CHAMPIONED LIBERTY

These are the thoughts and the reflections that come to mind today as we consider to Arlington National Cemetery the honored dust of a son of Poland who died in the service of the country of his adoption. Gen. Kryzanowski was the embodiment of the Polish ideal of liberty. Into the making of that ancient ideal had gone the struggles and the vicissitudes of a thousand years of Polish national life. He whom we honor today, no less than those of his blood and kindred, who preceded him to America or who followed him to our shores, brought to us, and with us became partakers in, a common aspiration of freedom.

Because we hold this ideal of liberty in common, ours has been a long and unbroken friendship with the people of Poland. From the days of our struggle to achieve nationhood, unbroken by any rift through the century and a half of our life as a nation, the American people and the people of Poland have maintained a friendship based upon this common spiritual ideal.

NATIONALS ARE LINKED

Gen. Kryzanowski, whose patriotism we commemorate today, is another link to bind us to the people from which he came in the full tide of youthful promise, when shadows lay over the land which gave him birth. It is a high privilege to bear witness to the debt which this country owes to men of Polish blood. Rightfully a struggle which happily ended in our own day and generation in the restoration of Poland to nationhood and to her rightful place as a sovereign state. As we sympathized with her aspirations for freedom so we rejoice in her attainment of independence.

We as a nation seek spiritual union with all who love freedom. Of many bloods and of diverse national origins we stand before the world today as one people united in a common determination that our nation, to uphold the idea of human society which makes conscience superior to brute strength—the ideal which would substitute freedom for force in the governments of the world.
