

U. S. S. PERIL, F. D. R. WARNS; HITS ATTACKERS

'Quarantine' of Treaty-Breaking Nations Urged By Roosevelt.

tions in other parts of the world. Then in solemn language he warned that isolation is not protection. Mr. Roosevelt said there is a technical and moral solidarity and interdependence in the modern world "which make it impossible for any nation completely to isolate itself from economic and political upheavals in the rest of the world." He said there could be neither stability nor peace except under international laws and morals whereas "international anarchy destroys both."

Compares Arms Costs

It is vital to the United States, he continued, that sanctity of treaties and maintenance of international morality be restored.

Comparing our 11 to 12 per cent expenditure on armaments with the 30 to 50 per cent of national income spent by some nations in fear of aggression, Mr. Roosevelt said the position of the United States was a happy one but he warned that we must look ahead.

He said the peace, freedom and security of 90 per cent of the world's population now is jeopardized by a 10 per cent which threatens to destroy international law and order.

"Surely," the President continued, "the 90 per cent can and must find some way to make their will prevail."

'Conditions Growing Worse'

"It is because the people of the United States under modern conditions must, for the sake of their own future, give thought to the rest of the world," he said, "that I, as the responsible executive head of the nation, have chosen this great inland city and this gala occasion to speak to you on a subject of definite national importance."

He said world conditions of late have been "growing progressively worse" until a "haunting fear of calamity" pervades the air. This condition, he explained, through unjustified interference in internal affairs of other nations or invasion of alien territory. He charged that landmarks and traditions of civilization's progress toward law, order and justice were being wiped away.

Travelling on the works of a recent and unnamed author, Mr. Roosevelt said we may foresee a time when men "exultant in the technique of homicide" will swarm the world until "all will be lost or wrecked or utterly destroyed."

"If those days are not to come to pass—if we are to have a world in which we can breathe freely and live in amity without fear—the peace-loving nations must make a concerted effort to uphold laws and principles on which alone peace can rest secure."

"The peace-loving nations must make a concerted effort in opposition to those violations of treaties and those ignorings of humane instincts which today are creating a state of international anarchy and instability from which there is no escape through mere isolation or neutrality.

Involve Many Problems

"Those who cherish their freedom and recognize and respect the equal rights of their neighbors to be free and live in peace, must work together for the triumph of law and moral principles in order that peace, justice and confidence may prevail in the world."

"There must be a return to a belief in the pledged word in the value of a signed treaty. There must be recognition of the fact that national morality is as vital as private morality."

Specific questions of treaty violations and broader questions of war and peace are involved in these problems, he explained, along with "the principles of humanity."

It is true that they involve definite violations of agreements, and especially of the covenant of the League of Nations, the Briand-Kellogg pact and the nine-power treaty, Mr. Roosevelt said, but they also involve problems of world economy, world security and world morality.

He urged that the moral consciousness of the world be aroused "to the necessity of respecting the rights and liberties of others and of putting an end to acts of international aggression."

"Most important of all, the will for peace on the part of peace-loving nations must express itself to the end that nations that may be tempted to violate their agreements and the rights of others will desist from such cause."

Trucker Electrocuted

Watching President

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (U. P.).—Joseph Zlowotzki, 40, Chicago truck driver, was electrocuted accidentally today when he stood on top of a railroad car to watch President Roosevelt drive down the street toward the new Outer Drive Bridge. Mr. Zlowotzki's head accidentally came in contact with a trolley wire used by the Illinois Central Suburban trains.

Consolidate Gains of Workers, Chief Executive Urges A. F. L.

Link Belt Peace Sought In Parley With Union And State Officials.

Local 1150, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers of America, C. I. O. affiliate, today attended a meeting called by Basil Booher, president, in its hall two blocks from the plant.

He obtained promises from volunteers for picket duty while S. W. O. C. organizers urged the workers to continue their demands.

Mr. Booher cautioned the workers against any violence, but said, "we can have a picket line second to none you have ever seen and still be within the law."

Mr. Booher said earlier that 100 heat-treating department employees refused to leave the plant yesterday and that 200 more night shift employees in the punch press and screw machine departments entered the plant late yesterday and then refused to leave in sympathy.

He said today he could not tell how many still were inside because "some go over the fence, but come back and we can't tell."

Earlier, police who had been in the plant said the "stay-ins" numbered between 55 and 100. Company officials said 53 to 40 workers stayed in the plant.

"Stay-ins" had radio entertainment last night and food furnished them by the union. Today wives of some strikers stood outside, talking to them through the windows or over the fences and handing them food.

Mr. Viat said that since the Sept. 2 agreement was signed about eight or 10 other complaints have been filed against the company, but none of them has been investigated.

