Programs Get Under Way As Most President's Days Pass.

Now that President's Day for most Indianapolis clubs is but a pleasant memory, year's programs of various organizations are rapidly getting under way.

The Meridian Heights Inter-School Club was to hold its second meeting of the year today with "reading" for a topic. Mrs. Paul Kilby, who was to be guest speaker, was to discuss "A Glimpse Along the Bookshelves."

Mrs. O. W. Bridgeford was to discuss "How Well Can You Read?" Mrs. C. H. Beach was to be hostess assisted by Mrs. Maxwell Shaw.

One club whose year's work is just beginning, however, is the Alpha Beta Latician Club, who was to observe President's Day today at Highland Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Paul D. Whittemore, president, was to be honored guest and Mrs. Paul A. Hancock is to be hostess.

A tomorrow meeting is that of the Wednesday Afternoon Club which is to meet at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Harry Schwab, 2660 Kessler Blvd., Mrs. Herbert Reinhard is to be assistant hostess.

Mrs. J. R. Horne is to discuss "Your Carriage, Madam," and Mrs. Charles Trotter is to read the Bible lesson. Accordion music is to be played by Miss Myra Joe Gavin.

Tomorrow is to be British Guest Day for the Daughters of the British Empire, Drybrough Abbey Chapter. Mrs. Douglas Allen is to be hostess assisted by Mrs. P. F. Tague and Miss Florence Tague. Mrs. R. F. Daggett is to discuss the subject "Development of Art."

Mrs. Ernest Spickelmeier was to be hostess today at an Inter-Alma Club meeting. She was also to review the book "White Banners" by Lloyd Douglas. Mrs. Fred E. Waggoner was to review "Drums Along the Mohawk" by Walter D. Edmonds.

Among other hostesses this week were to be Mrs. May VanNatta and Mrs. Mayne Castor assisted by Mrs. John Mathews. Mrs. VanNatta was to be hostess to the Independent Social Club today.

Mrs. Castor and Mrs. Mathews were hostesses to the Amicitia Club today at the President's Day luncheon in the Columbia Club. Mrs. William Perry is president.

Mrs. W. G. Boyd is to be hostess at the Woman's Advance Club meeting tomorrow. Mrs. George E. Smith is to discuss the restoration of colonial Williamsburg.

Today was President's Day for members of the Irvington Tuesday Club. Mrs. Clarence Hugel was to make a travel talk at the luncheon meeting. Mrs. M. H. Reasoner, president, was to be honored guest.

The Alpha Kappa Latician Club was to have a guest meeting at 2 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. John Dalton, 1747 N. Pennsylvania St. Assistant hostesses were to be Mrs.

Needlework Guild Members' Drive Is to End on Sunday

The annual membership week of the Indianapolis branch of the Needlework Guild of America opened Sunday and is to continue through Saturday, according to an announcement by Mrs. R. Hartley Sherwood, president.

The local group is striving to better its present membership of 6000 and last year's collection of more than 13,000 garments. The organization head was to leave today to attend a meeting of the national board. Mrs. Sherwood, national first vice president, is to preside in the absence of the president, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Princeton, N. J.

Plans for the year's roundup Nov. 2 to 5 in the Knights of Columbus Hall are to be made Thursday at a meeting of section presidents in Mrs. Sherwood's home.

Guild officers besides Mrs. Sherwood are Miss Juliette Bryan and Mesdames Frank E. Fishback, Charles A. Gerrard and George B. Elliott, vice presidents; Mrs. Cecil K. Calvert, secretary, and Miss Lillian Taggart, treasurer.

Guild membership is open to all persons desiring to aid local social agencies in caring for needy.

D.A.R. Aids To Meet at French Lick

Local Delegation Departs for Three-Day Assembly.

A delegation of Indianapolis Daughters of the American Revolution members left today for French Lick to attend the 37th annual state conference today, tomorrow and Thursday.

Mrs. William A. Becker's address tonight in the French Lick Springs Hotel is to open the event. Mrs. Becker is president general of the National Society of the D. A. R. Mrs. William H. Schlosser, Franklin, state regent, is to preside at the sessions.

The conference keynote will be "Responsibility of Individual Members, Cornerstone of Society." The theme is to be "Interchange of Thought in the Solution of Our Problems."

Other speakers are to include Congressman Robert Secrist, Ohio; Dr. William Lowe Bryan, Indiana University president emeritus; Dr. Stewart McClelland, Lincoln University; Dean Agnes E. Wells, Indiana University; and Dr. Christopher B. Coleman, State Librarian.

Another national officer who is to attend the conference is Mrs. William Pouch, New York, organizing secretary-general and Children of the American Revolution president. Social highlights are to include the annual officers' club banquet and a dinner of delegates Tuesday night. State regents are to be honored at a reception after the Tuesday night program.
