9000 Petition to Reopen Plant; Davey Gets Peace Rebuff.

posed to Bethlehem that an election be held to settle the contract issue as regards that company.

S. C. I. O. attorneys, fighting a Republic petition for an injunction against picketing at Warren and Niles, O., obtained a court order requiring Republic to produce company records regarding purchase of munitions, hiring of guards, and alleged labor spying.

Acting Postmaster General W. W. Howes informed the House Postoffice Committee in Washington that "normal mail service" had been maintained at steel plants, except for "a few instances where the mails were delayed."

Governor Davey's invitation to Girdler and Purnell personally followed two unsuccessful joint conferences in which the Governor was unable to shake the determination of the companies not to sign a C. I. O. contract.

John L. May, regional C. I. O. director in Youngstown, summarized the union's attitude: "We will give our answer on the picket line."

The lines, thin for many days, were being strengthened.

Police Aid Recruits

Governor Davey said the use of the Ohio militia had not been considered yet. But it was understood arrangements had been perfected to call it out at the first violence that seemed in danger of getting beyond local control.

Memories of the worst battle of the strike so far—the Silesia, with the death of a ninth victim of the Memorial Day clash in Chicago between strikers and police.

Around the Youngstown headquarters of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, the C. I. O. agency that called the strike, leaders were cheered visibly by President Roosevelt's comment on the strike.

The President was asked at a press conference whether refusal to sign a contract violated the spirit of the Wagner act. He did not reply directly, but asked why a company should not put its name to an agreement if it were willing to make a verbal compact, as the steel companies have said they would.

Hopes to Cut Off Ore

Lewis already has moved to cripple supplies of materials that the steel companies would need for extensive resumption of operations. He has ordered members of the United Mine Workers to stay away from the mines on which the mills depend for the coal vital to steel making. He has sent organizers to the ore fields of Michigan and Minnesota to try to cut off supplies there.

Rockwood Co. and S. W. O. C. to Sign Pact

Rockwood Manufacturing Co. officials and Steel Workers Organizing Committee representatives today were to sign an 18-month agreement providing a 7 1/2-cent an hour wage increase and assigning sole bargaining rights to the union. Thomas Hutson, State Labor Commissioner, said. Approximately 400 workers are affected by the agreement, he added.

WORKER KILLED IN MINE

VINCENNES, June 16.—Parfait Favherbe, 43, of Bicknell, was crushed to death yesterday in a slate fall at the American Mine No. 2, near here. Ralph Stiles, who was working with Favherbe on a loading machine at the extreme end of the mine, escaped injury.

WARNS OF EFFORTS TO OUST UNIONISTS

'Escorting' of Organizers From State Illegal.

Attempts to oust or "escort" union organizers from Indiana towns are "illegal," and may result in criminal action, State Labor Commissioner Thomas Hutson warned today.

Reports that union workers had been chased from several Indiana towns in the last two weeks brought the warning.

"Proper investigation" will follow reports of further violations, Mr. Hutson said.

"It has been the declared policy of the State of Indiana that workers have the right to assemble peacefully for the purpose of forming a labor organization; that they have the right to advise and notify persons of such activity; that they are within their rights to form a labor organization for the benefit of the workers in any given industry," he continued.

"Kidnap Charge Hinted

"Therefore it is unlawful for any citizen or group of citizens to forcibly or fraudulently carry off or decoy any person or persons from any place in the State of Indiana and escort them beyond certain limits of any community. Such actions may constitute conspiracy to incite a riot or an act which constitutes kidnapping."

"The Government of the United States and the State of Indiana guarantee the right of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly and freedom of press and in order to preserve these rights it is the duty of the Labor Division to cause proper investigation to be made where such rights are alleged to be violated."

BILBAO'S FALL LATE TONIGHT EXPECTED

Basques Fight Attackers at Close Quarters.

By United Press

HENDAYE, French-Spanish frontier, June 16.—Reports reached the frontier today that Basques might seek to enter Bilbao late tonight. The city is under martial law.

Despite the reports, Basque Loyalist resistance was maintained and the defenders fought fiercely in areas about the suburbs.

Rebel planes bombarded the cemetery outside the city because of a troop concentration there.

In the Galdacano region southeast of Bilbao, hand-to-hand fighting with knives was reported.

Rumors circulated there was fighting between Basques and Asturian miners in Bilbao because the miners wanted to blow up buildings before the Basques entered.

THIRD CUMBERLAND BANK SUIT IS FILED

Former Officials Now Ask Recovery of Notes.

Former officials of the defunct Cumberland Bank today brought their third suit against the State Financial Institutions Department in Marion County courts.

Filed in Superior Judge Joseph Williams' court the suit seeks recovery of $21,054 worth of notes and mortgages for which the officials claim joint ownership.

