilities District directors president, and D. J. Angus, another director, as having "personal reasons" for not wanting cheaper gas rates here.

Mr. Dithmer said today: "The record of my activities as a member of the City Utilities District directors speaks for itself and I decline to comment further."

Mr. Angus could not be reached for comment.

Mr. Givan, who is the attorney for the Users' Gas Co., which last year sought a franchise to enter Marion County, but whose backers never have been made public, criticized the recent "luncheon club tour" of Mr. Angus.

"With all respect to Mr. Dithmer, who is a fine citizen, I want to call attention to the fact that he is in the coal business," Mr. Givan said.

Cites Business Connections
"If I was in the coal business, I wouldn't want cheap gas," he said. Mr. Dithmer is president of the Polar Ice and Fuel Co.

"Mr. Angus is a manufacturer of electrical appliances, an industry which is a direct competitor of the gas industry," Mr. Givan said. Mr. Angus is president of the Esterline-Angus Co.

"People of Indianapolis never are going to get cheap gas, as long as coal and electrical appliances are sold, unless they demand it," Mr. Givan declared.

"Mr. Angus has made a series of conflicting statements on the price of producing gas made by the Citizens Gas Co., and the price that could be obtained if natural gas were brought into the city," Mr. Givan charged.

Declares Other Firms Available
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

NAMED G. O. P. HEAD U. B. MISSIONS TO BE SUBJECT OF CONFERENCE

Field Workers and Church
Leaders to Speak at Meeting Here.

Missionaries from far corners of the earth, bishops and leaders in the Women's Missionary association of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ are to be in Indianapolis tomorrow for the association's quadrennial convention which is to continue through Monday.

All sessions of the convention, including the association's sixtieth anniversary, are to be held in the Brookside United Brethren Church. The association's girls' department is to open its congress Friday.

A fellowship prayer meeting is to be held Sunday at 8 a. m., at which time members of the denomination throughout the world are to join in prayers of praise and reconciliation.

Speakers Are Named
The convention is to open at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow with devotions led by Mrs. S. Hough of Dayton, national president. The remainder of the afternoon is to be devoted to appointment of committees and reports of association officers.

The night meeting is to be featured by three addresses. Mrs. Mabel D. MacDonald, Lingnan University, Canton, China, is to speak on "The Challenge of the Missionary Situation in South China." Mrs. Esperanza A. Cuyugan, from the Philippine Islands, is to address delegates on "The Rising Filipino Church and Its Leadership." The closing prayer will be by Bishop I. D. Warner, Portland, Ore.

Reports of committees and an open forum discussion session under the direction of Miss Alice E. Bell, secretary, are to be held Friday morning. Speakers Friday afternoon are to include Dr. V. O. Weidner, Miss Georgene McDonald, Dr. S. G. Ziegler, the Rev. C. W. Leader and Miss Janet Gilbert.

Mrs. Poling to Talk
Mrs. Daniel A. Poling, who with her husband, Dr. Poling, recently has returned from a trip around the world in the interest of the International Christian Endeavor Society, is to be one of the principal convention speakers. She is to talk Friday night.

Bishop H. H. Fout, Indianapolis senior bishop of the United Brethren Church, is to deliver the sermon at Sunday morning worship services on "The Christ Who Leads Onward."

WOMAN SLUGGED, ROBBED
Mrs. Mary Eades, 30, of 3427 E. 10th-st., was slugged and robbed of $3 as she entered her home yesterday, according to police.

'BIRTH CONTROL' CLUB
RECORD KEPT SECRET
NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 14.—A procession of husbands, sweethearts and employers were turned away from the office of the chief of police today when they asked permission to examine the "Birth Control Club" records kept by Dr. J. George E. Harley, 66, chiropractor.

The album of photographs, which the elderly practitioner held over the heads of the patients who paid him an estimated $4000 a week, will not be shown to any one, Chief Philip Sebald said.

DECLARED OTHER FIRMS AVAILABLE
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

DECLARED OTHER FIRMS AVAILABLE
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

DECLARED OTHER FIRMS AVAILABLE
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

DECLARED OTHER FIRMS AVAILABLE
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

DECLARED OTHER FIRMS AVAILABLE
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

DECLARED OTHER FIRMS AVAILABLE
"In addition to the Users' Gas Co., there are three or four other natural gas firms from whom Indianapolis citizens can buy cheaper gas today," Mr. Givan said. He declined to name these firms when asked.

"The Citizens Gas and Coke Utility paid $7000 to an engineer who made a report on the gas situation in Indianapolis and then never carried out his recommendation to get natural gas," Mr. Givan asserted.

He was referring to the report made last December by W. E. Steinwedell, Cleveland, consulting engineer, which recommended the use of straight natural gas by the local utility as the means of getting cheaper gas rates here.

IN INDIANAPOLIS

MARION COUNTY TRAFFIC TOLL TO DATE

1936 ..... 121
1935 ..... 112

TRAFFIC ARRESTS
Oct. 13
Speeding ..... 1
Running red light ..... 1
Running preferential street ..... 1
Reckless driving ..... 0
Drunk driving ..... 5
Others except parking ..... 5

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS
Accidents ..... 5
Injured ..... 6

MEETINGS TODAY
National Star Route Carriers' Association, convention, Hotel Severin, all day.
Indiana Independent Order of Odd Fellows, convention, Hotel English, all day.
Democratic Rally, 7:30 p. m., Social Security Symposium, 8 p. m., Kiviana Club, luncheon, Columbia Club, noon.
Lions Club, luncheon, Hotel Washington, noon.
Purdue Alumni Association, luncheon, Hotel Severin, noon.
Twelfth District, American Legion, luncheon, 1:30 p. m., Delaware-st.
Associated Employers, dinner, Hotel Washington, 6:30 p. m.
Indiana Bankers' Association, meetings, Hotel Claypool, all day.
Apartment Owners' Association, luncheon, Hotel Washington, noon.
East Arcadianists, luncheon, Hotel Washington, noon.

