

INDIANA HOUSE ADOPTS BAN ON PRISON GOODS

Action Unanimous on Bill Barring Such Sales on Open Market.

New Labor Measure

It would:

1. Give workers the right to assign their wages claims to the Labor Commissioner (an office to be established if the Senate Labor Department Bill is ratified.)

2. Require employers to post payrolls.

3. Require an employer to pay a worker within 24 hours after separation from or discharged by a concern.

4. When work is suspended due to a labor dispute, the employees must be paid at the next regular pay day.

The Senate Labor Department Bill was reported out of committee without amendment. In addition to establishing a Labor Commissioner, it would give the Labor Department broad powers to arbitrate in labor disputes. The arbitration would be voluntary, however, it was pointed out.

Await Townsend Return

Final action on major labor and taxation measures is not expected to be taken until Governor Townsend returns from Washington. The Governor is to attend the Roosevelt inauguration.

Two "public morals" bills had first reading in the House and are expected to excite heated debate later. They would:

1. Set tavern closing time one hour earlier every night but Saturday when it is to be two hours earlier, and prohibit sale of alcoholic beverages on Christmas and election days.

Ban on Bank Nights

2. Make theater "bank nights" and other alleged lottery schemes illegal.

The Lawyers' Ethics Bill would ban ambulance chasing; provide revocation of admission to the bar by any Circuit or Superior Court; allows disbarment under accusation of a felony and prohibits soliciting of lawsuits.

Small retail merchants may receive gross income tax relief if the Legislature adopts the recommendations expected to be made by the special Gross Income Tax Revision Committee.

The committee may recommend that the exemption of $1000 on receipts of small merchants be either doubled or tripled.

According to Kenneth L. Ogle, the Indiana Committee proposals have been prepared with the help of the Indiana University Institute of Criminology as well as leading judges and prosecutors.

Provisions Are Given

The Committee measures to be introduced this week would:

1. Tighten change of venue provisions of the present statute and strike out the provision that a case cannot be tried until the next succeeding term of the court in the county to which the case is taken. It would permit trial as promptly as possible.

2. Require the defendant to pro-

Ravenswood Mops Up After White River Recedes

White River may be back in its banks at Ravenswood, but the dirty work just has started.

On the left you see Roy Goodpasture (right) sweeping out the mud deposited by the river when it moved into his Happy Landings four-foot deep during the flood. It's an old job to him—he's been doing it for years. Fred Scheuer is helping him.

Deloris Musgrave is pretty disgusted over it all as she cleans out her little cottage. In fact, she may move out if she can find a house inside the city limits. That's Hank Hunter helping her shovel out the muddy water.

prehensive discussion of the automobile strike situation with John L. Lewis, strike leader, and Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan.

The conference was held in the office of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

She was aided by Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward J. McGrady and James Dewey, labor conciliator. No hint of the specific nature of the discussion was given by any of the participants.

24-Hour Picket Line On Duty at Anderson

Anderson, Jan. 19.—Striking employees of the Guide Lamp Co., makers of equipment for General Motors Corp., today assumed a watchful-waiting picket line during developments in the G. M. C. strike.

Hugh Thompson, United Automobile Workers strike leader here, said a 24-hour picket line is on duty at the lamp plant, but that picketing has resulted in no violence.

pensions. Before the session ended Congress also had overridden the President on the soldiers' bonus issue, approving the long-disputed plan for immediate payment of the $2,300,000,000 due in Adjusted Service Certificates.

AAA Principles Revived

During 1935-1936 came a revival of the AAA, through legislation providing subsidies for soil conservation to farmers, and "piecemeal" NRA substitutes, foremost of which were the Wagner Labor Relations Act and the Guffey Coal Act.

The Administration launched with Congressional approval a work-relief program, calling for $4,880,000,000, the major part of which was to put 5,500,000 unemployed to work on Government co-operative jobs. The program was continued with a similar $1,425,000,000 appropriation during the last session.

The Social Security Act was the major measure passed by Congress during the last session of the President's first term. It launched a program for security for those 65 and over and for those losing jobs. The plan provided that states were to co-operate through their own setups.

Tax Policies Continued

President Roosevelt carried forward New Deal tax policies by enactment of a "tax the rich" bill, imposing high taxes on the wealthy, on the estates of the wealthy, and on corporation income. The second session of the 74th Congress enacted a bill placing new levies on undistributed corporate surpluses as a means of forcing earnings into the hands of individual spenders.

Banking, financial and stock market legislation marked the early Roosevelt recovery program.

Other Important Measures

1. The Neutrality Act providing an arms embargo against belligerents.
2. The Reciprocal Trade Authority, enabling the Administration to make agreements with foreign nations for interchange of goods regardless of tariff restrictions.
3. The Federal liquor control set-up calling for an Alcohol Control Administration and Federal liquor taxes—approved after the states approved Roosevelt-sponsored repeal of prohibition.
4. Establishment of the Tennessee Valley Authority—originally designed to give a "yardstick" to power costs to consumers.
5. Measures putting the Congress on record for a $1,000,000,000 national defense program annually.

Apparently the victim of a hit-and-run motorist, the body of Matthew Griffin, 27, of 2348 N. Arsenal Ave., was found early today in the 1600 block on E. 25th St. Mr. Griffin's death brought Marion County's 1937 traffic toll to six, one more than at this time last year.

Police said the body was found by Wallace B. Graham, 26, of 5706 E. 17th St., who was driving his automobile east on 25th St. The body was lying in the middle of the street. A tire mark on the clothing starting at the right foot and ran up the leg to the body and over the head, which was crushed.

Four other traffic accidents were reported yesterday and 67 arrests on traffic charges were made. Alleged violations of the "no left turn" law drew particular attention, with 28 arrests at the intersection of New York and Pennsylvania Sts.

STABILIZATION BILL PASSED BY SENATE

Approval Also Expected in House Today.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The Senate today rode down Republican opposition and voted extension of the $2,000,000,000 Stabilization Fund Act, and the President's power to devalue the dollar.

The Senate action came as the measure was brought up in the House for debate with expectation that passage would be completed today so the bill can be sent to the White House.

The Senate acted after rejecting by a vote of 32 to 43 an amendment by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R. Mich.) for a complete audit of the operations of the huge stabilization fund when the power finally expires.

Under the bill passed today—second of three extension bills asked by the President—the powers are extended to June 30, 1939.
