Landon's Birthplace Put in Turmoil by His Kiss

Did Gov. Alf M. Landon kiss his first nurse, Aunt Molly Baird, or another woman whom he mistook for Mrs. Baird at West Middlesex, Pa.?

Sample Reports Jealousy Over Incident Is Roosevelt Aid.

BY PHELPS SAMPLE
Times Special Writer

WEST MIDDLESEX, Pa., Nov. 2.—The political fate of this birthplace of Gov. Alfred M. Landon may hang upon a single kiss.

It was an innocent smack—that "kiss of destiny." It occurred in plain view of thousands of people, about 3:50 p. m. Aug. 22.

Maybe you don't remember that day, but West Middlesex does. That was the day Gov. Landon came "back home" to open his campaign for the presidency.

Flags were flying everywhere. Bands playing.

Gov. Landon stepped sprightly upon the speakers' platform. Cheers split the heavens. He advanced to the center of the stage, where the committee of home folks waited.

Welcoming hands were thrust at him. He grasped them all. But one woman he kissed.

Maybe he thought it was Aunt Molly Baird, his first nurse. Maybe it was a distant relative.

At any rate, the cameras clicked and the crowd whooped, recognizing good, old-fashioned political strategy when they saw it.

The rest of the nation has long forgotten that kiss. But West Middlesex has far from forgotten. For it has stirred up the bitterest political row a town of 1181 is likely ever to see.

Crowd Wahoosed

Gleefully the Democrats boast that instead of aiding the Landon cause, the rally stirred so many local jealousies that now Roosevelt has an excellent chance of carrying the town.

The kiss incident is the outstanding example of what happened in the backwash of the big day.

It seems that a couple of women wanted to take credit for getting kissed by Gov. Landon.

The story also was spread that Gov. Landon had erred and kissed the "wrong" woman.

Dr. B. L. Tinker, a registered Republican who has served two terms as Burgess, indicated the reaction such a state of affairs might produce when he remarked:

"One woman even said that since she would be getting the credit for being the one kissed, she thought she ought to have had it. It's silly stuff like that that's hurting Landon here."

Second Whirlpool

Democrats have set a second whirlpool in action by charging the wrong woman was picked out to play the part of the Governor's first nurse.

Mrs. Baird has been accepted and acclaimed as the Landon nurse while, Democrats claim, the "real" nurse was Mrs. Catherine King, who died three years ago.

So close has the election fight become as a result of such jealousies that both parties now claim a majority of the registration.

Mrs. Frank Bear, Democratic committeewoman, said her figures show 291 Democrats and 289 Republicans, giving the Democrats the lead for the first time in history. The swing to the Democrats to give them the lead has occurred since the rally, she said.

But the official registration lists in the hands of Fred Webb, a Republican, show 330 Republicans and 299 Democrats.

The Democrats explain this by saying that the registrar just keeps putting the people down for the same party year after year, and that many who are for Mr. Roosevelt have never bothered to have their party affiliation changed.

Directors Chosen

A committee of six high school teachers today was appointed to direct the third annual Constitutional Essay Contest sponsored by Hayward-Barcus Post 55, American Legion.

The announcement was made following a conference of Edward F. Hofstatter, post commander; Arthur F. G. Gemmer, Americanism committee chairman, and School Superintendent Paul C. Stetson.

Committee members are Russell V. Sigler, Shortridge, chairman; Milo D. Burgess, Technical; A. R. Williams, Manual; Miss Myrtle Johnson, Washington; Miss Florence Will, Broad Ripple, and Irvan Armstrong, Crispus Attucks.

Helps END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warm cloth.

Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages of the nose, throat and chest.

This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

While the little patient relaxes into comfortable sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets
This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.
