GOPHER SCRIBE LAUDS INDIANA
ALABAMA, TENNESSEE THIS WEEK

COMMENTING on the Minnesota-Indiana grid game, George Barton of Minneapolis, dean of Twin Cities sports writers, had the following to say: "The crafty Bo McMillin of the Hoosiers had stated in advance of the game that he had a very good first team, but was weak in replacements. Bo was only spoofing when he issued those pregame statements as the contest produced the fact that Bo not only had a powerful and versatile first team, but possessed plenty of high-class replacements."

"It didn't seem to matter much who McMillin sent into the game because each reserve seemed to be just about as capable as the man he replaced. Coach Bierman's strategy of wearing down Indiana by sending in two complete teams twice failed to feaze the Hoosiers."

"The Gophers played far better football against Indiana than they did against Nebraska. If they had bogged down Saturday as they did at Lincoln, they would have suffered another defeat instead of having a six-point triumph to their credit."

BIG game in the South this week, Alabama at Tennessee.

... It was a scoreless tie last year. ... Frank Thomas, Notre Dame, coaches the Tide; Maj. R. R. Neyland, West Point, is chief of the Vols. ... Followers of Illinois Wesleyan University are using the comparative score system as an argument for a place in the big league football sun. ... De Paul of Chicago held Illinois to scoreless tie. ... Illinois and Notre Dame played a scoreless tie. ... Wesleyan knocked off De Paul, 7 to 6. ... Next! ... Harry Bell, former Butler grid chief, directs the Wesleyan Titans.

LONGEST football run last Saturday was 102 yards by Dick Riffe, Albright College, after he snatched a New York City College aerial back of his goal line. ... California looks a cinch to drive through the Pacific Coast Conference and land in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. ... The race for the other invitation is wide open. ... Princeton alumni in the Middle West will barge on Chicago Saturday to see the Tigers tackle the Maroons in an intercollegiate clash. ... It is seldom that a member of the Ivy League comes out this way to show off its grid prowess.

Ohio State has an open date this week. ... Other Big Ten teams will be occupied as follows: Purdue in Northern Illinois at Indiana, Minnesota at Michigan, Iowa at Wisconsin.

KANSAS STATE has a junior lightweight quarterback, Frank Sims, 132 pounds. ... And he is first string. ... John McLaughry, Brown halfback, is the son of the Bears' head coach, Tuss McLaughry. ... Frank Filchock, Indiana's senior halfback, is getting plenty of rave notices in Middle Western newspapers as a result of his triple-threat pastime against the Gophers. Michigan and Minnesota meet at Ann Arbor Saturday. ... They have clashed 27 times over a period of 45 years. ... The Wolverines won 18 games, Minnesota seven. ... Two tie tilts were staged. ... The Gophers annexed the last three by decisive scores, 34-0, 40-0, 26-0. ... A bitter battle is the prediction for Saturday. ... Michigan is emerging from the grid doldrums and the 1937 squad is a fighting, clawing aggregation of Wolves boasting of an aggressive line led by Don Siegel, giant tackle.

BILL McKECHNIE, new manager of the Cincy Reds, played with the Queen City team in 1916 and 1917. ... And in 1914 he was the talented third sacker for the Indianapolis Federals. ... Cincy fans are so enthusiastic over the change they predict the Redlegs perhaps might move out of the cellar next year. ... One thing is certain, the team can't be any worse.

Pepper Martin, St. Louis Cardinal veteran, holds a managerial interest in Junior Munsell, Oklahoma southpaw heavyweight and will second him against Ralph Carpenter of Chicago in Detroit Friday. ... The headline attraction brings together John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and Izzy Gastanaga, heavyweight.

Henry Armstrong has scored 18 knockouts in 19 starts this year and probably will be picked to dethrone Pete Sarraf, National Boxing Association featherweight champion, in New York Oct. 28. ... There are rumors, however, that Armstrong is having trouble making the featherweight poundage.

