

NEW LAW SETS INAUGURATION DATE JAN. 20

Roosevelt First President to Be Sworn Into Office in Midwinter.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, the next President of the United States will be inaugurated in mid-winter for the first time in history—Jan. 20, instead of March 4, as a result of the Norris "lame duck" amendment.

Four years ago he was inaugurated on the center of Capitol steps on March 4. The day was hazy, chilly and windy.

Term Cut Short

Next year, as a result of an amendment to the Constitution sponsored by Senator George Norris (R., Neb.) the President must take his oath of office almost eight weeks before any predecessor—in January—often a blustering, snowy month even as far south as the languid Potomac.

Norris sponsored the constitutional amendment in the belief that the "lame duck" Congress in modern times was a relic of the past, with its slow transportation arrangements.

Now with airplane and streamlined train, he argued the will of the people in a November election should react on legislation with the beginning of the new year after the election.

Congress Meets Jan. 5

Thus Congress will meet—a new Congress—on Jan. 5, and a President be inaugurated on Jan. 20. President Roosevelt therefore finds himself the first President in history with a term cut short.

One major hazard to the inauguration has resulted from the Norris amendment. Previously a "lame duck" Congress has met in January—a Congress already organized—to give official benediction to the electoral college count.

The new amendment provides that on Jan. 5, one day after the new Congress convenes, House and Senate will sit in joint session and give legal status to the electoral vote.

Inauguration day often has been a day of rough weather, straining the physical strength of government officials, particularly of Justices of the Supreme Court who usually attend en masse.

CATHOLIC GROUP HERE TO JOIN IN PROGRAM

Indianapolis and Indiana members of the Catholic Daughters of America are to join members of other units throughout the country in participation in the international movement, "Today's Challenge to Catholic Womanhood," starting Nov. 15.

The movement is designed, according to organization officials, to further a "real youth movement," Catholic education, the National Converts' League, extension of senior citizens and junior circles, patriotic and community activities and various other projects.

LUDLOW FILES FIRST CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Louis Ludlow, re-elected to his Twelfth District seat in Congress today was the first to file his campaign expenses with the Marion County Clerk.

Mr. Ludlow listed expenses of $1332.20 for the campaign with $400 of the amount given to the county Democratic committee.

REP. LEMKE RETAINS SEAT IN CONGRESS

By United Press
BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 5.—Rep. William Lemke, whose Union party presidential candidacy was "sniped under" in the Roosevelt landslide, retained his seat in Congress, practically complete returns from Tuesday's general election showed today.

UTILITIES SHOW BUSINESS GAIN

Seasonal Slump in October
Still Above Margin in 1935, Report.

The $1,305,207 of the same month in 1935, Mr. Popp reported.

A decline of $1,014 also was reported in construction work last week. Despite the October drop, building valuations so far this year are more than $3,000,000 higher than for the first 10 months of 1935, Mr. Popp said.

Seasonal adjustments in domestic accounts show a net loss of about $5 customers during October, the Indianapolis Water Co. reported today. Sales to industrial and commercial customers were up over the same month in 1935. Total pumpage likewise showed a slight gain as compared with the corresponding period of 1935, company officials said.

The Indianapolis Automotive Trades Association reported today that 1222 new cars were sold in September this year as against 803 in September last year; 16,258 new cars sold for the first 10 months this year as against 12,384 for the similar period of last year.

In the state, 8195 new cars were sold in September this year; 5608 in September last year; 77,450 for the first 10 months of this year; 76,113 for the first 10 months of last year. More gasoline was burned, too, according to the report of the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Board. In October this year $5,823,846 gallons were reported to the bureau as against $4,711,850 gallons October last year, a gain this year of 6,411,695 gallons.

Tax paid on this fuel in October was $2,153,089.92, while the tax income from this source October last year was $1,903,214.49.

Gasoline Taxes Gain

During the first 10 months of this year gasoline taxes in the state have amounted to $18,175,644.19 and in the same period last year they amounted to but $16,302,719.30.

The Indiana State Employment Service already has reported that October saw a rise of 1 per cent in employment; 7.4 per cent in pay rolls; 8.1 per cent in man hours over September of this year. The service noted in its report that such increases were contra-seasonal.

