Duce's Paper Criticizes Policy in Palestine

ROME, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Premier Mussolini's own newspaper, Popolo d'Italia of Milan, leading a bitter campaign of criticism against Great Britain's Palestine policy, asserted today that "news from Palestine can not but arouse a sense of horror throughout the civilized world."

Coincidentally, dispatches from Adis Ababa reported that Moslem leaders of Ethiopia had telegraphed the League of Nations and the British Government expressing disapproval of British policy and solidarity with Arabs in Palestine.

There was some surprise here at the heat of the Popolo d'Italia editorial at the outset of negotiations to remove foreign volunteers from the Spanish Civil War.

But the attack fitted in with developments of the last several weeks calculated to remind Britain that Premier Mussolini is not inclined to sit quiet while Britain and France make threats of strong action if the volunteers are not removed.

French Seek New Spanish Demand

PARIS, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Andre Charles Corbin, French ambassador, has been ordered to insist that any withdrawals of foreign volunteers from the Spanish Civil War shall be in proportion to the number serving on the respective sides, it was learned today. DALHOVER CASE WORD AWAITED

Arraignment Is Delayed
Pending Federal Decision.

Local authorities today awaited word from Atty. Gen. Homer Cummings on what charge James Dalhove, Al Brady's "trigler man," will be tried.

Marion County delayed arraignment on a charge of murdering Serg. Richard Rivers pending the decision from Washington. The sallow-faced little gunman, captured by G-men in Bangor, Me., last week, was reintroduced by a country guard jury last week.

Chief Deputy U. S. Marshal Julius Wicher left today for New Albany Federal Court sessions and requested that the prisoner not be removed from the Marion County jail while he is away. He said he expected to be gone until Wednesday, and he did not anticipate a Federal decision on the case before then.

Chinese Regiment Is Wiped Out

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Fourteen hundred Chinese infantrymen, an entire regiment sworn to die rather than retreat, were annihilated today in the Wusong Creek sector of the Shanghai front.

The bill said that the City bought the Citizens Gas Co. in September, 1935, and that in 1936, the Citizens Gas & Coke Utility, and the Indianapolis Gas Co. signed an agreement.

Agreement Is Attacked
This agreement, the bill said, provided that the Citizens Gas & Coke Utility use the mains and deposit with the Indiana National Bank the installments on bond interest payments.

The bill charged what the agreement's purpose was to depreciate the bonds' value and necessitate a default in interest payments.

The bill asked the Court to declare the 1935 lease valid; to enter a judgment in favor of the bondholders, in the amount of interest held in escrow ($500,000 for a year and a half); and that the Indiana National Bank be restrained from dispersing the funds pending a termination of the complaint.

DISTANT RELATIVE OF F. D. R. ENDS LIFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—William A. Winston, 39, widely known expert in corporate law, and a distant relative of President Roosevelt, was found shot to death today in his Sutton Manor apartment, 411 E. 33d St. Police said he had committed suicide with a shotgun. A note found in the room ascribed his act to a nervous ailment from which he had suffered for three years. Police were informed that he was a brother-in-law of Frederick Delano.

NEW BATTLE IN CONGRESS DUE

Issue Raised Over Proposal
To Increase Powers of Executive.

(Editorial, Page 12)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A fight rivaling in intensity that of the last session over President Roosevelt's plan to "pack" the Supreme Court is promised when Congress comes back.

It will be on a different subject, but will involve the same general principle—extension of the power of the chief executive. A main difference is that in this case the President wants to take power away from the legislative instead of from the judicial branch.

The new fight will be over the Administration effort to reorganize the executive branch, and particularly on Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to place in the Treasury Department—subject to White House control—the larger powers over spending now possessed by the General Accounting Office and its head, the Controller General.

Congress created the General Accounting Office in 1921. The Controller General was given a 15-year term and made subject only to the will of Congress. The President, however, was given the duty of appointing the Controller General—and this has recently resulted in the office losing some of its prestige.

Crop Bill Only Work Expected From Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Enactment of crop control legislation and little else is expected from the extraordinary session of Congress summoned to meet four weeks from today.

President Roosevelt assigned the special session a five-point program, but scarcely could have believed it would be completed by the time Congress adjourns shortly before Christmas.

After crop control, Mr. Roosevelt asked enactment of legislation for proper land use, establishment of minimum wages and maximum hours, reorganization of the executive departments and amendments to strengthen antitrust laws.

Whether crop surplus control shall be by compulsory or voluntary methods must be determined before Congress can execute what undoubtedly is the will of a majority of its members by voting the Administration the requested powers. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace leans toward compulsory operation, but Chairman Marvin H. Jones of the House Agriculture Committee has worked for voluntary control. The Administration is likely to compromise.

Development of a crop control compromise and determination of the antilynching bill debate easily may consume in the Senate the five or six weeks of special session before the holidays. If that were not enough, there is an inevitable Senate wrangle over neutrality and the implications of Mr. Roosevelt's Chicago statement that America "actively engages in the search for peace" and contemplates a "guarantee" of offending aggressors.

Mr. Williams said picketing continued at the three truck plants—Capitol Dairies, Inc., Weber Milk Co., and the Furnas Ice Cream Co. Grocery Strike Averted

Progress was made over the weekend, however, on one strike front. A threatened walkout of wholesale grocery truck drivers was believed averted when Teamsters and Chauffeurs Local 135 officials and Bessie & Co., Inc., signed an agreement. It provided for a modified closed shop, for a 45-hour week and pay increases, it was said.

