K. of C. Here To Sponsor Cross Ritual
Chorus of 4000 Will Aid Priests in Liturgy of Devotions.

Outdoor devotions of the "Way of the Cross" are to be held for the first time Good Friday afternoon, March 26, on Obelisk Square of the War Memorial. The services are to be part of city-wide observance of Good Friday, promoted by the Interdenominational Good Friday Committee, composed of Protestant and Catholic laymen and clergymen. The outdoor devotions, under auspices of the local Council of the Knights of Columbus, will be observed from 2:15 to 3 p. m. on Good Friday. Conducted on a gigantic scale, with a massed chorus of 4000 parochial school children and girls from Catholic high schools, the devotions may be heard by the public. Fourteen wooden crosses, blessed prior to the ceremony, will be hung with pictures of the Passion of the Lord and placed around Obelisk Square.

Bishop Gives Approval
The liturgical part of the ceremonies will be under direction of the Rev. James W. Moore, Knights of Columbus chaplain and assistant pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church. The Rev. Francis J. Early, Philip Neri Church assistant pastor, will direct the massed chorus. Bishop Joseph E. Ritter already has approved the outdoor service, and permission to use the World War Memorial Plaza was obtained this week from the Memorial trustees.

The Knights of Columbus committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Norbert S. O'Connor, chairman; the Rev. James W. Moore, William J. Greener, Humbert P. Pagani, James F. Lynch, Frank J. Noll Jr., William H. Bradley, James H. Drew, Paul E. Just, Cletus Brockner, Frank H. Langenkamp, Jerry Coghlan and Leo N. Hurley.

Cardinal O'Connell Says Films Must Be Watched

By United Press
NEW YORK, March 13.—His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, Boston, strongly criticized moving pictures and radio today when he returned aboard the Carinthia from a vacation in Nassau.

The senior American Cardinal, in one of his rare interviews, said the movies "have to be watched all the time." He expressed satisfaction with the defeat of the Child Labor Amendment ratification in New York State.

"We find youth as spiritual minded as ever," he said. "We know that because we are in touch with them. They are just as loyal to their faith as their parents were ever."

"They are a little less tolerant of guidance, more reluctant to accept even the kindest guidance, but we don't find these things in the Catholic children. The danger today is in the increased and continued use of the movies and the radio."

"The children today are compelled to listen over the radio to rotten ballads that are sickening. The sentiment is not of love but of crazy, foolish, maudlin sentiment of low-down sexual passion."

"It breaks down the self-control, and it has an influence to wreck the virile characters of boys. Turn on your radio at any hour of the day or night, and you have to listen to the songs of queer people. It is not a healthy atmosphere."

The Rev. Mr. Rogers will open the series at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, speaking on "Reconsecration." The Rev. G. O. Carpenter, Central Avenue Methodist Church pastor, will preach Monday evening; the Rev. Verdie Allen of the Wheeler Mission, Tuesday; the Rev. Mr. Rogers, Wednesday; the Rev. W. C. Hartinger, Methodist district superintendent, Thursday; and the Rev. Mr. Rogers, Friday.

Morning services Sunday, March 21, will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Rogers and the Rev. S. E. Long, United Brethren evangelist, will preach on Sunday evening.

Speakers during the second week will include the Rev. G. E. Lowry, Southport Methodist Church pastor; the Rev. H. E. Eberhardt, Wheeler Mission superintendent; the Rev. H. G. Lyle, Fletcher Place Methodist Church pastor, and the Rev. Mr. Rogers.

All evening services will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson—Jesus Prays for Disciples

Text: John 16:3-7; 17:14-26

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 14
By W. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

THIS lesson on Jesus praying for His disciples recalls the words of Jesus to Peter at the Last Supper, "Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not."

Essentially, this was the prayer of Jesus for His disciples, that their faith should not fail, and that they should be equal to the burdens and responsibilities that they had accepted in becoming His disciples.

The love of Jesus for His disciples and His deep concern for them was, if anything, intensified by His realization that some would leave them. He knew they would miss His supporting presence, and the inspiring effect of His own example of faith and courage.

Consequently He assured them that He would send them the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whose presence would sustain them and who would bring to them all that His own early living presence had meant.

In the presence of some, at least, who remembered and recorded His words, He prayed to the Father for the disciples, whom He was leaving. He realized that they would be in a hostile world where men would hate them. Yet His prayer was not that they would be taken from the world, but that in this world of evil, they should be kept from evil. His earnest yearning was that they should be sanctified in the truth.

Jesus was sending them into the world in the same spirit and with the same purpose that the Father had sent the Son into the world. Supremely He had devoted Himself to them, and it was His earnest prayer that the same sanctification might be theirs.

Nor was He praying for only the immediate circle of disciples. He perceived that there would be disciples of days to come, men and women who would see the truth, and accept it as it was proclaimed by those whom He was sending forth.

For these disciples the earnest prayer was that they might be strengthened in the unity of love. His one great purpose was that the love that the Father had for the world might become the love dominating every relationship among the disciples themselves.

What a deep and wonderful conception we have of the nature of discipleship and of what the fellowship of disciples in the church might be if churches everywhere were marked by this unity of spirit and purpose, and if they fulfilled in every respect the reality of the Master's prayer!

What strength and inspiration it should give to us individually to know that Jesus prays for each of us as He prayed for Peter, and that we have an eternal intercessor who would put all the forces of God behind us to keep us strong, and true, and faithful!
