

CANDIDATES FOR I. U. PRESIDENCY TO MEET BOARD

Trustees Set Sept. 13 for Interviews With 25 Educators.

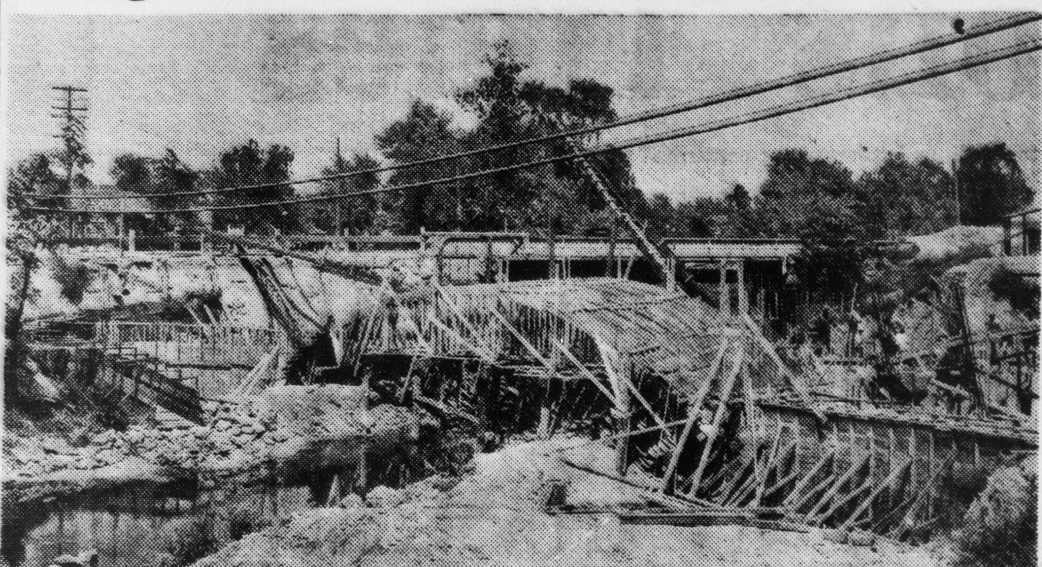

The Indiana University Trustees are to meet in Bloomington on Sept. 13 to interview candidates for the presidency left open by the resignation of Dr. William Lowe Bryan, it was announced today.

The Board met here yesterday afternoon and reduced to about 25 the list of more than 100 names of educators proposed for the position. George Ball, Muncie, board president, was unable to attend.

Board members said they still are "open to suggestion" of additional names. Judge Ora L. Wildermuth, Gary, who presided, said "every effort will be made to agree upon a selection as early as possible during the academic year."

It was reported the consideration of candidates was the only business taken up by the Board.

Bridge Work Rushed for Spring Traffic

Four shifts of 160 WPA workers—100 during the day and 60 at night—are being used six days a week to rush to completion the Shelby St. bridge over Pleasant Run, Marion County WPA officials announced today. The project is approximately 40 per cent completed.

Started a year ago the structure is expected to be completed early next spring. WPA officials said the reinforced concrete arch type of bridge was required because of the unusual amount of heavy traffic that will pass over the structure, including the double tracks of the Indianapolis street railway system. Shelby St. also is the only arterial street leading out of Indianapolis to the southeastern part of the state.

BUTLER LISTS NIGHT COURSES

Registration for Classes in 92 Subjects Opens Sept. 13.

Nineteen Butler University departments will offer a total of 92 courses in the evening division during the fall semester. This includes offerings by the colleges of liberal arts, business administration, education, and religion.

Those departments offering instruction include botany, economics and business administration, English, German, history and political science, home economics, journalism, library science, mathematics, philosophy, physics, religion, romance languages, sociology, educational administration, art, physical education, psychology and educational supervision.

Offerings include courses designed especially for teachers and businessmen and women. The evening school staff will include five new faculty members. They are Dwight Ritter, purchasing; Donald D. Burchard, journalism; Mrs. Florence R. Wakefield, home economics; Mrs. Renee Kimmich, romance languages; and Harold Kelso, economics.