MEETINGS TOMORROW
INDIANA INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODD FELLOWS, convention, Hotel English, all day.
LABOR'S NONPARTISAN LEAGUE, meeting, Murat Theater, 7:30 p. m.
INDIANAPOLIS CONFERENCE OF BANK AUDITORS, dinner, Hotel Washington, 7 p. m.
ALLIANCE FRANCAISE, Hotel Washington, 8 p. m.
ADVERTISING CLUB OF INDIANAPOLIS, Columbia Club, noon.
BROTHERHOOD OF LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS, meeting, Hotel Washington, 8 p. m.
SIGMA CHI, luncheon, Board of Trade, noon.
AMERICAN BUSINESS CLUB, luncheon, Columbia Club, noon.
ACACIA, luncheon, Board of Trade, noon.
FEDERAL BUSINESS MEN, luncheon, Hotel Washington, noon.
SIGMA NU, luncheon, Hotel Washington, noon.
CARAVAN CLUB, luncheon, Murat Theatre, noon.
MOTOR TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION, luncheon, Hotel Antlers.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
(Incorrect addresses frequently are given to the Marriage License Bureau deliberately. The Times in printing the official list assumes no responsibility for such addresses.)
George Clifford Ferguson, 31, of 117 1/2 N. Alabama-st., salesman, and Thelma Hamilton, 19, of 2923 N. Chester-st., musician.
Thomas Elwood Graham Jr., 27, Grand Rapids, Mich., fruit grower, and Florence Mary Ann Blatz, 27, Grand Rapids, Mich., furniture maker.
Emerson Hamilton, 26, of 368 N. Illinois-st., stenographer.
Myron Joseph Coppe, 30, of 413 E. Woodward-st., candy store proprietor, and Frankie Hancock, 24, of 400 W. Merrill-st., Luke Sandeshbury, 24, of 1428 Columbia-st., laborer, and Rebecca Ramsey, 21, of 1428 Columbia-st.
Ralph Weimer Collins, 34, of 1820 Central-st., railroad foreman, and Esther Marie Bohm, 30, of 4120 Rockwood-av., nurse.
Raymond Albert Dettlerich, 32, Flint, Mich., salesman, and Mary Alice Leeds, 18, Columbus, O., beauty operator.
Louis B. Schubert, 24, Indianapolis, timberman, and Leonard Katherine Grady, 19, not listed.
Howard Frank Ross, 25, Union, Ind., personnel work, and Frances Baker, 26, of 1633 N. Alabama-st.
Louis Albert Dawson, 27, of 4928 Central-st., radio dealer, and Mary Love Hewlett, 24, of 2414 Broadway, copy writer.
Austin Fenley, 22, of 2823 Cornwell-st., salesman, and Mae Louise Sumner, 20, R. 2, Box 100, R. 2.
Robert Leary, 22, Columbus, O., truck driver, and Mildred Beard, 21, Indianapolis, seamstress.
Charles Eckles, 31, Kokomo, Ind., laborer, and Leona Kirby, 30, of 1216 E. Harding-st.

DIVORCES GRANTED
These lists are from official records at the County Courthouse. The Times is not responsible for any errors of names or addresses.
Margaret S. Zimmerman from Isaac Zimmerman.
Vinton A. Blakeley from Marguerite O. Blakeley.
Ada Hickman from Edward R. Hickman.
Margaret Rieder from Daniel W. Rieder.
Isa L. Meyers from Stanley D. Meyers.
DIVORCES FILED
Nelle Hans vs. Edward Hans.
Norma F. Robins vs. Leon A. Robins.
William Goot vs. Inez May Goot.
Lena Lucille Willey vs. Clark James Willey.
Pamela R. Orr vs. Isham Orr.
Abigail Campbell vs. Fred L. Campbell.
Georgia Sandlin vs. Lester Sandlin.
Leola May Bruce vs. Jesse B. Bruce.
Mauro Hynes vs. Birdie Hynes.
Edith Wolfe vs. William Wolfe.
Dorothy White vs. Florence Pfeiffer Poltor.
Ada Helen Holdreth vs. Edward Holdreth.
Ethel Owens vs. Ollie Owens.
George S. McHaffey vs. Jessie McHaffey.
Edna Fairfield vs. Harold Fairfield.
Everett E. Milford vs. Mildred F. Lehnert.
Norma M. Coffey vs. Earl Coffey.

BIRTHS
Girls
Harold, Eva Okey, at 834 N. Jefferson.
Horace, Jewel Timmons, at Methodist.
John, Margaret Schick, at Methodist.
Cecil, Mildred Linton, at Methodist.
John, Bonnie White, at 4000 Ball's more.
Boys
Robert, Geraldine Elmore, at Methodist.
Walter, Virginia Dolk, at Methodist.
Edith, Eva Willard, at Methodist.
Paul, Marie Hoffman, at 3869 Byram.