Carl A. Floch, state liquidating agent, also was named a defendant. The plaintiffs, Edwin C. Huntington, William Gale and John Emery, charged "mismanagement of the bank's assets" in earlier suits filed within two months in Circuit and Superior Courts.

Roosevelt Aid In Johnstown Clash Asked

from inside the plant and a bombardment of stones that broke plant windows—left the strike center tense and prepared for a major test when the shifts of workmen change this afternoon.

Greatest danger of violence lay in preparations for the first test of efforts to break the picket lines on a major scale—a test considered likely to affect efforts to reopen strike-bound steel plants in seven states where the C. I. O. has demanded that four big independent companies sign union contracts.

Real Test Awaited

But at the gates of the mighty mill and in the streets of the workers' district, it was apparent that the real test had not yet come. Two persons were injured during the 24-hour period. Monelle Scott, 19, R. R. 7, Box 254, received minor injuries in a crash at Leonard and Prospect Sts.

Clem Smith, 522 Blackford St., was hurt this morning when his automobile went into a ditch on the Millersville Road. He was brought to City Hospital.

Thomas E. Earps, 1709 1/2 Michigan St., told Deputy Sheriffs that the motorman repeatedly blew the whistle.

Mr. Morgan is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; a son, Robert, and daughter, Mabel, all of Southport.

Forty-two motorists were to face traffic charges in Municipal Court today.

LOGANSPOUT, June 16.—A 91 and a 90-year-old Civil War veteran today sought the office of state commander of the G. A. R. at the 58th annual Indiana encampment here.

They are Dr. John Stone, 91, Kokomo, and Joseph Thompson, 90, Solersbury.

The election of a successor to Quincy A. Hunt, Terre Haute, is scheduled for this afternoon. Election also are to be held by the Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Daughters of Union Veterans. The Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans are to elect tomorrow.

Kokomo is bidding for next year's encampment. Selection of the meeting place is to be made this afternoon or tomorrow. The annual parade of the veterans is scheduled for 2 p. m. today.

ROOSEVELT DRAFTS POLICY ON WEALTH

Confers With Leaders on Redistribution.

$36,000,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year, then decline. The figure has increased steadily since he took office.

Roosevelt had plans to balance the budget in 1938-1939. He said spending would meet Government income under his redistribution plan as Federal revenue increased with the expansion of national wealth.

Estimates Increase

Secretary of Commerce Roper estimated the 1936 national income at $63,000,000,000, an increase of almost $9,000,000,000 over 1935. The Treasury Department based its 1937-1938 budget on around $6,750,000,000 in Federal income as against $5,200,000,000 for 1936-1937.

Any plans Mr. Roosevelt might have for enlarging on legislation already introduced to increase the income and hence the purchasing power of the low-income groups, were not revealed.

Mr. Roosevelt had given strong intimation of his redistribution plan before. In his second inauguration address, Jan. 20, he said:

"I see one-third of a nation ill-housed, ill-clad, ill-nourished. It is not in despair that I paint you that picture. I paint it for you in hope—because the nation, seeing and understanding the injustice of it, proposes to paint it out."

Later, at a press conference, he announced that the Administration's work-relief spending policy would be shaped to pour money into consumers' goods such as food and clothing and less into heavy goods as steel and cement.

the policies of the Marion County Auditor."

Explaining his filing of the suit, Mr. Grossart wrote in part: "We have been advised by the county attorney that this law is unconstitutional. You perhaps are not aware that we have a personal responsibility for any county funds unlawfully disbursed by us. "We are advised that there is nothing in the statutes that would lessen our responsibility by showing your orders as justification for our unlawfully paying out taxpayers' money. This office does not pay out public funds until fully assured that the recipient is lawfully entitled to the same."

Suit Recommended

Monday the State Welfare Department made a formal demand on Mr. Grossart to pay $877 salary to Mr. Neal, covering services for part of March, April and May.

The new Welfare Act, giving the State Welfare Department the power to appoint the Marion County director, was passed by the Legislature, March 3, two days after Peter A. Cancilla, Baker's associate, slugged Wayne Coy, former State Welfare Director.

Constitutionality of the law was questioned first by the previous County Welfare Board, headed by Superior Judge L. Ert Slack. That board resigned in April after the State Board threatened to bring mandamus proceedings to force payment of Mr. Neal's salary.

A new board approved the new director's salary and criticized political maneuvering in welfare activities. The board approved Mr. Neal's salary despite a reported opinion given by John Linder, county attorney, that the law was unconstitutional.

Suit Recommended

Yesterday, however, Mr. Linder declined to give an opinion on the Welfare Act to Mr. Grossart, and recommended that the suit for declaratory judgment be filed.

The auditor's suit named Mr. Baker, Mr. Neal, the County Welfare Department and the State Welfare Department as defendants.

It stated: "Baker claims said act of
