

Federation Told of U.S. Forest Work

Women Join in Project Of Conservation, Says Speaker.

Organized women of Indiana are accepting the challenge of conservationists to participate in the most ambitious forestry program ever undertaken in the United States, Miss Margaret March-Mount, Forestry Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, told members of the Seventh District Federation of Clubs at a luncheon during the annual convention today in the Claypool Hotel.

"Uncle Sam has been a bachelor too long, and he is inviting women to visualize the national forestry program," she said. "The creation of forests is an old Hoosier custom; it was a Hoosier President, Benjamin Harrison, who created the first Federal forest reserve in the West, but it was not until three years ago that Federal forestry came into the picture in Indiana. Now upward of a million acres are included within the Hoosier National Forest."

Much Land Is Unfit

"Half of our agricultural land is today unfit for use," she pointed out, "and it is said that what we do with our forest land will determine our design for living. Wars, ancient and modern, have been fought for the control of raw materials, and when women insist upon and take part in more intelligent land management they will be working practically for peace."

The forestry division representative stressed the importance of women's interest in the conservation program for the Ohio River basin whose waters affect one-seventh of the population of the U. S.

Today the forest program emphasized, stresses a restoration of lumber production, recreation, wild life and scenic values.

Women Aid in Program

The women of Indiana, she said, are accepting responsibility in this program. She pointed out the establishment of the memorial forest in southern Indiana in co-operation with the U. S. Forestry Service.

"Such memorials, widely planted, are also missionary in their effects, for while the funds go to the Forestry Service, they are disbursed to the planters, and buy books and shoes for the children of the victims of the cut-and-put-out policy."

Mrs. W. D. Keenan, district president, presided at the morning session. Mrs. Edwin I. Poston spoke at the luncheon. Mrs. Fredrick G. Balz, general federation director, Mrs. George Jackson, first vice president, also spoke at today's sessions.

Voters' League Guide Is to Aid Probe of County Government

Announcement of the newest publication of the National League of Women Voters, "Know Your Country" by Mrs. Walter S. Greenough, was made today. Mrs. Richard Edwards, Peru, Indiana League corresponding department chairman, introduced the work at a state group executive committee meeting this morning in the Columbia Club.

Mrs. Greenough is chairman of the department of government and its operation. The pamphlet, a Lucille Kroger Berne Memorial Fund publication, is designed to facilitate the study of county government by means of nine sets of questions.

To undertake the complete study suggested will require the combined efforts of four league program departments: Government and its operation, government and child welfare, government and education and economic welfare.

Mrs. Edwards quoted from the pamphlet's introduction in discussing necessity for the study. "One startling fact in regard to county government which indicates retarded growth in this field is the similarity of organization in counties of widely diverse characteristics. Counties in the United States range in area from 22 to 20,175 square miles, and in population from less than 200 to over 4,000,000. There is, nevertheless, much in common in the structure and practices of county government in most states."

Mrs. Edwards also announced plans to prepare a list of page references to the "Indiana Voters' Handbook," published by the Indiana League, to be used in conjunction with the study.

At the meeting were Mrs. Edwards; Mrs. Charles Cory, Lafayette; Mrs. Rex VanTilbury, Logansport; Mesdames S. N. Campbell, William Sneathen, Clarence McFerril, Greengrove, Virginia Moorehead, Mannon and Miss Mary Sinclair.
