into action if pressed too far, for there was the danger of a revolution if it capitulated too plainly.

The Japanese have driven the Chinese troops out of Tientsin, and are searching the city for snipers. They had blasted Chinese troops from the Tunchow area east of Peiping, where the Chinese stormed—and probably annihilated—a small Japanese force.

Japanese artillery and airplanes were exacting bloody vengeance from Chinese troops entrenched in the hills west of Peiping.

Chinese Attack

Chinese troops and irregulars of the northern army attacked near Tientsin at intervals today and the firing of artillery, in addition to the rain of rifle bullets, persisted.

Foreigners at Tientsin spent an anxious night thronging darkened roof gardens in the foreign concession districts, watching the flickering flames from fires in the crowded Chinese city, still burning after yesterday's Japanese airplane bombardment.

Troops of Italy, France, Japan and Great Britain behind sandbag and barbed wire barricades guarded the boundaries of the foreign concessions. The American consulate, situated in the British concession, was safe. The 15th United States Infantry guarded its own barracks buildings south of the British concession.

Eden Says Britain Trying to Avert War

LONDON, July 30.—Great Britain intends to do everything in her power to avert war in the Far East and is maintaining close contact with France and the United States, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared in the House of Commons today.

He deplored the present conflict between China and Japan.

War Spirit Flares Throughout Japan

TOKYO, July 30.—War spirit flared throughout Japan today as the government indicated it might take advantage of the Chinese crisis to try to form an autonomous North China regime.

Every hour saw a heightening of the martial spirit. Newspapers rushed extras to the streets, news reels of fighting showed to packed houses, civil, labor and political organizations flooded the government with resolutions of support and of thanks to the army.

STOLE GEMS FROM CAR WRECK, CLAIM

ANDERSON, Ind., July 30.—Gerald Wade, 34-year-old Alexandria mail messenger, was held here today on a charge of grand larceny.

He is accused by State Police of having stolen money and diamonds found in a wrecked automobile owned by Julian Charanonek, Pueblo, Mexico, when the car burned after a collision north of Alexandria. Wade was brought here and pleaded not guilty in Madison Circuit Court.

The Mexican and his wife are recovering from injuries in an Elwood hospital.

Murphy Seeks Substitute for Own Labor Bill

the bill was "hurriedly drafted in the closing hours of the adjournment session on June 23" and contained provisions which were open to misinterpretations.

His chief objection to the bill was a provision which would make it unlawful for workers to picket any factory in which they were not employed. He wanted the provision revised to allow any member of a labor union which calls a strike to take part in picketing. This would have been limited, however, to members living in the city in which the strike took place, "or in one adjacent thereto."

Bike-Web Considers Appeal to Cummings

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 30.—Officials of the strike-bound Bike-Web Manufacturing Co. today considered an appeal to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings for enforcement of a Federal Court injunction banning mass picketing of its plant.

About 700 pickets milled about company gates as officials for the third time postponed reopening.

Asbestos Employees Return to Work

HUNTINGTON, Ind., July 30.—Employees of the Asbestos Manufacturing Co. returned to work today when officials of the United Automobile Workers Union accepted a company proposal late last night which ended a strike in progress since July 20.

Washington Plant Furloughs 500

WASHINGTON, Ind., July 30.—Notice of indefinite furlough for 500 employees of the Reliance Manufacturing Co. plant was posted today by D. M. Fasley, superintendent. Lack of orders was given as the reason.

TARKINGTON MARKS 68TH ANNIVERSARY

KENNEBUNKPORT, Me., July 30.—Booth Tarkington was 68 years old yesterday. The writer, working on a new novel, did not celebrate the event, but had a few friends for dinner at his summer home last night.

SYPHILIS FIGHT MAPPED HERE

State Medical Association, City Health Board to Launch Drive.

secretary, are members of the committee.

Active in the campaign against the spread of syphilis since 1918, the City Board is expected to recommend such specific measures as making pharmacuticals available to local physicians at wholesale cost; immediate reports on venereal infections without waiting for final Wasserman reports, and more adequate reports from physicians.

Some physicians have suggested that a clearing house for records be established in a central city, such as Indianapolis. It may be housed in City Hospital here, it was said.

If approved, the Indianapolis project would serve as a testing ground for the Middle West, local physicians said. Similar central clearing houses then could be set up in other state cities.

