

Winter Social Season Opens Tomorrow Night With Frolic by Lambs

Gone Are the Days of the Little Groups Which Gathered for Informal Parties; It's Now
A Talented and Inspired Evening-Out.

By VIRGINIA MOORHEAD MANNON

The opening frolic of the Lambs Club tomorrow evening at the Columbia Club marks the beginning of the winter social season in Indianapolis.

What a far cry from the first intimate little meetings of 30 or 40 persons who gathered in the smaller Columbia Club rooms to play cards, talk, and slip up to the ballroom for an occasional dance, are the present assemblies of several hundred with their bachelor committees and their amusing floor shows.

After devoting weeks to rehearsing for an evening's entertainment, the members approach the standards of professional musical productions in their talent and ingenious costumes. Nowadays, one has to look far to find a lady Lamb who has not been a member of the chorus at least once, or a gentleman Lamb who at some time has not tucked an extra dress shirt under his arm because of the casualties involved in being a black-faced minstrel.

It was in 1930 that the Little Lambs Club was born at a dinner given by Caleb Lodge. Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Tharp, Mr. and Mrs. Myron R. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. White and Mrs. Hervey Bates Jr. Everyone had so much fun that it seemed a good idea to meet often. Each meeting saw a few new faces as, like Topsy, the thing just grew, until the present membership list of 200 is closed for the season.

Among those who became Little Lambs at the meeting following Mr. Lodge's dinner were Mr. and Mrs. George M. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Kari F. Panzer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan J. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pinnell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Tucker, Gen. and Mrs. Robert H. Tyndall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Wolff.

The first bachelor committee was composed of Frederick A. Clark, Elmer W. Stull, Augustus N. Gladding, Hiram W. McKee, Robert W. Bowen, Ben T. Coburn and Mr. Lodge.

While there have been occasional meetings at the Indianapolis Athletic Club and the Indianapolis Country Club, the Columbia Club for the most part has been the regular meeting place. In 1932 the floor show was introduced at a meeting at the Indianapolis Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Kohle, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Panzer composed the committee.

Strictly speaking the Lambs is a men's club; women are merely guests. At the last meeting, on May 1, the members presented to Mr. Lodge an elaborate gilded scroll embellished with lambs and signed by all club members. The scroll conferred upon him "The Grand Order of the Little Lamb" for his services in founding the Little Lambs Club.

The Goals Club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper Kern in Golden Hill tomorrow evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. Among the members who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Shea, Mr. and Mrs. Fisk Landers and the Misses Mary and Elsie Sinclair.

Fall Season Brings Crop Of Festivity

Fall gaiety for grandmother and grandfather meant hay-rides.

But their city-bred grandchildren

have ideas wrapped in the cel-liphane of sophistication. This autumn they are looking forward to a variety of events—from a treasure hunt and possum dinner to hobgoblin's gambols.

The Halloween party at Highland

Golf and Country Club Oct. 30 is

"to be the most unique since Elsie

Maxwell turned the Waldorf into a barn," according to invitations is-ued to members.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Dowling
