

'GRADUATES' OF STATE'S SCHOOL 'GOING STRAIGHT'

50 Per Cent of Girls Given Freedom Since 1926 Now Good Citizens.

More than 50 per cent of the girls released from the Indiana Girls' School during the last 10 years have "made good," according to a survey made by Dr. Kenosha Sessions, superintendent. The report was made to the State Welfare Department here.

Out of 877 cases, 450 were found to be living in good communities and had established good reputations. Dr. Sessions said, "Seventy-six had not 'gone straight'; 62 had died and 33 were confined to feeble-minded institutions, she reported."

At the time the survey was completed, 276 girls could not be located, according to Dr. Sessions.