Would Aid Noninfection

Proponents of the isolation ward explained that a 20-bed ward probably would render more than 500 syphilis cases noninfectious each year. From three to five weeks are required to bring syphilis to local noninfectious stage, it was explained.

Previous proposals that the State Health Board act as a clearing house for all Wasserman tests have met with strong opposition. It is reported, however, that a State Board ruling which requires physicians to swear that their patients are paupers in order to receive State laboratory assistance, may be abolished.

The State Association is expected to recommend this action.

In addition to urging establishment of the record clearing house as a necessity in the local campaign, the City Board committee also is expected to ask co-operation of police authorities, courts and civic organizations.

The city committee also may recommend that food and drink handlers be examined before being allowed to serve the public, it was reported.

Dr. Harvey also announced that he is seeking a method to require blood tests for venereal diseases before issuance of marriage licenses. While no Indiana statute has been found to support the requirement, the State Health Board head said the ruling might be effected. Illinois recently passed a law requiring the tests before marriage.

Co-operation Needed

Meanwhile, both City and State leaders in the campaign contemplated a program similar to one now being conducted in Chicago. Citizens there are to receive questionnaires asking if they would like to have a blood test for syphilis by their family physician and at no cost to them.

The replies are to be sent in postage-free envelopes and are not to be signed. The returns will indicate the extent of facilities needed to provide Wassermann tests for willing citizens, officials there claim.

Questionnaires are to be mailed at the rate of 50,000 daily, until each of Chicago's 3,500,000 inhabitants has been asked to answer.

Accompanying the questionnaire is a letter from the president of the Chicago Board of Health containing such phrases as these: "More than one-half million men, women and children in the United States are infected with syphilis every year, many of them innocently. . . . The support of every citizen is necessary, if syphilis is to be eradicated."

The sheer magnitude of the Chicago census sets it apart from past efforts of public health men to learn the true extent of venereal infection. Partial counts of syphilis victims were made in New York City in 1926 and 1935, resulting in the conclusion that 5 per cent of the population were infected, with only one in eight or nine victims under medical care. resident aliens and restrictive taxes aimed at multiple trusts.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton said the joint group would meet Tuesday to go over the final draft. He predicted further loophole closing legislation would be forthcoming next session.

Meanwhile, a meeting of a non-partisan bloc of House members, pledged itself to oppose all efforts for adjournment until the Wage and Hour bill is enacted. The meeting claimed support of 80 congressmen. It was called at the suggestion of a committee of 17, including three Republicans, two Progressives and 12 Democrats.

Participants in the House non-partisan bloc meeting said they desired not only labor legislation, but virtually the entire immediate program of the Administration.

A resolution was adopted, stating: "We wish it understood that we stand ready to stay in session until agricultural, farm price stabilization, housing and other necessary legislation is enacted."

The meeting was attended by 23 Democrats, nine Republicans, two Farmer-Laborites and two Progressives.

Price Bill Doubtful

Agreement by a Senate-House conference committee to permit the Miller-Tydings resale price-maintenance bill to be attached as a "rider" to the District of Columbia tax measure today left the fate of the Miller-Tydings proposal uncertain.

There were indications President Roosevelt still opposed the Miller-Tydings measure.

The bill, which would permit manufacturers and retailers to set minimum prices where such action is allowed by state compacts, was hitched to the controversial District of Columbia tax bill when it was approved by the Senate. House conferees permitted the "rider" to stay in the tax bill.

The joint congressional committee on sugar met today with Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Interior Ickes and representatives of the Agricultural and War Departments, without any indication that an agreement had been reached to end the stalemate in sugar marketing legislation.

NEW FLIGHT HINTED BY SOVIET ACTIVITY

4-Motor Plane Reported Ready for Start.

By United Press

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 30.—Two Soviet technicians worked hurriedly and secretly on an airplane refueling base here today, presumably for another trans-polar flight from Moscow to the United States.

It was reported that a four-motored passenger plane was ready to take off from Moscow with Sigmund Levanovsky, famous Russian flier, at the controls.

Michael Bakov, hydro-meteorologist for the Soviet Government, came here by plane Thursday from Juneau, joining S. Smirnov, Russian radio engineer, who came from Anchorage after conferring with U. S. Weather Bureau and Signal Corps officials.