He said that under the September agreement, the company issued its labor policy and it was approved by the union and the State Labor Division.

Dairymen to Consider

Request of Union

Representatives of Indianapolis dairies were to meet today to decide whether they will confer with the Milk and Ice Cream Drivers, Salesmen and Helpers, and Dairy Employees, Local 774, over organization matters, the State Labor Board said.

When the decision is made, Herman Brunka, Department conciliator, said the Department will be informed. A meeting between the union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, and dairymen yesterday in the State House, was frustrated when dairymen refused to allow the union representatives into the conference.

At that time, Mr. Brunka said, union men said they might "employ other tactics if that's the attitude of the dairymen."

of recommendations by suggesting that the League states consider how they may individually aid China.

Originally the drafters had stressed that the League should do nothing to weaken China's resistance.

Completes Proposals

The subcommittee at 6:30 p. m. completed its proposals which will be added to its report as a fifth section.

The full advisory committee, with Leland Harrison, U. S. Minister to Switzerland, attending in an observer's role, was to meet about 7:30 p. m. to consider the report.

The report approves in principle a convocation of the nine powers, including the United States and Japan.

The powers are pledged under the Washington treaty of February, 1922, to respect the territorial and political integrity of China.

Japan May Be

Planning War Edict

TOKYO, Oct. 5 (U. P.).—A series of apparently disconnected announcements gave rise to reports today that the Government was preparing for some pronouncement of prime importance in its policy in the Chinese war.

The Domei News Agency announced that views were exchanged regarding the Government's "further policy designed to cope with the China incident." Then it was

C. I. O. to Accept Challenge, Leaders Believe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (U. P.).—The Committee for Industrial Organization will accept the challenge of the American Federation of Labor and seek a definite split in the labor movement at its Atlantic City meeting Oct. 11, C. I. O. officials indicated today.

While official comment was withheld on Federation President William Green's call for the C. I. O. and all its sympathies to "get out and stay out" of the A. F. of L., the feeling in C. I. O. circles was that John L. Lewis, militant C. I. O. leader would "call the hand" of the Federation.

The Federation's executive council report branded C. I. O. tactics as a "ripping, tearing process" and a "campaign of attempted disruption."

It accused the C. I. O. of "slandering" the "funds, property and records" of A. F. of L. unions.

The A. F. of L. executive council, composed of Mr. Green and Craft union leaders backing him in his fight against the Lewis faction, have embarked on a battle to control the labor movement, it was believed in some quarters.

Mr. Lewis summoned his labor chiefs to meet a week after the A. F. of L. convention began in Denver, ostensibly to canvas results of organization drives and to consider policies and plans.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5.—It's a well-known fact that there ain't no such thing as a perfect crime. No matter how carefully you plan your alibi and try to cover up your tracks, you're bound to leave some clue that a good detective can ferret out to prove your guilt. I had an aunt that went away on a month's vacation. When she came back, she asked my uncle, she says, "What did you do with your time last month while I was away?" My uncle says, "Oh, I stayed home every night and read—I just love to read." And she says, "Well, then—read this light bill for that month. It says 8 cents."

'STOP JAPAN,' SPEECH HINTS

Diplomatic Circles Term Address 'Go' Sign to League Powers.

States took the lead in attempting international action to compel observance of treaty obligations. The League powers, particularly Great Britain and France, failed to follow our lead and the United States was left "out on a limb."

"In the present situation the United States has no intention of flying the kite for the League powers. But the President's speech is ample notice to those powers that the United States will provide a very powerful and influential tail to any kite for the preservation of world peace which the League powers agree to fly."

Cites Hull Letter

This official cited the last paragraph of the letter of instructions from Secretary Hull to Leland Harrison, American Minister to Switzerland, authorizing him to attend the League Advisory Committee meeting, compatible with the President's speech today and as indicating no reversal in this Government's foreign policy. These instructions were, in fact, a message to the League of Nations. They said:

"The American Government, believing thoroughly in the principle of collaboration among states of the world seeking to bring about peaceful solutions of international conflicts, will be prepared to give careful consideration to definite proposals which the League may address to it but will not, however, be prepared to state its position in regard to policies or plans submitted to it in terms of hypothetical inquiry."

Throughout the present crisis Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Hull have emphasized and insisted upon "positive endeavors," "definite proposals," "concrete plans," "a definite course of action," and so on. They have asserted repeatedly this Government will not state its position in advance on hypothetical plans or proposals.

This reluctance to commit this Government in advance has been emphasized during the past few days in the coolness of the State Department toward proposals by the British Government to convene signatories of the Nine-Power Treaty to deal with the Sino-Japanese crisis. Officials here believe that mere discussion of the situation would have no beneficial results.