A 60 per cent gain in wholesale sales in Indiana in 1935 over 1934, when the last previous report was made, was shown by a business census summary from the Department of Commerce at Washington today. In 1935 there were 4322 wholesale establishments in the state with net sales amounting to $635,594,000, while in 1934 there were 4229 with sales of $596,107,000. Net sales in 1935 were still short of the 1929 peak by 28 per cent, the Bureau of Census reported. Employees increased from 20,781 in 1934 to 23,536 in 1935, a gain of 13 per cent. During the same period the pay roll increased from $25,754,000 to $33,021,000, or 28 per cent. The full-time employees pay roll gained 30 per cent and part-time 25 per cent. In addition the census shows 2181 active proprietors and firm members of unincorporated businesses, not included in the employees count nor the compensation in the pay roll figures.

CENTRAL TIME WINS IN CHICAGO VOTING

(Copyright, 1936, by United Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Chicago's millions may turn their clocks back one hour, North Dakotans may get their first legal liquor, and Aug. 30—Huey Long's birthday—will be a legal holiday in Louisiana next year, as a result of three of the many referenda in Tuesday's general elections.

Florida voters barred slot machines in 37 of their 55 counties, but authorized them in at least two. Floridians also voted for state-paid old-age pensions.

Washington's power bond proposal was rejected, along with a $15,000,000 flood control bonds issue, a production-for-use plank, and an authorization of a state income tax. Chicago may return to its former system because a popular vote approved central time for seven months and "daylight saving" time for the summer.

M'NUTT TO ADDRESS KANSAS TEACHERS

Gov. McNutt, his desk filled with floral tokens of affection, spoke in his press conference today of the national Democratic victory and said he planned to go to Kansas tomorrow to address two district meetings of the Kansas State Teachers Association.

He is to speak at Fort Scott tomorrow morning and at Coffeyville tomorrow night. Saturday he is to return to French Lick for a Democratic victory celebration.

He made no comment on his plans after Jan. 11, when Mr. Clifford Townsend, his successor, is to be inaugurated.

SAFETY BOARD GETS BOMBING COMPLAINT

W. F. Fuller of the Indiana Barbers' Protective Association, complained to the Safety Board today that a "stink bomb" was thrown into a shop at 132 E. Court-st last night, the third in recent weeks.

"Of course the police sent men out to investigate, but investigations don't clean up the stink," Mr. Fuller said.

Chief Morrissey said this was the first report he had received of the stench bombings and scored Mr. Fuller's organization for reporting the incident first to the Safety Board instead of the police.

Two other barber shops were bombed recently.

LATE RETURNS INCREASE LEAD OF DEMOCRATS

Rep. Halleck Is Re-elected;
New Dealers Add 12
Assembly Seats.

Hugh A. Barnhart, Democrat, he emerged a victor by 4693, with only four of the district's 412 precincts yet to be tabulated. The vote was: Halleck, 71,922; Barnhart, 67,228.

The President's plurality over Gov. Landon in Indiana was approximately 55,000 greater than the margin by which he defeated Herbert Hoover in the state four years ago.

In 1932, Gov. McNutt had a plurality of 93,210 over Judge Springer, who was making his second bid for the gubernatorial chair.

"Scratch" voting as a result of a concerted G. O. P. drive against the McNutt administration was given as the reason by party leaders for Judge Springer's polling approximately 63,000 more votes than the Kansas Governor.

Increase House Seats

President Roosevelt and Lieut. Gov. Townsend carried into office with them a complete slate of state office candidates.

The Democratic landslide in the state also was marked by the re-election of a Democratic congressional lineup of 11 members. Addition of 12 seats to raise the party majority in the House of Representatives of the Indiana General Assembly to 71 as compared to 23 for the Republicans.

Election of 23 of the party's candidates for the 26 senatorial posts open for contest in the State Legislature.

Sweeping victories in the county governmental contest.

Gov. Landon retained his hold on six of 10 counties carried by Mr. Hoover four years ago. They were Wabash, Lawrence, Hamilton, Hendricks, Porter and Rush. The other four which the Republicans carried in 1932 swung into the Democratic column. They were Union, Henry, Delaware and Randolph.

Gray Clings to Lead

Rep. William H. Larrabee, New Palestine, and Louis Ludlow from the Eleventh and Twelfth Districts, respectively, made it a runaway win for the Democrats over Republican opponents.

In the Tenth District, home of Judge Springer, Congressman Finly Gray, Connerville, had a closer race, his lead in the contest so-called normally Republican stronghold. He was leading Clarence Brown, Richmond, by 2200 votes.

Mrs. Jencks Far Ahead

Indiana's only Congresswoman, Mrs. Virginia Jencks from the Sixth District (Terre Haute), held a commanding lead of approximately 23,000 over her Republican rival, Noble Johnson, whom she defeated two years ago.

Other Democratic Congressmen far out in front were William T. Schulte, First District; Samuel B. Pettengill, Third; James I. Farley, Fourth; Arthur H. Greenwood, Seventh; John W. Boehne, Jr., Eighth; and Eugene B. Crowe, Ninth.