Two landing fields are available here. At Seattle, Wash., Weather Bureau officials said they had been supplying reports to Moscow for two days.

partment of Health conducted more than 300,000 blood tests last year and reported a constant increase in the number of applicants for such tests.

Co-operation in the Chicago fight are medical men and the clergy. The United States Public Health Service described the city-wide census as "the first time that any city has attacked a major disease so intelligently and so thoroughly."

A leading physician of Baltimore already has said that he believes a similar campaign would be welcomed in that city.

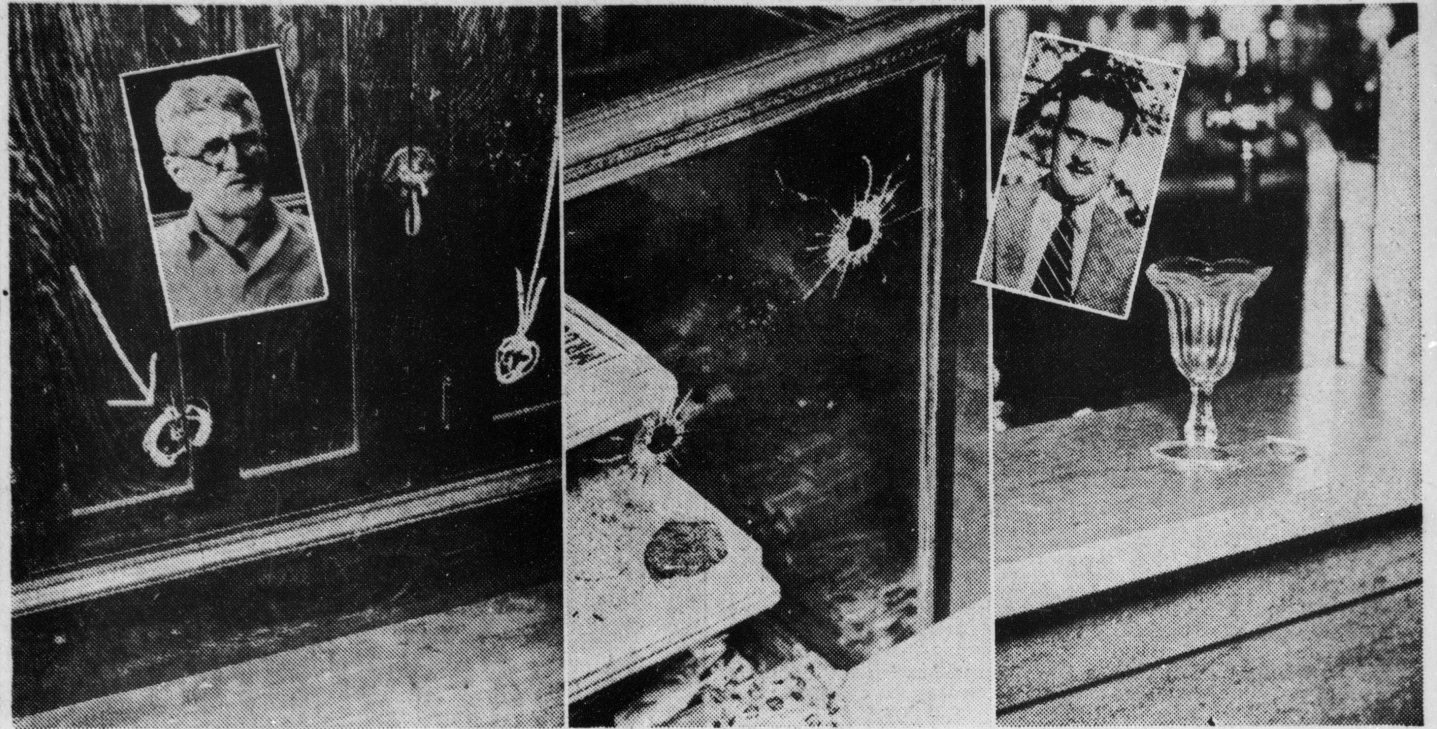

The timing of the Chicago campaign falls on an "anniversary" of sorts, because it was in July, 1936, exactly one year ago, that United States Surgeon General Thomas Parran's trenchant piece, "The Next Great Plague to Go," was first printed.

Navy Planes Hunt Others Missing; 90 on Board Are Saved.