Attempts to settle the Beech Grove bus lines walkout have failed. Emmett Joseph Williams, teamsters' union president, said he expected to confer with State Labor Department officials today.

A. F. L.-C. I. O. ARMED TRUCE MAY BE SET UP

'No Compromise' Attitude
Of Both Sides Is Held
Bar to Peace.

(Copyright, 1937, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—An armed truce in labor's civil war may come from next week's conference here between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization, but a real peace is not possible until the parties abandon their "no compromise" on the issues dividing them.

The two organizations with a membership of nearly 8,000,000 workers met separately last week in Denver, Colo., and in Atlantic City, N. J. Both adopted resolutions criticizing recent decisions of the National Labor Relations Board which they held had favored the other. They took a common position in endorsing the Federal House-keeping Bill, a Wages and Hours measure and other social legislation.

Although united on these matters affecting the workers, they opened wider the schism between them by statement, action and charges.

Mr. Lewis suddenly made an overture for peace. He proposed to the federation's convention that 100 delegates from each organization meet to seek a permanent settlement.

The federation replied that it had set up a three-man committee (two years ago to work for such peace; complained that a 200-man conference would be unwieldy but offered to expand its committee to a "reasonable" number. Mr. Lewis yielded and notified the convention that a 10-man committee had been named by the C. I. O. delegates and proposed a date for the meeting which was accepted by the federation.

Asked for Armistice

Earlier, President William Green of the Federation had pleaded for an armistice. He appealed to the C. I. O. "rebels" to "come home."

Mr. Lewis was cheered by 150 of his aids when he protested that the C. I. O. was not to blame; that the C. I. O. unions had been "unlawfully" suspended from the "education" and that the organization would co-operate with the A. F. L. to obtain a united labor movement.

The obstacle to the peace which both organizations profess to want is that each side wants to dictate the terms. It is not so much important that they could easily control the size and the power of the trades union movement and the fate of some of its present leaders.

The committees from the rival organizations will meet here Oct. 25 to make preliminary arrangements for the real peace conference. The attitude at the first meeting on vital issues probably will determine whether the second conference should be held.

The delegates will come to the initial conference fully "instructed." The executive council of the American Federation of Labor holds that it considers the C. I. O. unions "outlaws" and that harmony can be restored only if they return to the Federation and abide by future decisions made by majority rule.

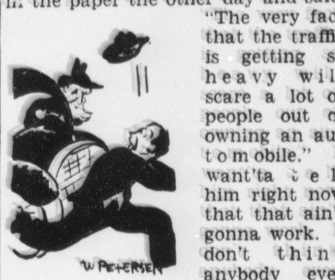

Declines to Meet Wishes

The council declined to grant Mr. Lewis' demand that it recognize as a stipulation to a peace conference

BOB BURNS

Says: HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18—

Every time we drive a car in heavy traffic, we find ourselves wondering what it's gonna be like 10 years from now. Some scientist come out in the paper the other day and said, "The very fact that the traffic is getting so heavy will scare a lot of people out of owning an automobile." I want to tell him right now that that ain't gonna work. I don't think anybody ever hated traffic like Grandpa Snazzy. He said, "If you gave him a car, but when I was home not long ago, there he was with a great big brand-new automobile. I says 'Grandpa, I thought you said you was satisfied to be a pedestrian the rest of your life—what changed your mind?' He says 'Well, I'll tell you, Robin, I was standing on the street corner not long ago and when I saw three automobiles chasin' one pedestrian, I decided right then and there I was on the wrong end of the sport!'"

RAPS WAGNER FOR MAHONEY RALLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) will address a rally for Jeremiah T. Mahoney, Democratic majority candidate tonight despite charges by the State Federation of Labor and the American Labor Party that the meeting was sponsored by anti-labor organizations.

The labor forces, branding the scheduled Mahoney rally as a "stooge" labor meeting, demanded that Senator Wagner, author of the National Labor Relations Act, cancel his speech. The rally was called by the Trades Union Party.

the "record of success" of the industrial form of unionism—the heart of the C. I. O. movement and cause of the schism—as opposed to the A. F. L. craft union policy.

Mr. Green repeatedly has contended that industrial unionism is not the cause of the present conflict. But the Denver convention rejected a resolution which, by relaxing the Federation's attitude toward increasing the number of "one big union" charters for mass production industries, would have been a step toward peace with the C. I. O.

The best informed opinion at the Denver convention was that Federation representatives might be willing to make some concessions on industrial union in peace talks with the C. I. O. but that any plan would have to protect the jurisdictions of craft unions. Any reunion on such a basis would involve hundreds of jurisdictional disputes which Mr. Lewis and his aids would be unwilling to leave to the final determination of the council on which they would be a minority.

Because he and his aids who favor industrial unionism were in the minority on the council and were consistently defeated in Federation conventions on the "one big union" plan for mass production industries, Mr. Lewis started the C. I. O. Some delegates who cheered his offer of peace with the Federation likewise applauded his pledge at Atlantic City that not one vital C. I. O. policy would be compromised in the forthcoming conversations.

Milestones in Customer Service

Even the present generation can remember when shopping in the 'good ole summertime' was a pretty hot, uncomfortable jaunt. Then science began to tell the world about 'air conditioning.' Entire buildings could be made cool and comfortable. Ayres, of course, installed air conditioning—the first in Indianapolis for a big store. Now most of our shopping floors, particularly those with a concentration of traffic, are cool and pleasant for shoppers on the hottest days. Just another milestone in making shopping at Ayres a pleasure.