Rep. Glen Griswold, Peru, Fifth District, dealt a blow to backers of the Townsend Old Age Pension as he maintained a lead of about 1200 over his Republican opponent, Benjamin Brown, Kokomo, backed by the O.A.P.

A feature of the voting in Marion County was that Henry F. Schrick, clerk of the county, ran ahead of all other Democratic candidates with the exception of the President. He outdistanced his rival, Joseph B. Kyle, in the county by 36,616 to 125,755 to 89,138.

Sheriff Ray led the field of Democratic county candidates for re-election. He polled 125,540 votes against 87,957 for William Bosson, Jr., giving him a plurality of 37,483.

Vote for Prosecutor

Complete returns show Herbert M. Spencer, Democrat, re-elected county prosecutor by 30,147 or 126-365 to 89,218 for William Henry Harrison.

Dr. Ethelbert Wilson's plurality over his Republican opponent for coroner was 36,582.

BUILDING EMPLOYE REQUESTS AID, DIES

James E. Smith, Majestic Building employe, today died in his apartment at 2028 1/2 Massachusetts-av. He was 48. The body was ordered removed to the city morgue by Dr. E. F. Wilson, deputy coroner.

John Pfleger, living in the next apartment, said that early this morning Mr. Smith summoned him and asked him to call a doctor. He said when he returned, Mr. Smith was dying and that he then called the police.

PAYS ELECTION BET ON CIRCLE

A heavy demand for peanuts and wheelbarrows was noticed here today as "second guessers" on the election outcome started to pay off their bets.

Here's James C. Malin, Republican, doing the honors, with Michael Bart as his passenger. Starting with a police escort on Monument Circle, Mr. Malin trundled Mr. Bart around the downtown section yesterday afternoon.

Saved Again Attempt to Throw the Election Into 'House of David' Fails.

BY WILLIAM H. MC'CALL
United Press Staff Correspondent

BURLINGTON, Wis., Nov. 5.—"Something," sighed O. C. Hulett, "went wrong in the election."

Mr. Hulett wanted to be President, and took a cue from William Lemke, Union Party candidate who planned to make the vote close enough to throw the contest into the House of Representatives, where he might win by a vote of Congress.

"I thought we could get enough votes to throw the election in the House of David," Mr. Hulett said, "and win by a hair."

"But something went wrong. The people have spoken."

Mr. Hulett is president of the Burlington Lions' Club, and that presidency will be enough to keep him busy for the rest of the year. Election years are especially productive of the unvarnished truths which will be judged New Year's Day by Mr. Hulett, Gilbert Kester and L. J. Skane.

The author of the most preposterous yarn will receive a diamond medal like the one Jim (Fibber McGee) Jordan of Chicago got last year for telling how he used subzero weather to kill a rat. Mr. McGee put cheese-bait below a thermometer and the mercury dropped so low it caught the rat between the ears.

MR. HULETT already has 4500 lies from which to judge. They come from every state and half a dozen foreign countries.

Animals figure in most of the yarns. In the story of Mrs. L. Hunkleman, Flint, Mich., it was the family cow who tried to eat the apple peels discarded by her husband during a noon-day snack. The cow died of overeating.

Oliver H. Hunt of Kentucky told of a wild turkey he shot half-way up a precipice. He climbed an icicle to retrieve the bird, and slid down out of control. He didn't recall the height of the precipice or the icicle, but he did so fast and so far that the turkey was roasted when he hit the ground.

Pete Pringle, Hollywood, reported that mosquitoes were setting so fierce in Alaska that they threatened to exterminate the eagles. However, a friend of his solved the problem by mating a tropical insect-eating fish with a flying fish, Mr. Pringle said. The new hybrid pursues the Alaskan mosquitoes, through the air.

SEVEN KILLED IN CAR CRASHES THROUGH STATE

Rushville Man Is Victim of Accident West of Indianapolis.

Seven more deaths, one in Marion County, were added today to Indiana's traffic toll.

John Green, 23, Rushville, whose car collided with a truck on State Road 52, eight miles west of the city, died today before he could be taken to a hospital. The Marion County traffic fatality figure reached 132.

Ralph Atkins, R. R. 7, Box 286-B, the truck driver, told deputy sheriffs he was turning into a side road when Mr. Green's car crashed into his vehicle.

Thomas Lorenz, Purdue University freshman and resident of Marion, was killed, and three other Marion residents were injured, one seriously, when their car was struck by an interurban freight train at a crossing in Kokomo last night.

