

Offers of Positions Exceed Number of Indiana U. Seniors

Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 29.—More jobs available than there are applicants to fill them.
That is the situation at Indiana University, where the number of positions offered to seniors by the Personnel and Placement Bureau now exceeds the number of students registered for placement, according to Prof. E. E. Edwards, director.
"It appears that practically all students who are registered will have an opportunity to step into a job after graduation," Prof. Edwards said today. "Many of the offers were made following interviews of seniors by personnel representa-

New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Akron and Schenectady and several Midwestern cities for interviews. Expenses were paid, in most cases, by the companies they visited, Prof. Edwards said.
Twenty-two of the students receiving offers during vacation have accepted positions and are to report for work following graduation at salaries averaging $110 a month, Prof. Edwards said.
SEVEN ARE HELD
Seven Negroes, two of them women, were to face gaming charges in Municipal Court today as the result of a police raid on an establishment in the 700 block Indiana Ave. last night. Officers said they found a dice game in progress.

SCIENCE TO RESCUE MUMMIES FROM FOXES

By Science Service
WASHINGTON, April 29.—Rescuing ancient mummies from hungry foxes is one aim of a Smithsonian Institution expedition now preparing to start for Alaska.
The expedition, led by Dr. Ales

Hrdlicka, noted anthropologist, will return to the Aleutian Islands, off Alaska, where last year they found some of the elusive mummy caves that once were scenes of strange Aleutian Island burials.
Salvaging the mummy bundles is