The State Highway circuit at Pritchett's was paced by Pierce's 610, while A. Dunlap rolled a 603. The Tigers, Giants and Cards scored double victories.

TERRY REPORTED ANGLING FOR MUNGO

Berger, Leiber And McCarthy May Be Sold

Hal Schumacher Figures in Talk of Deal to Acquire Dodger Hurler.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (U. P.).—When winter trade winds blow, the champion New York Giants will be in the thick of the bartering, it was believed today.

As the 1937 World Series passed into history, it seemed certain that the Giants would need additional strength if they hope to retain the National League pennant.

Chief needs will be a top-notch first baseman and a centerfielder who can hit. To get them, Manager Bill Terry is expected to place Hal Schumacher, outfielders Wally Berger and Hank Leiber and First Baseman Johnny McCarthy on the block.

One trade that may be consummated is the exchange of Schumacher, Berger and Leiber and cash for Van Mungo, fireball pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Terry, it is believed, thinks that Mungo would be a winning pitcher with a winning club.

The Giants centerfield problem is acute. During the World Series, Terry used Hank Leiber and Lou Chiozza. Chiozza is a great fielder but a weak hitter. Leiber is a poor fielder but he can hit.

Yanks May Stand Pat

McCarthy seems destined for the gate. When Sam Leslie hurt his wrist, McCarthy became the regular first baseman. Toward the last of the season his fielding and hitting were great, but in the last week of the season and during the series he slumped again.

The Yankees seemed certain to stand pat, with only one or two minor exceptions. If they can get another first class pitcher, they may cast off some of the reserves.

Manager Joe McCarthy, who piloted the Yanks to their third championship, was reported ready for a conference with Owner Jacob Ruppert concerning a new contract. He was paid $37,500 this season and some sources say that he will sign this week a new three-year contract at $42,000 annually, making him the highest paid manager.

Owen J. (Owgie) Bush, big league and American Association player and manager for 30 years, today was launched on a business career following his purchase of a controlling interest in the Gus Habich Co., sporting goods store, 136 E. Washington St.

The company name will be changed to the Bush-Habich Co., Mr. Bush said. Stanley Feeze, widely known sports official, and Carl C. Callahan, Em-Roe sporting goods Co. treasurer since 1929, will be associated with Mr. Bush as minority stockholders. Mr. Callahan will sever his connections with the Em-Roe firm to act as secretary and treasurer of the new firm. Mr. Bush will be president and president of the Bush-Habich Co. Purchase of the store was from A. C. Byerly, owner since 1917.

Mr. Bush said he would not retire from baseball but would be in active charge of the store during off seasons. He has been busy of late on plans for rebuilding the Minneapolis club of which he has been manager since 1934. The team finished third this year. Previously Owgie managed the Chicago White Sox, Pittsburgh Pirates, Washington Senators and Cincinnati Reds. He also has managed the Indianapolis Indians. In his playing days he starred with the Redskins in his home city and later with the Detroit Tigers.

Mr. Feeze played semiprofessional baseball throughout Indiana, Illinois and Ohio for 20 years and has been recognized as one of the country's leading basketball officials.

The Bush-Habich Co. is one of the oldest sporting goods houses in the Middle West, having been established 45 years ago by Gus Habich.

Record Sought By Seabiscuit

Handicap Ace May Capture Money-Winning Title.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (U. P.).—C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit ruled a heavy favorite today for the running of the $10,000 added Continental Handicap at the Jamaica race track. Despite an impost of 130 pounds the son of Hard Tack was expected to go to the post at even money.

The impost is 13 pounds greater than that assigned to the next heavily burdened entries, Mrs. Ethel Jacobs' Caballero, and Hal Price Headley's pre-eminent, each of which will carry 117.

Seabiscuit would become the leading money-winning thoroughbred of the year by winning today. Eight victories in 11 starts this year have given Seabiscuit earnings of $143,530, which is but $1000 less than the amount won by War Admiral, which has totaled $144,620.

There are 13 entries for the Continental, a gallop of a mile and one-sixteenth.