By United Press

BALTIMORE, July 30.—At least two persons died when fire swept the steamer City of Baltimore in Chesapeake Bay last night. Two others of the 40 passengers and 55 members of the crew were missing. Three Navy planes took off at dawn to search the choppy waters of the bay for bodies. Two of the planes reported later they had failed to sight any bodies after having searched an area north and south of the spot where the vessel burned.

The Chesapeake Steamship Co., owner of the vessel, counted 91 persons rescued. Of the known dead, one was a passenger, one a member of the crew.

Five were injured. They were: Elizabeth Ramsay, Baltimore, second-degree burns; Ernest Horsley, second degree burns; Robert Jones, Negro, ship waiter, second-degree burns; Edward Claybell, Norfolk, Va., ship watchman, shock; Mrs. Bessie Howard, stewardess, hip injury.

The fire broke out in the galley soon after the ship had sailed from Baltimore for Norfolk, Va. In an hour the 237-ton vessel was ablaze from bow to stern. Screaming passengers leaped into the bay. The crew apparently stayed by until the last. Rescue boats put out from the shore and hauled many out of the water.

Capt. Charles Brooks, master of the City of Baltimore, was rescued. He said he was the last to leave his ship and personally had supervised the departure of passengers and crew.

HENRY FORD AT 74 IGNORES BIRTHDAY

DEARBORN, Mich., July 30.—Henry Ford was up bright and early as usual, today, paying little attention to the fact that it was his 74th birthday.

The automobile manufacturer, in excellent health, went to his laboratories early.

Later, Mr. Ford was expected to visit his River Rouge plant where new tools and dies are being installed.

Close friends will call during the day and a family gathering will be held in the evening.

CLIPPER PLANES COMPLETE FLIGHTS

NEW YORK, July 30.—The one favored, the other held back by strong winds, two flying boats completed crossings of the North Atlantic today after a second "routine" survey of the route over which regular commercial air service is planned.

The planes were the Clipper III of Pan-American Airways, which flew west to east, and the Cambria of British Imperial Airways, which made the crossing in the opposite direction.

up." The elder Demree, standing behind a soda fountain, grabbed a heavy glass and hurled it at the robber.

It struck him. The gunman fired. The elder Demree fell. His son dropped behind a candy showcase. The robber sent a bullet crashing through the glass case.

The son fell.

The robber fired wildly through the store, then he fled, without loot.

Son Calls Police

The son got up, wounded, and ran to the rear of the store for a weapon, then to the door. The robber had disappeared. Then the son called police as his father, weakened from loss of blood slipped to the floor.

Two women who stood talking across the street heard the shots and saw the bandit run west on 17th St. A radio repairman nearby heard six shots fired. He also called police.

Mrs. C. R. Sisk, sitting in her house across the street, said the bandit slammed the screen door as he fled, stared about him on the sidewalk a moment, then started running. Fifteen feet from the store, his cap fell off. He stopped, picked it up, and ran on into the darkness.

As officers arrived, the son told them to take care of his father. "I'm all right," he said. "I sure hit him with that glass, anyhow."

St. was discharged on an involuntary manslaughter charge on the recommendation of Dr. E. R. Wilson, coroner.

Mr. Sparks had been arrested on order of Dr. Wilson following an accident in which 9-year-old Donald Laub was injured fatally on the crossing the Allisonville Road in front of his home July 10.

Meanwhile, a 5-year-old boy and his father, a Muncie pastor, were injured seriously today in a truck-auto crash southeast of Indianapolis. They were taken to City Hospital.

The boy, Lowell Wayne Merryman, was accompanying his father, the Rev. K. K. Merryman, on a trip to Indianapolis. Their car collided at Hanna Ave. and Rural St. with a truck driven by Harvey Patten, 53, of 1814 W. Michigan St.

Another 5-year-old boy, Kenneth Lee Swickard, of 714 Pomeroy St., was injured critically when he was struck by a truck driven by Lowell Johnson, 20, of 1545 N. Carrollton Ave.

Taken to City Hospital with a possible skull fracture, his condition was described as critical. Mr. Johnson said the child ran across the street from behind a parked truck.

Steve Aich, 26, of 1627 Asbury St., escaped injury when the car he was driving turned over three times at Laurel and Orange Sts. after being struck by a hit-and-run driver.

Mr. Aich's car was demolished. Police were searching for the driver of a gray Ford sedan, believed to be the hit-and-run motorist.
