BRIGHT C. O. P. PROSPECTS SEEN

Hurley, on Stopover Here,
Says 'Democrats Will Elect Us.'

Republican victory prospects for 1940 "look very good," Patrick J. Hurley, Secretary of War under President Hoover, told friends here as he waited between trains at Union Station yesterday.

"If we just let the Democrats alone, they're sure to elect us," Mr. Hurley said. "They are saying worse things about themselves than we ever said about them."

Mr. Hurley declined to comment on the Sino-Japanese situation, explaining, "I keep away from any discussion of international problems; somebody might get the wrong impression."

"I feel we should stand together against the outside world no matter how much we may fight among ourselves on the way things should be done," he said.

Mr. Hurley is en route to Ft. Sill, Okla., and Santa Fe, N. M., where he will join his family.

Prayer Vigil For Sick Girl Ended by Law

GREENVILLE, Miss., Aug. 10.—The Rev. N. M. Hamilton, an itinerant preacher, was angry at authorities today because they ended, by force, his week-old evangelical services over the sick-bed of his 11-year-old daughter.

He hinted at legal action. "But if there isn't a law," he said, "there should be one."

The child, Eloys, wasted by fever and chills, is being treated by Dr. E. L. Fuller who believed she would recover. For a week, neighbors and curious have been gathering nightly in Eloys' sick room to listen to her father alternately pray and preach.

"If the Lord performed miracles in former times, he can do it now," the Rev. Mr. Hamilton said. "She's going to be all right now. Doctors? Medicine? They won't."

NEWSPAPER GUILD BALLOT IS ORDERED

Members to Vote on Seven
Questions of Policy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The American Newspaper Guild announced today that the International Executive Board had ordered a referendum on seven decisions of the Guild's St. Louis convention, including the question of affiliation with the C. I. O. and making newspaper office workers eligible to Guild membership.

The executive board announced that referendum ballots would be sent to the presidents of all local Guilds within the next 10 days.

The board said it had rephrased questions submitted by the Columbus, O., Guild, which initiated the referendum, but that the questions as submitted in the ballots would cover all the points on which the Columbus Guild asked a review.

They were changed, the board said, to propose repeal or retention of specific decisions of the convention. Other points on which the Guild membership will vote include abolition of the office of vice president for wire services, condemnation of fascism in Spain, support of independent political action to aid farmers and labor, a demand for a three-billion-dollar WPA fund and endorsement of President Roosevelt's Supreme Court reorganization plan.

FORECAST EXPECTED TO SWAY VALUES CROP PRICES DRIFT LOWER AS PROSPECTS IMPROVE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The Department of Agriculture today forecasts 1937 production of all principal crops except cotton in a report which economists said probably will have a "strong bearing" on prices for this year's crops.

Prices of most farm products have drifted steadily lower in recent weeks as prospects of bumper yields increased with favorable weather.

Farm production as a whole probably will be the largest since 1931, economists said.

Most corn came through the crucial month of July without serious damage, weather Bureau reports indicated. The wheat crop, now virtually all harvested, almost certainly will set a six-year record and exceed last year's crop by more than 200,000,000 bushels.

Chief interest centered in the corn estimate in the report to be made at 2 p. m. (Indianapolis time).

INDIANA BOY DIES IN SLEEP-WALKING FALL

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The tragic death of a playmate three years ago was blamed today for the death of James Kern, 14, Frankfort, Ind., injured fatally in a fall while walking in his sleep.

James fell from a third floor window Saturday while visiting at the home of Garver Endsley. He died yesterday.

Mr. Endsley said at the corner's inquest that James began walking in his sleep after being affected deeply by the death of George Hardin, a playmate at Logansport, Ind., killed with his brother when their mother committed suicide three years ago by turning on the gas jets in their home.

DID YOU SAY Action?

WATCHING Helen Howard, one of America's most graceful divers, you realize what healthy nerves mean to a diver. Does she smoke? "Of course," Helen says. "I smoke as many Camels as I please. They're so mild!"

CAPT. BILL HATCH, deep-sea fishing skipper, gives one of his reasons for preferring Camels. He says: "After a tough fight with a big one, when I feel tired, I get a 'lift' in energy with a Camel."

AUCTIONEER. "I work at a tense pace," says John M. Mitchell. "Jittery nerves? Not me! My cigarette never gets on my nerves. It's Camel, of course. My throat is very important to me. Camels don't irritate my throat."

NO JANGLED NERVES for this busy secretary, Miss Rosamond Morse says: "I can't afford jangled nerves. That's why I prefer a milder cigarette—Camels. I've smoked Camels for years. They never jangle my nerves."

COSTLIER TOBACCO

THERE'S PLENTY DOING when Bob Bullock's in the game! Follow him up the field. (He's wearing the dark shirt in these pictures.) Bob is one of the great No. 3's of polo—plays this key position as it should be played—with strategy, skill, and courage!

RIGHT ON THE NOSE! Consistent, accurate hitting makes Bob Bullock a dangerous scoring threat. Above, he rides an opponent out of play—at the same time makes a well-timed shot to the uprights at such blinding speed that even a fast-action camera catches the ball only as an egg-shaped blur!

CLOSE QUARTERS! Bullock is famous as a hard-riding defense player too. Above, he's playing to retrieve possession of the ball for his side. Like Lou Gehrig (the Iron Man of Baseball), Lenore Kight Wingard (America's Premiere Speed-Swimmer), and Glenn Hardin (World's Champion Hurdler), Bob Bullock has a decided preference for the extra smoking pleasure that Camels bring him. He's smoked Camels for over a decade.

Naturally Bob Bullock Appreciates Mild Smoking
POLO enthusiasts will agree with Mr. Bullock that it takes healthy nerves to play polo—nerves that don't fail in a pinch. Bob Bullock says: "Camels deserve the blue ribbon for mildness and mellowness. I've smoked Camels for years. They never jangle my nerves!"

Mealtime (right) finds Bob, as usual, enjoying Camels—for digestion's sake. "Camels at mealtimes and afterwards add a world of enjoyment to eating," he says. "I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

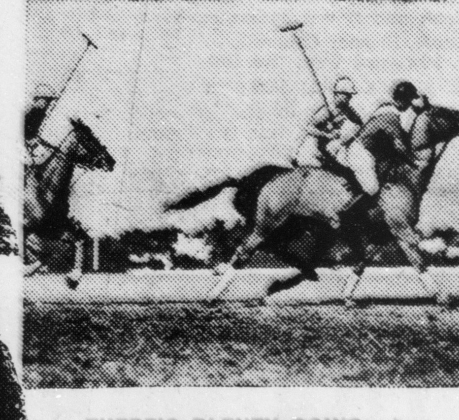

For unvarying mildness, flavor, and fragrance—make it Camels! Camel's costlier tobaccos are naturally mild and fine-flavored.
