Many of the homeless found quarters with friends at Juneau, four miles away. Others were quartered in the new Indian school, one of the few sizable structures not destroyed. ## Ready to Get Out of Harness

Officer Elza Tooley . . . going to take it easy.

Elza Tooley Quits the Force— Lieut. Don Will Carry on for Him

Officer Elza Tooley, who has had more arguments in pinocle games than in 30 years of duty as a policeman, is going to doff his uniform March 1 and take it easy.

The Safety Board has accepted his resignation, effective that day, just four days before he would complete three decades of service.

Ill health is the reason for his retirement, but anyhow he thinks he's served long enough and that his son, Lieut. Donald Tooley, can carry on for him and do the law enforcing for the Tooleys.

Mr. Tooley was 35 when he came here from Milford, Ind., to join the force.

"There wasn't any merit system then," he said. "I just filed my application like you would for any other job and got it."

Served Under Six Chiefs

Robert Metzger was chief. Officer Tooley has served under five since then—Martin Highland, Jerry Kenney, George Coffin, Samuel Parrott and Michael Morrissey.

Officer Tooley says he's never had any really thrilling experiences, never got mixed up with any of the modern gangsters, because, for one reason, he was through walking a beat before their day.

"Of course," he said, "during those first three years when I walked an Indiana Ave. beat I had to handle some pretty tough customers, but never had much argument with them. You know I believe size had something to do with it."

Officer Tooley stands an even 6 feet. He weighed 245 pounds about that time.

Five years were spent on Monument Circle and during the World War he was detailed as a guard at the city water works.

For the last 18 years he's been assigned to the Union Trust Co. and things have been pretty quiet on his banking room "beat." He said rather than have trouble with people he's always employed persuasive means, even in the pinocle games.

Always a Home Guard

"But sometimes our card games get a bit exciting," he smiled. "But they're just family affairs and we have a lot of fun when we get together to play. I mean the children, Don, Stanley, Horace and Mrs. Mabel Smith."

After March 1?
"I'm going to take it easy, read a good bit, and then next spring work in my vegetable and flower garden next door to home at 2216 E. 10th St. Then next fall I think Mrs. Tooley and I will go to Florida to live. That will be the farthest I've gone in a long time. Never got out at night. Haven't been to a theater in about 15 years. Always been a home guard."