Young Lorenz, driver of the car, was thrown 40 feet by the impact. Fred Goldsmith, 18, a passenger, was reported in serious condition with a crushed chest.

Injuries received in an automobile accident Oct. 24 were fatal yesterday to Gerald Swindell, 20, of Newcastle. Two others were killed instantly in the accident.

John W. Sieb, 75, Valparaiso banker and civic leader, died today from injuries received a month ago when struck by a hit-and-run driver.

John Tryon, 53, of near Blackhawk, was killed instantly and a companion, Earl Shandler, Terre Haute, was injured critically yesterday when their car collided with a truck at a highway intersection near Terre Haute.

Ann Welch, 55, died today from injuries suffered Monday when struck by a truck at Fort Wayne.

Fred Meyers, 60, was killed on a highway near South Bend last night when struck by a truck driven by Z. R. Golz, Madison, Ill.

Eight other persons were injured, three seriously, in automobile accidents here yesterday.

Freeman Acres, 6, of 4132 Oliver-av, received a broken leg and internal injuries when the car in which he was riding with two other children side-swiped a truck at 4400 W. Washington-st. He was taken to Riley Hospital where his condition today was described as serious.

Juanita Stout, 12, of 1433 Kenyon-st, and Bobby Vance, 9, of R. 3, were treated for cuts and bruises. Roy Palmes, 4057 Boulevard-pl, driver of the car, also was injured slightly. Police arrested Mike Vargo, 42, of R. 7, Box 66, truck operator, on a drunken driving charge.

Jacob Miller, 63, of 804 Spring-st, was reported in serious condition at City Hospital today from injuries received when his car crashed into a parked automobile at Pleasant-st and State-av. He had a possible fractured skull, physicians said.

Running after a football in a 306 E. 11th-st, yesterday, William Brate, 20, was struck by a truck driven by Newton Day, 32, of 1134 N. Arsenal-av. City Hospital physicians today described his condition as serious.

Various Democrats of prominence also lost. Gov. James Curley lost out in Massachusetts in his campaign for a Senate seat. Rep. William Rogers was defeated in New Hampshire in his try for the Senate.

Down the Hatch

By United Press
GENEVA, Nov. 5.—Carlo Beltramo, proprietor of the famous League of Nations bar at league headquarters here, has invented the Roosevelt cocktail in honor of the American President's election triumph. It is based on a 48-part formula, in honor of the 48 states—10 "states" of white Holland curacao, 10 of English gin, 8 of grapefruit juice, 18 of French vermouth, one of angostura bitters and one of absinthe, the absinthe to be dropped gently on top of the cocktail.

"Drink one and watch the land slide," Beltramo invited.

DEMOCRAT TIDE FILLS CONGRESS

F. D. R. Assured of Support for Legislative Program.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The tide of increased Democratic congressional strength surged on today assuring President Roosevelt a new Congress prepared to approve his next reform and economic legislation program.

Latest returns from Tuesday's election indicated a Senate with 74 Democrats and 18 Republicans and a House of 335 Democrats and 89 Republicans. Along with sweeping congressional victories, Democrats appeared to have won in 26 of 30 gubernatorial contests.

Administration leaders were beginning to fear that the huge majorities in Congress might be unwieldy and hard to keep in line. Some party leaders had privately, before the election, hoped for a reduction, believing party lines could be tightened if faced with an aggressive Republican minority.

Extent of the congressional victories assured continuance of ironclad House rules, which for four years have served to prevent action on scores of anti-administration bills.

Dimensions of the Democratic victory showed vividly in a comparison of results of the congressional election two years ago. In the House there was an indicated increase of 13 Democratic seats, in the Senate an increase of four was assured.

Close House fights were still unsettled in 10 states, with 11 Democrats and nine Republicans holding the edge in undecided contests. In Minnesota the Farmer-Laborites were ahead in four contests and may pick up a Republican seat.

Many of the arch-critics of the New Deal were sent back defeated. Among these were Senators Lester J. Dickinson of Iowa, Jesse H. Metcalf, Rhode Island; Daniel O. Hastings, Delaware; W. Warren Barbour, New Jersey; Robert D. Carey, Wyoming. Similarly, House Republicans lost some of their best leaders including Rep. Chester Bolton, Ohio; Rep. John Hollister, Ohio; Rep. Schuyler Merritt, Connecticut; and Rep. Isaac Bacharach, New Jersey.

Various Democrats of prominence also lost. Gov. James Curley lost out in Massachusetts in his campaign for a Senate seat. Rep. William Rogers was defeated in New Hampshire in his try for the Senate.
